EXEMPTION

Application No. 100 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("The Act") by Fernwood Fitness Centre Pty Ltd for exemption from Sections 13, 42 and 100 and 195 of that Act. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to provide health and fitness centres catering for women only and to permit those centres to be staffed by women only.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application and upon hearing submissions from Mr Coleman of Counsel for the applicant, and for the Reasons for Decision given by the Tribunal on 9 January 1998, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 42 and 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to provide health and fitness centres catering for women only and to permit those centres to be staffed by women only.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to Fernwood Fitness Centre Pty Ltd from the operation of sections 13, 42 and 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to provide health and fitness centres catering for women only and to permit those centres to be staffed by women only. This exemption to remain in force until 14 January 2001.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 102 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83(5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Victorian Aboriginal Legal Service Co-operative Limited ("VALS"). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ persons of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander ("ATSI") descent in the position of Client Service Officer ("CSO").

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ persons of ATSI descent in the position of CSO.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The position of CSO is to provide basic legal advice and assistance to ATSI people being detained by police and to assist at court by providing intermediary communication between the solicitor and ATSI client.
- The CSO must have an understanding of and commitment to ATSI culture; have the ability to effectively communicate with ATSI individuals and organisations; have knowledge and experience in working with ATSI individuals and communities; understand the diverse legal and social needs of ATSI people and an ability to identify appropriate strategies to assist VALS clients.

- The CSO has to be acceptable to ATSI individuals and communities. ATSI people who require the assistance of a CSO are in an extremely vulnerable position and distressing circumstances i.e. being held by the police. For this and the foregoing reasons the duties of these positions will be able to be performed most effectively by ATSI people. The reassurance provided by the presence of a supportive indigenous person can make an enormous difference to the outcome of the ATSI person's arrest and their subsequent wellbeing and access to justice.
- VALS recognise the extreme disadvantage suffered by ATSI people in gaining employment within the sector. It encourages ATSI people to apply for training and staff development opportunities and to make application for vacant positions. The employment of ATSI people in these CSO positions will help to redress this disadvantage.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to advertise for and employ persons of ATSI descent in the position of CSO. This exemption to remain in force until 14 January 2001.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 103 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83(5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Young Women's Project Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ women only to fill staff and management positions.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ women only to fill staff and management positions.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is a gender specific accommodation and support service for young women and their children.
- The applicant also provides an Outreach service for young women who are survivors of sexual assault.
- The contact staff have with service users is usually in a residential setting.
- Many of the young women are escaping a domestic violence, incest or sexual assault situation and specifically request a women only environment.
- Much of the support offered is of an intensely personal nature.
- The applicant prioritises services to young women from non-english speaking backgrounds and there are often cultural considerations to be considered, as some issues are not spoken about in front of men.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to advertise for and employ women only to fill staff and management positions. This exemption to remain in force until 14 January 2001.
