10 How must development relate to water management, native vegetation conservation and catchment management?

Consent must not be granted to any development unless the consent authority is of the opinion that the carrying out of the development is generally consistent with, or at least will not compromise, the principles and objectives of the Water Management Act 2000, the Native Vegetation Conservation Act 1997 and the Catchment Management Act 1989.

11 Is additional development allowed near zone and other boundaries?

- (1) This clause applies to land within 50 metres of a boundary of Zone No 2 (v).
- (2) Subject to subclause (3), development may, with development consent, be carried out on land to which this clause applies if the development may be carried out (with or without consent) in the adjoining zone on the other side of the boundary, whether that zone is created by this or any other local environmental plan.
- (3) Consent must not be granted to the carrying out of development referred to in subclause (2) unless, in the opinion of the consent authority, the carrying out of the development is desirable due to planning, design, ownership, servicing or similar factors relating to the optimum development of land to which this plan applies.
- (4) Consent may be granted for development of land within 100 metres of a boundary of environmentally sensitive land that does not comply with a requirement imposed only because that land is environmentally sensitive if, in the opinion of the consent authority, the proposed development would not prejudice the protection of the environment.

12 What covenants are suspended by this plan?

- (1) For the purpose of enabling development to be carried out in accordance with this plan (as in force at the time the development is carried out) or in accordance with a consent granted under the Act, any agreement, covenant or similar instrument which purports to impose restrictions on the carrying out of development for certain purposes on land to which this plan applies, to the extent necessary to serve that purpose, shall not apply to any such development.

- (b) is likely to result in unreasonable demands being placed on the Council and emergency services during times of flood.

flood-liable land means land identified as flood-liable land on a map adopted by resolution of the Council, as the map was in force when the relevant development application was lodged with the consent authority.

16 What restrictions apply to land subject to bushfire hazards?

 - (b) in respect of any proposed allotment which the consent authority is satisfied will be used primarily for the purpose of a dwelling-house, the consent authority is also satisfied as to the general locations on the land at which a dwelling-house can be erected, taking into account the environmental attributes of the land.
- (3) Consent must not be granted to the subdivision of land on which one or more additional dwelling-houses are erected, so as to create a separate allotment for an existing dwelling-house (or houses) except in accordance with the provisions of this plan relating to the creation of allotments for dwelling-houses.

24 What controls apply to subdivision for the purpose of agriculture in Zone No 1 (a)?

- (1) This clause applies to land within Zone No 1 (a).
- (2) Consent may be granted to the subdivision of land so as to create an allotment of any area if the consent authority is satisfied that the allotment is to be used for the purpose of agriculture only.

25 What controls apply to subdivision for the purpose of closer rural settlement in Zone No 1 (a)?

- (1) This clause applies to land within Zone No 1 (a).
- (2) The general objectives of this clause are:
 - (a) to provide for a wide variety of closer settlement forms in locations where:
 - (i) there is good all-weather road access on sealed roads to towns or villages within the area of Severn or adjacent local government areas and access is gained by means other than directly from an arterial road unless it is a regional road, and
 - (ii) suitable areas are available for the erection of a dwelling, such areas:
 - (A) not being within an area identified on the map as being environmentally sensitive, and
 - (B) providing good protection against bushfire risk, and
 - (C) having safe road access, taking into account the nature of the road and current and likely future levels of traffic, and
 - (D) leaving a buffer of at least 1 kilometre between a potential dwelling site and any potentially offensive or hazardous industry (including any extractive industry, mine or feedlot) together with an adequate buffer from the lot boundaries, given the range of adjacent present uses or permissible uses within the zone, and
 - (iii) the development would not substantially reduce the opportunities for broad-scale grazing and agriculture within the area of Severn, and

Clause 25 Severn Local Environmental Plan 2002

Part 3 Provisions relating primarily to subdivision

- (iv) the land is not subject to significant environmental hazards, such as flooding, bush fire hazard, land slip, subsidence, salinity, rising water table, soil erosion, scalding or any other environmental risk, so as to render it unsuitable for its intended purpose, and
- (v) closer settlement will not make demands on existing water resources that could have a significant adverse effect on the sustainability of those resources, or on the interests of other water users or of the environment to the extent to which they are reliant on those resources.

- (3) This subclause applies to land proposed to be developed for the purpose of a hobby farm.

The object of this subclause is to promote development of land identified as suitable for hobby farms.

Consent may be granted to the subdivision of land to which this clause applies and the erection of a dwelling-house on each allotment created, if each allotment:

- (a) has an area of 40 hectares or greater, and
- (b) has direct access to a sealed road identified on the map by means of a heavy black line, and
- (c) is suitable for use for genuine rural purposes such as grazing or agriculture, but not if any allotment is within an area identified, on a map prepared by or on behalf of the Director-General of the Department of Agriculture and deposited in the office of the Council, and copies of which are deposited in an office of the Department of Agriculture, as Class 1 or Class 2.

- (4) This subclause applies to land proposed to be used for rural residential development.

The object of this subclause is to promote development of land identified as suitable for:

- (a) rural residential development, in appropriate locations, having regard to accessibility and availability of services from nearby villages and the town of Glen Innes, and
- (b) providing a basic range of services and facilities associated with a village, and

Clause 25

Provisions relating primarily to subdivision

- (c) a range of industrial or commercial purposes which are compatible with the environmental capabilities of the land and which are unlikely to adversely affect other land or development in the vicinity.

Consent may be granted to the subdivision of land to which this clause applies and the erection of a dwelling-house on each allotment created if each allotment has an area greater than 1 hectare but less than 10 hectares and the Council is satisfied that the land is to be used primarily for residential purposes, or for residential purposes in conjunction with the object of this subclause.

Consent must not be granted to the subdivision of land as provided by this subclause unless the consent authority is satisfied that:

- (a) the land is contiguous with an existing village zone or with rural residential development for which consent has been granted in accordance with this clause, and
- (b) the land capability is adequate in relation to the density of the allotments proposed to be created and the range and mixture of allotment sizes is desirable, and
- (c) the design of each allotment to be created by the subdivision is satisfactory for the economic provision of services and the physical suitability for on-site disposal of wastes, and
- (d) the ratio of depth to frontage of each allotment created by the subdivision is satisfactory to the consent authority, having regard to the purpose for which the allotment is intended to be used.
- (5) This subclause applies to land proposed to be developed under community title.

The object of this subclause is to promote the development of land suitable for groups living under the Community Land Development Act 1989 in a manner consistent, but for the form of title, with development permissible under State Environmental Planning Policy No 15—Rural Landsharing Communities.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this plan, consent may be granted to development of land under community title if:

- (a) the development is consistent in all respects with development permissible under State Environmental Planning Policy No 15—Rural Landsharing Communities, with the exception

Clause 25	Severn Local Environmental Plan 2002
Part 3	Provisions relating primarily to subdivision

of those matters within that policy prohibiting the granting of separate title over portions of the land concerned, and

- (b) the uses proposed for the land are otherwise permissible within the zone and are consistent with the objectives of the zone, and
 - (c) the land has direct access to a sealed road identified on the map by means of a heavy black line.

- (7) This subclause applies to land proposed to be developed for rural landsharing communities under State Environmental Planning Policy No 15—Rural Landsharing Communities or the Community Land Management Act 1989.

The object of this subclause is to prevent the development of rural landsharing communities and community title developments in areas of inadequate road access to towns and villages.

Consent must not be granted to the development of land as provided by State Environmental Planning Policy No 15—Rural Landsharing Communities or the Community Land Management Act 1989 unless the land has direct access to a sealed road identified on the map by means of a heavy black line.

26 What controls apply to subdivision for other purposes in Zone No 1 (a)?

Consent may be granted to a subdivision of land within Zone No 1 (a) to create an allotment to be used primarily for purposes other than agriculture or a dwelling, if the consent authority is satisfied that:

- (a) the area of each allotment to be created by the subdivision is appropriate having regard to the purpose for which it is being created, and
- (b) the purpose for which the allotment is to be used involves the provision of facilities, including tourist facilities, for horticulture, or the supply of goods or services for which there is a demand in the locality, and
- (c) in the case of an allotment to be used for the provision of facilities or the supply of goods or services, the level of demand for the facilities, goods or services which are to be supplied from the allotment, and the extent to which that allotment is proposed to be used to meet that demand, justify the creation of the allotment notwithstanding its agricultural value, in particular, taking into account whether the land is prime crop and pasture land, and

- (d) where the purpose of the subdivision is for horticulture, that such use is substantially commenced, and is of sufficient scale to demonstrate commercial intent. (Commercial intent is considered to be demonstrated where the nature of the horticultural production satisfies the test for “primary producer” status under the Commonwealth Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.)

27 What controls apply to adjustments to the boundaries of existing rural properties (farm adjustments)?

- (1) The purpose of this clause is:
- (a) to facilitate subdivision for the adjustment of boundaries, (other than adjustments provided for as exempt or complying development) between allotments in the rural parts of the area of Severn for the purpose of facilitating agricultural production, and
- (b) to facilitate farm transfer by permitting the retention of a dwelling on a small residual lot.
- (2) Notwithstanding any other provision of this plan, consent may be granted to a subdivision of land within Zone No 1 (a) for the purpose of farm adjustment if the consent authority is satisfied that:
- (a) in the case of an allotment containing a dwelling, the dwelling has a minimum buffer of 300 metres to the boundary of adjoining allotments, and
- (b) no additional number of allotments or dwellings is created, and
- (c) allotments are consolidated under the minimum number of land titles required to give effect to the adjustment.
- (3) In considering applications made pursuant to this clause, the consent authority shall have regard to:
- (a) the degree to which the changes proposed are likely to enhance or maintain the agricultural viability of land affected by the proposal, and in the locality generally, and

Clause 27 Severn Local Environmental Plan 2002

Part 3 Provisions relating primarily to subdivision

- (b) the appropriateness of the shape and size of the residual allotment and, where such allotment contains an existing dwelling, access to the dwelling and the location of that dwelling with respect to the proposed lot boundaries.

28 What controls apply to subdivision of land in Zone No 2 (v)?

Consent must not be granted to a subdivision of land within Zone No 2 (v) to create an allotment that the consent authority is satisfied is to be used for the purpose of a dwelling-house unless:

- (a) the allotment has an area of 500 square metres or more and has access to a sewerage scheme, or
- (b) for allotments with on-site disposal of waste, each separate allotment of land to be created by the subdivision is not less than 1,000 square metres or such greater area as the consent authority may consider necessary for adequate on-site disposal of waste.

- will preserve or enhance the scenic quality of the land and the locality.
- (4) In this clause, vacant land means land on which no dwelling-house is erected.

30 Can an existing dwelling-house be replaced?

A dwelling-house may, with development consent, be erected on an allotment of land to which this plan applies on which another dwelling-house is erected if the new dwelling-house is intended to wholly replace the existing dwelling-house.
