ABORIGINAL HERITAGE ACT 1988

Aboriginal Heritage Guidelines

GUIDELINE 1—RECOGNISED ABORIGINAL REPRESENTATIVE BODIES

Introduction

THE Aboriginal Heritage Act 1988 (Heritage Act) protects heritage in South Australia, including from the impacts of excavation, damage, disturbance or interference. It was recently changed to recognise Aboriginal people as primary decision makers about their own heritage. Aboriginal heritage includes Aboriginal ancestral remains, sites and objects (heritage).

Before, if a land use proponent (eg a miner, researcher or government department) wanted to do something that might impact heritage, the Heritage Act required the Minister for Aboriginal Affairs and Reconciliation (Minister) to run a formal consultation process to consider the idea with Traditional Owners and others.

Now, the Heritage Act encourages proponents to first talk about their plans directly with Traditional Owners. It does this by creating Recognised Aboriginal Representative Bodies (RARBs). RARBs are Aboriginal bodies empowered to speak for Traditional Owners and to make decisions and agreements about their heritage. RARBs can either speak for the Traditional Owners of the heritage within a broad specified area or can just speak for specific sites, objects or remains.

Forming a RARB is voluntary - Traditional Owners have no obligation to do so. Where a RARB is formed, it has no obligation to negotiate with proponents if it does not want to. Where a RARB decides to consider a proponent's request, all parties must negotiate in good faith. This essentially means communicating with honesty and sincerity and working genuinely towards mutually acceptable outcomes, whether an agreement is eventually reached or not.

Where there is no RARB or a RARB does not wish to discuss a proposal, a proponent may still apply directly to the Minister to get permission to impact heritage. The Minister will then conduct a consultation with the Traditional Owners as was the case before the introduction of RARBs.

Role of RARBs

The main role of a RARB is to consult with and represent the views of the Traditional Owners of heritage that is under threat of impact. A RARB must know and make known the views of all relevant Traditional Owners, not just those that are part of the RARB or that live close by to the heritage.

RARBs can make formal agreements, called local heritage agreements, allowing proponents to impact the heritage the RARB represents. A proponent can take the actions agreed in an approved local heritage agreement without being prosecuted for them under the Heritage Act. Importantly, acts or omissions taken by proponents outside or beyond the terms of an approved local heritage agreement and which adversely impact heritage remain liable to prosecution.

To make a local heritage agreement, RARBs must first advise and consult with all relevant Traditional Owners. If the majority agree to the proposed actions, the RARB and the proponent may put their agreement in writing and give it to the Minister for review. If the Minister thinks the agreement properly deals with heritage – which will include showing Traditional Owner support after proper consultation with the right people – the Minister can approve it.

In addition to consulting with Traditional Owners and making agreements, RARBs must advise the Minister if asked, and do any other tasks given to them under the Heritage Act or other legislation over time.

Who can be a RARB?

A RARB can be any person or group that knows and represent the views of South Australian Traditional Owners. Certain groups are pre-qualified, meaning they are either automatically RARBs or presumed to be one subject to final approval from the State Aboriginal Heritage Committee (Committee).

Anangu Pitjantjara Yankunytjatjara and Maralinga Tjarutja

Uniquely in South Australia, the Anangu Pitjantjara Yankunytjatjara (APY) and the Maralinga Tjarutja (MT) are Traditional Owner bodies set up under legislation other than the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth). Under the Heritage Act, the APY and MT are automatically appointed as RARBs for their own lands.

Being such large areas, the APY and MT Lands hold heritage from communities that do not always live there. Where a proposal might affect heritage on the APY and MT Lands, the APY and MT RARBs must be sure to consult with and represent the views of all relevant Traditional Owners, not only those on their RARBs or those that live on the APY or MT Lands.

Registered Native Title Body Corporates

A Registered Native Title Body Corporate (RNTBC¹) is taken to be the RARB for its determined native title lands. This includes areas within those lands where native title has been suppressed or extinguished. RNTBCs must first still be approved by the Committee before they are appointed as RARBs.

Native Title Claimants

The Committee may appoint any person or body claiming native title as a RARB for the area they are claiming. The Committee may appoint one, some or all the people making the native title claim as the RARB, depending on the circumstances.

ILUA Parties

The Committee may appoint any Aboriginal person or party to an Indigenous Land Use Agreement (ILUA²) as RARB for the area to which the ILUA applies. The Committee may appoint one, some or all the Aboriginal ILUA parties as the RARB, depending on the circumstances.

Other Parties

If the above categories of people or groups do not have priority to become the RARB for specific heritage, the Committee may appoint any body corporate applicant capable of knowing and representing the views of Traditional Owners about that heritage as its RARB.

Applying to become a RARB

For people or groups other than the APY or MT, you must apply to the Committee to become a RARB. Application forms are available from the DSD-AAR website.

There is one form for those with determined native title and another form for all other applicants, that is, native title claimants, ILUA parties and others. These forms set out the minimum information the Committee is likely to need to properly make its decision.

Multiple Applications

If there are multiple applications to be the RARB for the same heritage or area, the Committee must give preference to the applicant with the strongest affiliations with and responsibility for that heritage.

The Committee will consider all the evidence that is has available to it, noting that it is applicants' responsibility to provide this information.

The Committee can try to resolve responsibility for any disputed heritage by using a mediation process run by an independent third party.

Joint Applications

For people or groups other than the APY or the MT, it is possible to apply together with other people or groups to become a joint RARB. This will generally mean forming a new body made up of members of all groups.

Joint RARBs may be useful for heritage such as songlines, where several groups across a large area have responsibility for related heritage.

Similarly, if there is a dispute as to who is best to speak for certain heritage, forming a RARB combining all applicants can allow for all relevant Traditional Owners to be consulted about, and to speak for the heritage.

People or groups can be members of more than one RARB. For example, a RNTBC may be the RARB for its native title lands except for certain heritage on it. It may then form a separate RARB with other people or groups to look after the heritage not covered by its primary RARB.

If you are considering applying for a joint RARB, the Committee recommends speaking with DSD-AAR before making an application.

Approval of Appointments

When considering a RARB application, the Committee is primarily looking to confirm that the applicant knows, and can tell others about, the knowledge and views of Traditional Owners of specific heritage. The Committee wants to see that potential RARBs will work in a fair and open way, in accordance with the Heritage Act and for the benefit of all Traditional Owners, and not just those sitting on the RARB or those living close by to the heritage.

Depending upon its location and responsibilities, each RARB may go about its role slightly differently. This is appropriate and to be expected. Even so, the Committee will generally look for answers to following types of questions to be convinced that a RARB will perform its role properly:

- How will the RARB let Traditional Owners know that it has received a proposal that might affect their heritage?
- How will the RARB give those Traditional Owners an opportunity to understand and comment on proposals? What timeframes are proposed? What assistance will be available to them to help them comment? How will the RARB advise Traditional Owners of any decisions it makes?
- How and when will the RARB conduct surveys of heritage? How will people be selected to participate? An open process giving all relevant Traditional Owners an opportunity to take part in surveys will generally be preferable.
- What protocols will apply when a proponent discovers heritage?

RARBs have significant responsibilities. It is therefore expected that applicants make comprehensive, well-considered applications, endorsed by Traditional Owners wherever possible.

Ideally applications will include written policies and procedures setting out how the RARB proposes to operate. Applicants should be willing to create, review and amend such documents where requested by the Committee.

Revocation and suspension of a RARB

Being a RARB is voluntary. If a RARB decides it no longer wants to perform the role, it may write to the Committee and ask that its appointment be revoked.

The Committee can also revoke or suspend a RARB (other than APY, MT or a RNTBC) on its motion if the RARB fails to carry out its role in accordance with the Heritage Act. Generally, this will be because the RARB fails to properly consult with, or represent the knowledge and views of Traditional Owners.

After consulting with the Committee, the Minister can also revoke any RARB appointment (other than APY or MT) for any reason he or she thinks fit.

If the Minister or Committee is considering revocation, the RARB will be given notice, the reasons why and an opportunity to comment before a final decision is made. After revocation of a RARB, the Minister may later reappoint the revoked person or group, appoint other people or groups or direct the Committee as to how it should make future appointments for the relevant heritage.

Revocation of a RARB by either the Minister or the Committee does not affect any right, interest, duty, obligation or liability imposed, created or incurred by the RARB prior to its revocation.

RARB Register

The names of RARBs, their Public Officer's contact details and a description of the heritage they look after are all recorded on a RARB Register. The RARB Register is generally open to the public so that people can find out who speaks for what heritage around the state. The Committee may still impose conditions on the inspection of a particular entry if it thinks that is appropriate or required.

The RARB Register is not a complete list of Aboriginal heritage in South Australia and does not include any secret or confidential information.

GUIDELINE 2—DIVISION A2 AGREEMENTS

Introduction

The Aboriginal Heritage Act 1988 (Heritage Act) protects heritage in South Australia, including from the impacts of excavation, damage, disturbance or interference. Aboriginal heritage includes Aboriginal ancestral remains, sites and objects (heritage).

The Heritage Act was recently changed to recognise Aboriginal people as primary decision makers about their own heritage. This includes the Act now giving status to agreements Aboriginal people make about their heritage.

Aboriginal people make agreements about their heritage all the time. This includes agreements made under legislation. These agreements can allow for heritage to be excavated, damaged, destroyed or interfered with.

Before, even with such an agreement, the Heritage Act required the Minister for Aboriginal Affairs and Reconciliation (Minister) to run a formal consultation process to consider the idea with Traditional Owners and others.

Now, the Heritage Act allows the Minister to approve some agreements made under Acts other than the Heritage Act, streamlining the process for authorising impacts to heritage where the relevant Traditional Owners have already agreed to it.

What is a Division A2 Agreement?

A Division A2 agreement is an agreement with provisions about heritage impacts made by an Aboriginal group (usually the Registered Native Title Body Corporate) under an Act other than the Heritage Act, which has been approved by the Minister. It is called a Division A2 Agreement simply because the new powers to recognise such agreements sit in Division A2 of the Heritage Act.

Division A2 of the Heritage Act allows recognition of the following types of agreements:

- Native Title Act 1993 (Cth) agreements – this includes Indigenous Land Use Agreements (ILUAs) and other Native Title Act agreements¹
- Mining Act 1971 (SA) native title mining agreements
- Opal Mining Act 1995 (SA) native title mining agreements
- Land Acquisition Act 1969 (SA) native title rights agreements.

Further agreements and legislation may be recognised under Division A2 over time.

DSD-AAR can help you to work out whether an agreement you have signed is approvable under Division A2 of the Heritage Act.

Approval of Division A2 Agreements

To be given status under the Heritage Act, Division A2 agreements must first be approved by the Minister. The Minister may only approve an agreement if satisfied that it satisfactorily deals with both known and unknown heritage in the area to which the agreement relates.

You may submit an agreement for consideration under Division A2 by providing a copy of it with the approval request form found on the DSD-AAR website. The Minister may also approve agreements by his or her own motion. Approvals may be conditional.

Before approving a Division A2 agreement, the Minister must consult with the State Aboriginal Heritage Committee (Committee), and may consult with others to become satisfied that the agreement adequately deals with heritage.

Once approved, the Minister may vary, revoke or suspend an approval of a Division A2 agreement for any reason he or she deems fit. Before doing so, the Minister must consult with the Committee and may consult with others as well.

If the Minister is considering revoking approval of your Division A2 agreement, he or she will advise you of this, give you a chance to respond and will consider your submissions before making a final decision.

What is the effect of a Division A2 agreement?

Section 21 of the Heritage Act restricts excavations of heritage while section 23 restricts damage, disturbance or interference of heritage. Breaching those provisions can result in fines up to $50,000 and six months' imprisonment.

If a land use proponent (eg a miner, researcher or a government department) has an approved Division A2 agreement that allows for the excavation, damage, disturbance or interference with heritage, sections 21 and 23 do not apply to the agreed actions.

Unlike the procedures usually required by those sections, if there is an approved Division A2 agreement, proponents do not have to apply to the Minister for an authorisation, the Minister does not have to undertake a consultation process and the proponent will not be prosecuted for actions taken in accordance with the approved agreement.

Importantly, exemptions from sections 21 and 23 only apply to acts or omissions done in accordance with an approved Division A2 agreement. A party to a Division A2 agreement that makes an act or omission outside of the terms of that agreement remains fully liable to prosecution under sections 21 and 23 of the Heritage Act.

Register of Agreements

The Minister keeps a register of Division A2 agreements. This register also contains copies of local heritage agreements made directly under the Heritage Act. This is known as the Register of Agreements.

This Register of Agreements is not available to the public. Agreements on it may only ever be inspected with the agreement of all parties to it and in accordance with any additional requirements of the Committee.

GUIDELINE 3—LOCAL HERITAGE AGREEMENTS

Introduction

The Aboriginal Heritage Act 1988 (Heritage Act) protects Aboriginal heritage in South Australia, including from the impacts of excavation, damage, disturbance or interference. It was recently changed to recognise Aboriginal people as primary decision makers about their own heritage. This includes the creation of Recognised Aboriginal Representative Bodies (RARBs), bodies empowered to represent Traditional Owners and to make decisions and agreements about their heritage. RARBs can either speak for Traditional Owners of heritage within a broad specified area, or specific sites, objects or remains (collectively, heritage).

Before, if a land use proponent (eg a miner, researcher or a government department) wanted to do something that might impact heritage, the Minister for Aboriginal Affairs and Reconciliation (Minister) ran a formal consultation process to consider the idea with Traditional Owners and others prior to deciding whether to grant an authorisation.

Now, RARBs can make agreements about heritage directly with land use proponents. When such agreements are made in accordance with the Heritage Act, they are known as 'local heritage agreements'.

What is a local heritage agreement?

A local heritage agreement is a contract about heritage made between a RARB and a land use proponent in accordance with the Heritage Act.

Who can make a local heritage agreement?

Only a RARB can make a local heritage agreement. It can make one with any person or body proposing to take an action that may impact heritage in South Australia, but only after consulting with and getting the views of Traditional Owners of that heritage.

Alternatives to local heritage agreements

If heritage is not represented by a RARB, certain agreements with Traditional Owners (mostly native title agreements) setting out how the heritage may be impacted can also be approved under the Heritage Act. This is called a Division A2 agreement – see Guideline 2 for more information.

If there is no RARB and no approvable Division A2 agreement, a proponent may instead apply directly to the Minister to impact heritage. In this instance, the Minister will consult with Traditional Owners (amongst others) before deciding the application.

Why make a local heritage agreement?

Local heritage agreements act to ensure that heritage is managed in culturally appropriate ways agreed to by Traditional Owners. They allow proponents to negotiate the treatment of heritage directly with Traditional Owners, rather than asking the Minister to run a consultation process with the same people.

Where accompanied by an authorisation from the Minister under section 23 of the Heritage Act, local heritage agreements protect proponents from prosecution under the Heritage Act for impacting heritage to the extent authorised.

Negotiating a local heritage agreement

Making local heritage agreements is entirely optional. A RARB may refuse to negotiate or enter a local heritage agreement for any reason it thinks fit.

If a RARB does decide to start discussions about a local heritage agreement, all parties to those discussions must negotiate in good faith. Essentially this means communicating with honesty and sincerity and working genuinely towards mutually acceptable outcomes, whether an agreement is eventually reached or not.

At a minimum, local heritage agreements must include provisions showing the parties' agreement about the following matters:

- the area to which the agreement relates
- the relevant heritage
- the proposed activities
- proposed procedures in the event of the discovery, excavation, damage, disturbance or interference of heritage, whether known or unknown
- that questions of the significance of sites or objects to Aboriginal tradition, archaeology, anthropology or history will be solely decided by the RARB
- limits to costs or charges payable under the agreement
- dispute resolution processes
- a description of the process by which the agreement was negotiated.

The Heritage Act requires the Minister to protect and preserve heritage, and RARBs to know and represent the views of Traditional Owners. To ensure these obligations are met, the description of the process by which a local heritage agreement was negotiated is particularly important. Without limiting what such a description might include, the following matters should be addressed:

- which Traditional Owners were spoken to
- how they were made aware of the proposal
- the level of support the proposal received
- the availability of independent advice for Traditional Owners
- negotiation timeframes
- opportunities for Traditional Owners to comment upon, review and approve the agreement during its development and finalisation.

A separate schedule to a local heritage agreement is a convenient way for parties to describe the nature and extent of consultation that led to it. The more detailed information that is given, the more it will assist the Minister to make his or her decision.

Approval of a local heritage agreement by the Minister

An agreement made with a RARB covering the above matters may be submitted to the Minister for approval. An application form is available on the DSD-AAR website, and this must be submitted with the agreement. The proposed agreement must be in a form approved by the Minister from time to time. This form is also available from the website.

When deciding whether to approve local heritage agreements, the Minister may consider several matters, including:

- whether the proposed agreement has been submitted in a form and manner approved by the Minister
- the contents of the proposed agreement
- this Guideline
- the Regulations
- whether the proposed agreement satisfactorily deals with relevant heritage, both known and unknown
- whether the views of Traditional Owners affected by the proposed agreement were obtained, and if so, what those views were
- whether Traditional Owners potentially affected by the proposed agreement were otherwise adequately consulted
- whether provisions limiting costs or charges paid or payable under the proposed agreement are in the Minister's view reasonable in the circumstances
- any information kept in the Central Archive or any local archives
- any advice sought from the State Aboriginal Heritage Committee
- any other matters the Minister considers relevant.

The Minister may ask the parties for more information to help make the decision. In this case, the Minister does not have to decide until he or she has all the information thought reasonably necessary in the circumstances.

It is open to the Minister to return a local heritage agreement to the parties to further negotiation until they agree a document the Minister can approve. For example, the Minister may think the proposed agreement is not in an approved form, does not satisfactorily deal with heritage or does not otherwise satisfy the Heritage Act.

Where an approved local heritage agreement is given to the Minister with a request for formal authorisation under the Heritage Act to impact heritage, the Minister must grant an authorisation for impacts as described in the agreement.

s21 and s23 Authorisations

An approved local heritage agreement by itself does not allow proponents to impact heritage as described in the agreement. This requires additional authorisation from the Minister. An application form is available on the DSD-AAR website.

Although this is an additional step, if an approved local heritage agreement is submitted with a request for authorisation, the Minister must grant authorisation for the activities described in the agreement.

A proponent may, but does not have to, submit a local heritage agreement for approval at the same time as a request for an authorisation to impact heritage.

The Minister may impose conditions on an authorisation that are not inconsistent with the approved agreement.

If an authorisation is revoked, so too is the approval of any related local heritage agreement.

Varying and revoking local heritage agreements

A local heritage agreement may be varied or revoked with the written agreement of all the parties to it and with the written approval of the Minister.

Enforcing local heritage agreements

If a party fails to comply with a local heritage agreement, or it appears that they might, any other party to the agreement may apply to the District Court for a remedy.

Acts or omissions made outside of the terms of an approved local heritage agreement or an authorisation remain liable to prosecution under the Heritage Act.

Penalties include up to six months' jail and a $50,000 fine.

GUIDELINE 4—ABORIGINAL HERITAGE REGISTERS

Introduction

The Aboriginal Heritage Act 1988 (Heritage Act) requires the maintenance of three registers:

- the Register of Recognised Aboriginal Representative Bodies (RARBs)
- the Register of Agreements
- the Register of Aboriginal Sites and Objects, part of the Central Archive.

The Minister for Aboriginal Affairs and Reconciliation collects, manages, uses and discloses Aboriginal cultural heritage information in accordance with legislative requirements and prevailing community expectations of best practice. The State Government is keenly aware that maintaining the privacy of any confidential information is a vital part of maintaining a positive relationship with Aboriginal communities and other stakeholders. The Government strictly complies with its responsibilities in this regard.

The Register of RARBs

The Register of RARBs is a public register listing all the people and groups approved as RARBs in South Australia. It is a first point of contact for land use proponents (eg miners, developers, government departments) and others looking to find out if a RARB has been appointed to speak for heritage in a particular part of the state. The Aboriginal Heritage Regulations 2017 (Regulations) require the Register of RARBs to include:

- the name and address of the RARB
- the name and contact details of a public officer, director or secretary who will act as the RARB's contact person
- the RARB's principal place of business and contact details
- subject to considerations of confidentiality, a description of the heritage for which the RARB was appointed
- where the RARB is a Native Title claimant or Aboriginal Indigenous Land Use Agreement (ILUA) party, but subject to considerations of confidentiality, a copy of certificate of registration of the Native Title claim or the ILUA.

The Committee may impose conditions on the inspection of any entry on the Register of RARBs for any reason it thinks fit. This may include restrictions on publishing confidential provisions in ILUAs or Native Title claims.

Information on the Register of RARBs is normally collected from applicants during the application process. RARBs must notify the Committee of any changes to this information within 45 days of the change.

The Register of RARBs is accessible online. You may also ring DSD-AAR for information on the register.

Register of Agreements

The Heritage Act empowers RARBs to make local heritage agreements directly with land use proponents. The Act also recognises certain agreements made outside of the Heritage Act, such as agreements made under the Native Title Act 1988 (Cth). The Heritage Act calls these Division A2 agreements.

Both local heritage agreements and Division A2 agreements must be approved by the Minister before they are recognised under the Heritage Act. The Minister must keep a register of all approved agreements – the Register of Agreements. The Regulations require the Register of Agreements to contain the following information:

- For local heritage agreements:
 - the name, address and contact details of the parties
 - a copy of any application to damage, disturb, interfere with or excavate heritage under the Heritage Act related to the agreement
 - the date and details of any subsequent variations to the agreement
 - information identifying any report or survey referred to in the agreement.
- For Division A2 Agreements:
 - the name, address and contact details of the parties
 - the date and details of any subsequent variations to the agreement.
- In both cases:
 - a copy of the agreement
 - the name, address and contact details of any relevant RARB.

The Register of Agreements is closed to the public. The Regulations specify that an agreement on the Register for Agreements may only be inspected with the consent of each of party to it, and in accordance with any requirements of the Committee.

Register of Aboriginal Sites and Objects

The Register of Aboriginal Sites and Objects is part of the Central Archive established in accordance with the Heritage Act. It contains information about Aboriginal heritage in the state. Information about Aboriginal heritage can be extremely sensitive, and there are legislative and cultural restrictions related to whether and how this information is shared.

Cultural restrictions may be related to gender, age or cultural status. For example, there are sites restricted to either men or women. Some sites may be visited by both men and women, but the traditional knowledge associated with the site may be different for each.

Other sites may be restricted to those who have attained a specific status, or restricted to only those from a specific Aboriginal group or groups. Information about the location of sites and why they are significant may be confidential according to Aboriginal tradition.

Divulging confidential information from the Register of Sites and Objects other than in accordance with the Heritage Act or Aboriginal tradition carries penalties of up $10,000 or 6 months' jail.

The Register of Aboriginal Sites and Objects is not an exhaustive record of all Aboriginal heritage sites in South Australia. RARBs, local heritage committees and other Aboriginal organisations may all maintain independent local archives. It is recommended that anyone wanting information about heritage in a specific area speak with the relevant RARB (if appointed) in the first instance.

DSD-AAR manages all requests for information from the Register of Aboriginal Sites and Objects. Applications for access to information on the register must be made in writing.

For more information about the release of information from the Register of Aboriginal Sites and Objects, please see DSD-AAR Aboriginal Heritage Fact Sheet, 'Access to information in the Central Archive'.

GUIDELINE 5—NEGOTIATING IN GOOD FAITH

Introduction

The Aboriginal Heritage Act 1988 (Heritage Act) protects heritage in South Australia, including from the impacts of excavation, damage, disturbance or interference. Aboriginal heritage includes Aboriginal ancestral remains, areas, sites and objects (heritage).

The Heritage Act now recognises Aboriginal people as primary decision makers about their own heritage. This includes the creation of Recognised Aboriginal Representative Bodies (RARBs) empowered to represent and make agreements about heritage.

RARBs can enter agreements with land use proponents (eg a miner, researcher or government department) called local heritage agreements – see Guideline 3 for more information.

There is no obligation on RARBs to negotiate local heritage agreements. Where a RARB decides that it will consider entering a local heritage agreement, the Heritage Act requires that all parties discussing or negotiating a local heritage agreement do so “in good faith”.

What does “good faith” mean?

There is no one legal definition of good faith and the Heritage Act does not provide one. However, the concept has been examined extensively by the courts, and a set of indicators of expected behaviour in good faith negotiations has been developed.

What constitutes good faith in negotiations will always depend on the facts of each case. The unique context of Aboriginal culture and heritage will also be relevant. Therefore, any criteria set out in this Guideline are not rigid requirements whose absence or breach will necessarily indicate that a party is not negotiating in good faith.

Definitions of “negotiate” and “good faith”

Negotiation involves communicating, consulting, having discussions or conferring with a view to reaching an agreement. Dictionary definitions of the word ‘negotiate’ include discussions or communications towards a compromise or an agreement.

Good faith is defined as honesty of intention and sincerity in stating a position. However, besides having honest and sincere intentions, it is necessary to consider whether what is done by the parties is reasonable in the circumstances. Some preparedness to shift position or make concessions to achieve agreement appears to be an important part of good faith negotiations in its ordinary meaning.

Negotiation in good faith does not mean that a party has an obligation to capitulate or to accept the other side’s position. Nor does it mean that a negotiated agreement must be reached between the parties. It just means that all parties are working genuinely towards agreement.

What is negotiating in good faith?

This Guideline does not constitute legal advice, but the following criteria¹ may indicate that a party is attempting to negotiate in good faith. This list is not definitive or exhaustive, and the weight given to any item must depend upon the circumstances of the matter:

- initiating communications in a timely manner
- making clear proposals in the first place
- communicating within a reasonable time
- genuine attempts to contact one or more of the other parties
- following up any lack of response from the other parties
- responding to reasonable requests for relevant information within a reasonable time
- sending negotiators with authority to make decisions.

Indicators a party may be failing to negotiate in good faith may include:

- stalling negotiations by unexplained delays in responding to correspondence or telephone calls
- unnecessary postponement of meetings
- sending negotiators without authority to do more than argue or listen
- refusing to agree on trivial matters, for example, a refusal to incorporate statutory provisions into an agreement
- shifting position just as agreement seems in sight
- adopting a rigid non-negotiable position
- failure to make counter proposals
- unilateral conduct which harms the negotiating process (for example, issuing inappropriate press releases)
- refusal to sign a written agreement in respect of the negotiation process or otherwise
- failure to do what a reasonable person would do in the circumstances.

Negotiating in good faith essentially means communicating with honesty and sincerity and working genuinely towards mutually acceptable outcomes, whether an agreement is eventually reached or not.

DEVELOPMENT ACT 1993

SECTION 48(8)

Decision by the Minister for Planning under delegation from the GovernorPreamble

1. On 5 June 2003, a major development declaration was made for the subdivision and development of land at Buckland Park near Virginia north of Adelaide ('the declaration'). The Minister for Urban Development and Planning ('the Minister') gave notice in the Government Gazette that he was of the opinion that it was appropriate for the proper assessment of the development of major environmental, social or economic importance that Section 46 of the Development Act 1993 ('the Act') applied to any development of a kind listed in Schedule 1 of that notice in parts of the State listed in Schedule 2 of that notice.
2. The declaration was varied by notice in the Government Gazette on 4 January 2007 to, amongst other things, expand the major development declaration.
3. A proposal from Walker Corporation Pty Ltd ('the proponent') to develop a substantial staged residential and commercial development at Buckland Park was the subject of a development application lodged in May 2007 ('the major development').
4. The declaration was varied again by notice in the Government Gazette on 12 June 2008 to include additional land parcels within the major development declaration.
5. The major development was the subject of an Environmental Impact Statement ('EIS'), which was completed and put on public display on 19 September 2007, and an Assessment Report was produced, and was assessed in accordance with Section 46 and Section 46B of the Act. By notice in the Government Gazette on 4 February 2010, the Governor:
 - (a) granted provisional development authorisation subject to conditions (in Part B of the notice), with specified reserved matters (in Part A of the notice), for the following components:
 - (i) land division, creating 8 superlots which include the 5 residential land division stages, employment lands, recreation/water management and transport infrastructure areas shown in plans 19000p01-r3, r5 and r6, 5 November 2009 (Fyfe Engineers Surveyors);
 - (ii) Precinct 1 land division (Superlot 1 under the land division application) which comprised 614 residential allotments, a school site, display centre and shopping /community centre over 62.23 hectares;
 - (iii) proposed partial closure of Legoe Road under Part 7A (Section 34C (2) (a) (ii)) of the Roads (Opening and Closing) Act 1991 (to take effect on a day to be fixed by subsequent order of the Governor or Minister published in the Gazette);
 - (iv) construction of a Neighbourhood Centre as set out in the detailed drawings; and
 - (v) construction of a display village as detailed by the proponent (The display village is now to be under the authority of the council for decision making).
 - (b) specified the period up until 1 February 2012 (subsequently amended) as the time within which substantial work must be commenced on site, failing which the Governor may cancel the authorisation.

Future Precincts (Beyond 1 and 2) of the major development (3-5) will be determined when detailed land division applications are lodged. The object of this decision notice is a decision on:

- i) new Superlot plan
 - ii) Precinct 2 Land Division
 - iii) Precinct 2C Land division
 - iv) Road Closure of part of Buckland Park Road (on 18 December 2017).
6. The proponent requested in the past (and was granted) modifications to the provisional development authorisation to allow more practicality in implementing the proposal and satisfying the reserved matters and conditions of the authorisation. In summary, the matters related to:
 - (a) the requirement for a scheme description;
 - (b) affordable housing requirements
 - (c) the requirement for a construction environment management and monitoring plan (CEMMP);
 - (d) signage associated with the proposed neighbourhood centre; and
 - (e) various elements of the Schedule of Commitments.
7. In response to the request, by notice in the Government Gazette on 21 October 2010, the Minister (under delegation) varied the provisional development authorisation by:
 - (a) removing specified reserved matters entirely from the authorisation;
 - (b) revoking and varying specified conditions;
 - (c) attaching new conditions;
 - (d) reserving remaining specific matters for further assessment;
 - (e) specifying that the reserved matters must be completed by 31 October 2011 (which was achieved); and
 - (f) specifying the period up until 31 October 2013 (subsequently extended) as the time within which substantial work must be commenced on site, failing which the Governor may cancel the authorisation.
8. On 23 December 2010 a Development Plan Amendment ('DPA') was authorised by the Minister which provides policy guidance for the residential, commercial and other uses of Buckland Park as expressed in the provisional development authorisation for the major development.
9. The proponent requested further modifications to satisfy the reserved matters related to employment of a Community Worker (d)(4) (letter dated 8 November 2010), provision of power through an electricity provider (d)(9) (letter dated 8 November 2010), negotiation with DECS/Virginia Primary School on the need for demountable class rooms (d)(11) (letter dated 10 November 2010) and liaison with the City of Playford in relation to provisions of library services (d)(6) (letter dated 2 December 2010). By notice in the Government Gazette on 10 March 2011, the Presiding Member of the Development Assessment Commission (DAC) (under delegation) varied the provisional development authorisation by:
 - (a) moving reserved matters (d)(4) and (d)(9) to conditions; and
 - (b) removing reserved matters (d)(6) and (d)(11) entirely from the provisional development authorisation as they were assessed as having been satisfied.
10. The proponent requested further modifications on 28 February 2011 (as altered by a letter dated 11 July 2011) for an amended land division plan for Stage 1 (including a further 5 sub stages). The number of allotments was reduced from 614 to 609 (for the entire Precinct 1), with an increase in open space of 7.4 hectares. The road hierarchy and lot layout was also amended following discussions with the City of Playford and other agencies. A request to increase the number of display homes from 32 to 45 was also dated 11 March 2011 (approval for display homes was subsequently removed and is now under the authority of the council). By notice in the Government Gazette on 15 September 2011, the Presiding Member of the Development Assessment Commission (under delegation) varied the provisional development authorisation by:
 - (a) moving the following from reserved matters to conditions:
 - i) draft Residential Guidelines and Encumbrance [reserved matter (a) from Schedule 1] (letter dated 11 April 2011);
 - ii) provision of an Affordable Housing Plan, in relation to the land division for Stage 1 [reserved matter (b) from Schedule 1] (letter dated 15 April 2011);
 - iii) Community Bus timetabling and staffing (Playford Council) [reserved matter D3] (letter dated 1 June 2011);
 - iv) agreement for water services (SA Water) [reserved matter D6] (letter dated 8 November 2010);
 - v) agreement for gas services (APA) [reserved matter D7] (letter dated 21 June 2011);
 - vi) proponent to prepare a Recreation Facilities Strategy for Stage 1 in collaboration with the City of Playford's Buckland Park Project Control Group [reserved matter D4] (letter dated 6 July 2011); and
 - vii) final design drawings for the signalised intersection of Legoe Road with Port Wakefield Road to the satisfaction of Department for Transport, Energy and Infrastructure ('DTEI') [reserved matter D1] (letter from DTEI to proponent dated 29 June 2011).
 - (b) removing the following reserved matter entirely from the provisional development authorisation as it was assessed as having been satisfied:
 - i) a reconfigured land division plan to create a 40m buffer between the SA Potato grower's horticultural activity (on the southern side of Precinct 1 land division) and the outer boundary of the subdivision area [reserved matter (c)] (Amended Precinct 1 plan was submitted by proponent on 28 February 2011);
 - ii) attaching a new reserved matter requiring the proponent to prepare a concept design of the ultimate grade separated intersection with Legoe Road and Port Wakefield Road (D9); and
 - iii) granting an extension of time until 31 December 2011 (later satisfied) to satisfy the remaining reserved matters (D2, D5 and D8) (in response to a request by letter dated 5 August 2011).
11. By notice in the Government Gazette on 22 December 2011, the Presiding Member of the DAC (under delegation) varied the development authorisation (no longer a provisional development authorisation as all reserved matters were deemed to be satisfied or moved to conditions) by moving the following reserved matters to conditions:

- (a) reserved matter D(2) regarding emergency access and D(8) regarding the flood access plan for Port Wakefield Road (letter from proponent dated 15 November 2011 approved by the relevant authorities) were deemed to be satisfied and made conditions;
 - (b) reserved matter D(5) regarding maintenance schedules and handover and defects liability periods was deemed to be satisfied (letters received from the proponent and the City of Playford dated 16 August 2011) and made a condition (included in the landscape and engineering designs information);
 - (c) reserved matter D(9) (letter from proponent dated 7 December 2011) regarding the grade separated intersection of Legoe Road and Port Wakefield Road was approved by DTEI (minute of 8 December 2011 from Director, Road Transport Policy and Planning of DTEI to Director, Planning and Assessment at DPLG) was deemed to be satisfied and made a condition; and
 - (d) reserved matters (e), (f) and (g) regarding building rules assessment and display village design were removed as reserved matters and made conditions to provide consistency with other recent prior decisions under Section 48 of the Act.
12. In response to a request by the proponent (letters dated 15 December 2011 and 3 July 2012), by notice in the Government Gazette on 24 January 2013, I (under delegation) varied the development authorisation by:
- (a) removing the obligation to provide recycled water (purple pipes) to individual homes (letter dated 13 July 2012 Section 4 only, with attached letters from SA Water dated 14 May 2012 and email dated 7 November 2012 (specifying that the removal of the obligation shall be limited to individual homes only), a letter from the City of Playford dated 21 November 2012 and an email dated 26 November 2012); and
 - (b) delaying the obligation to handover the substation site to ETSA Utilities (now known as SA Power Networks) from prior to electrification of Precinct 1 to December 2017 (letter dated 30 September 2015 from Walker Corporation).
13. In response to a request by the proponent, by notice in the Government Gazette on 23 December 2013, the Governor varied the development authorisation to:
- (a) provide a permanent pump station, temporary tanks for the storage of waste water for up to 350 allotments (in Precinct 1) and associated infrastructure to be located within the proposed 'Precinct 2C 5' of the Superlot area (letter and report dated 2 May 2013); and
 - (b) provide an allotment for the proposed pump station and holding tanks within the proposed 'Precinct 2C 5' (application for land division (292/D079/12) dated 17 October 2012)—('the proposed amended major development').
14. In response to a request by the proponent by notice in the Government Gazette on 5 March 2015 for Precinct 1 Report dated August 2013 Revision B by Walker Corporation was varied amending
- (a) Land Division and residential mix;
 - (b) Neighbourhood centre location/design and timing (temporary to permanent);
 - (c) Display village location; (subsequently removed from the decision notice), and
 - (d) Primary School location.
15. The proponent also requested (and was granted) the removal of the need for separate (DAC) approval of the display village as the City of Playford has authority to make decisions on dwellings at Buckland Park and is able to make decisions about the display homes. The following would be removed from the existing decision notice:
- (a) Paragraph 1(a) delete the wording "Display Village";
 - (b) Remove listed drawing titled 'Precinct 1 Display Plan';
 - (c) Removal of conditions 47 and 48; and
 - (d) Amendment of Part B, note 1(a) to remove the reference to display village.
- This was approved in the decision notice of 3 July 2014.
16. The proponent also requested (letter of 17 December 2014) further minor amendment of Precinct 1. The proposed changes were to its sequencing of stages. Some lots increased in size and some medium density lots were removed, resulting in a reduction of total lots from 556 to 525.
17. There have also been 2 minor road alignment changes.
18. Modified plans were also provided and have replaced 5 existing approved plans and were approved by the Presiding Member of DAC on 5 March 2015.
19. The proponent submitted an Amendment to the EIS in November 2014 with an associated report which was advertised for public comment on 11 March 2015 until 27 March 2015 for a period of three weeks. No public comments were received. The Amendment to the EIS was also circulated to the City of Playford and to relevant Government agencies. An amendment to the Assessment Report has also been prepared for the Governor. A revised approval which provided for Stages 2 and 2c was approved by the Governor on 16 February 2017.
20. The Development Application and associated Land Division applications (which have been submitted via EDALA are for:
- iv) An amended Superlot Plan
 - v) Land Division plan for Precinct 2 (including stages within it) (DA 292/D027/15)
 - vi) Land Division for Precinct 2C (DA 292/D018/15)
 - vii) Notification of Road Closure for the northern (unmade) part of Buckland Road (18 December 2017)
 - viii) Extension of time for 'substantial commencement' of the intersection with Port Wakefield Road for two years from 31 October 2015 to 31 October 2017
21. A further one year extension to substantially commence the development was requested by the proponent on 13 September 2017 and this timeframe has been now been extended until 31 October 2018.
22. More than five years have elapsed since the Environmental Impact Statement was completed and put on public display. As required by Section 48 (4) of the Act, it has been reviewed to see if it should be amended under Section 47 and an amendment was found to be necessary. This amendment was put on public display for a period of three weeks in November 2014, no submissions were received. I am satisfied, for the purposes of Section 48B of the Act, that the proposed amended major development (and associated documents) is within the ambit of the Environmental Impact Statement and Assessment Report (or as amended) as originally prepared under Division 2 of Part 4 of the Act.

23. I am satisfied that an appropriate EIS and Assessment Report that encompass the proposed amended major development have previously been prepared (in accordance with Section 46B, Division 2 of Part 4 of the Act) and the amended documents required under Section 47 and as required by Section 48 (3) (b) of the Act, and have had regard, when considering the proposed amended major development, to all relevant matters under Section 48 (5) of the Act.
24. I have decided to grant development authorisation to the proposed amended major development under Section 48 (7)(a) of the Act, subject to conditions as provided for in Section 48 (7) of the Act, as well as 48 (2) (b) (i).
25. For ease of reference I have reproduced the development authorisation in its entirety herein. A revised time to undertake 'substantial commencement' (which comprises the completion of the road intersection with Port Wakefield Road - at Grade) has been included and must be undertaken by 31 October 2018.

Decision

NOTICE TO MARINERS

NO 22 OF 2017

Site Investigation - Cuttlefish Bay and Fishery Beach - Backstairs Passage

MARINERS are advised that a site investigation will be conducted at two shore crossing locations either side of Backstairs Passage in the vicinity of Kangaroo Island (Cuttlefish Bay) and Cape Jervis (Fishery Beach). These works are scheduled to commence around 15 October 2017 and are expected to take approximately 2 weeks to complete.

The investigation will be carried out from the "AMS 1" Dive Support Vessel, equipped with an air diving spread and multi-beam survey equipment. Operations will take place during daylight hours only and the "AMS 1" will be secured within Christmas Cove (Kangaroo Island) between shifts.

"AMS 1" will be stationed at each diving location utilising a fore and aft anchor mooring spread which will remain in situ overnight at each subsequent diving location. Moorings left overnight will be close to shore and marked by small yellow buoys.

Bathymetric (multi-beam) survey operations will be conducted periodically during the course of the works at each nearshore approach, extending to approximately 500m offshore.

Diving operations will take place as required. The international code flag "A" will be exhibited whilst diving operations are in progress. Diver and vessel excursions will be communicated with Flinders Ports VTS on a daily basis.

All vessels taking part in these works will exhibit shapes and lights in accordance with the Prevention of Collisions at Sea Regulations 1983 at all times. Operators will monitor VHF Channels 14 and 16 during operating hours.

Mariners are advised to use caution when transiting the area and keep well clear of the above operations.
