WORKERS REHABILITATION AND COMPENSATION ACT 1986Workers Compensation Tribunal Rules 2009*

I, WILLIAM DAVID JENNINGS, President of the Workers Compensation Tribunal of South Australia, by virtue of the provisions of Section 88E of the Workers Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 1986 and all the enabling powers, do hereby amend Rule 30, Costs Of Proceedings by deletion of the scale of counsel fees from Rule 30 (7) (d) and deletion of sub-rule (7) (e), (8) and (9), to commence on and from 16 January 2012 as set out below.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Workers Compensation Tribunal of South Australia.

Dated 21 December 2011.

(L.S.) JUDGE W. D. JENNINGS, President,
Workers Compensation Tribunal

RULE THIRTY
Costs Of Proceedings

Sub-rule 30 (7) (a) operational: 23 February 2009

Sub-rules 30 (7) (d), (7) (e), (8) and (9) amended: 16 January 2012

- (1) Subject to the provisions of the Act, Regulations promulgated thereunder or these Rules, the costs of and incidental to any proceedings before the Tribunal shall be in the discretion of the Tribunal, both as to liability and quantum.
- (2) Where a Member of the Tribunal is required to determine the quantum of a party's costs, that member ('the presiding member'), may in his or her absolute discretion assign the task of taxing such costs to the Registrar who may in turn assign part or all of that task to a Deputy Registrar.
- (3) The Registrar or the Deputy Registrar may of his or her own motion submit any question arising out of the course of a taxation to the presiding member for such directions as the presiding member may see fit to give and the parties may be heard before the presiding member thereon. Such submission shall be in the form of an informal memorandum, a copy of which shall be supplied to each party to the taxation setting forth the questions in issue and any relevant circumstances relating thereto. The presiding member shall endorse the directions that he or she sees fit to make and remit the matter to the Registrar or the Deputy Registrar who shall act in accordance with such directions.
- (4) In conducting a taxation of costs, the Tribunal shall act according to the practice and procedure for the time being of the Supreme Court with such modifications as may be necessary in the circumstances.
- (5) Where such taxation is undertaken by the Registrar or a Deputy Registrar, upon the completion of the taxation, the Registrar or the Deputy Registrar shall prepare and sign a certificate of recommendation as to the result thereof and submit the certificate to the presiding member who may adopt the recommendation with such modifications that he or she thinks appropriate and shall provide a copy of the certificate to all interested parties.
- (6) If a party is dissatisfied with the recommendation of the Registrar or a Deputy Registrar that party may, within seven days from the date of receiving the recommendation, make application to the presiding member to be heard upon whether the presiding member should adopt the certificate of recommendation. In any case where the presiding member proposes to vary or modify the certificate of recommendation the presiding member shall grant the parties an opportunity to be heard before making such variation or modification.

- (7) In determining the quantum of a party's costs the presiding member or Registrar or Deputy Registrar as the case may be shall adopt the following principles:
- (a) The parties shall be expected to have, so far as it is reasonable, taken all steps that are necessary to bring all issues in dispute between them before the presiding member so as to avoid multiplicity of proceedings, and failure to do so may impact upon the amount of costs to be awarded.
  - (b) In no case shall the award of costs exceed 85% of the amount that would be allowed under the relevant Supreme Court scale if the proceedings were in the Supreme Court (s95(5) of the Act).
  - (c) The party shall be entitled to all proper costs of and incidental to work carried out after the referral of the matter for judicial determination as a prudent but not over cautious litigant properly advised, having regard to the potential quantum of the worker's entitlements and the complexity of the issues between the parties, would reasonably have incurred, in the initial investigation of the relevant circumstances giving rise to the proceedings and in the preparation and the prosecution of the proceedings. Such costs may include: the ascertaining of relevant factual circumstances; the obtaining and tendering of an advice on evidence and regard thereto; the obtaining and preparation of witness statements; the obtaining and consideration of medical and other expert reports; the obtaining of counsel's opinion regarding an appropriate range of compromise; and the conduct and the conclusion of all necessary negotiations leading to the settlement of the claim.
  - (d) A party entitled to an award of costs in respect of a trial at judicial determination may be awarded up to 85% of the Supreme Court scale for all reasonably necessary preparatory work. Consistent with the expectation that the parties shall have: obtained advice on evidence; properly proofed all witnesses so as to be able to make an informed decision as to which witnesses are required to give oral testimony (if the witness is not otherwise required for cross-examination); carefully reflected upon the witness statements and expert reports of the other parties so as to be able to make an informed decision as to which witnesses are required for cross-examination; identified all potential issues and factual matters capable of agreement and have taken steps to secure agreement in respect thereof; shall be in a position to make submissions as to costs upon receipt of judgment; and generally have taken all reasonable measures to ensure that the trial proceeds expeditiously and only occupies sitting time in court to the extent that it is absolutely necessary.*

* For example: converting video evidence into a short passage of edited highlights for showing in court (subject of course to all video tapes being made available to the other parties to the dispute after cross-examination of the relevant witness has been completed); obtaining and providing to the other parties copies of notes that a witness may seek to rely upon in giving evidence; scheduling witnesses so as to ensure that sufficient time is allowed for the receipt of their evidence; agreeing where possible to interpose witnesses and if interposition is not possible to indicate that to the other parties at the earliest possible time; arranging witnesses so as to ensure that the available time is best utilised.
