EXEMPTION
Application No. 101 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal constituted by the President pursuant to Section 182 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Professor Graeme Duncan, Dean, on behalf of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, Latrobe University. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and provide a scholarship to students who are single parents.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 37, 42, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and provide a scholarship to students who are single parents.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The criteria for the award of the scholarship are that students must:
  - Be a single parent who is experiencing financial hardship;
  - Have completed second year;
  - Provide evidence of single parent status and financial hardship;
  - Have achieved a high academic standard (supported by an academic reference);

- Be enrolling in at least one subject in first and second semester in the relevant year.
- Selection will be based on academic merit and the level of financial hardship experienced by the single parent.
- In resolving to offer this scholarship to single parents, the Faculty Board sought advice from the Director of the Financial Aid Office of the University. He advised that this group is particularly disadvantaged for the following reasons:
  - They suffer significant social and economic disadvantage in that they are combining the sole care of children with tertiary study;
  - They do not have the financial and/or social support of a partner;
  - They are widely recognised as one of the most impoverished groups in general in our society - with fewer possessions, property or other financial support;
  - Their sole parent status means that their economic needs are greater than single students who are not sole parents.
- Clear anecdotal evidence suggests that single parents suffer significantly more hardship undertaking tertiary education than those who have the support of a partner. Many of these students are concentrated in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences where the flexibility of the courses suits their requirements for part-time work and childcare arrangements.
- Sole parent students tend to drop out at a higher rate than other students from individual subjects (prolonging the length of their study) and from complete courses as the time, money and effort involved in solo parenting severely reduces the time, money and effort available for tertiary study.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 37, 42, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and provide a scholarship to students who are single parents, this exemption to remain in force until 4 February 2001.

REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT
Proposed Waterways and Drainage Protection
By-Law

Notice is given in accordance with Section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act, 1994 that a Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) has been prepared in relation to the proposed Waterways and Drainage Protection By-Law.

The proposed By-Law provides for the prevention of damage to drainage structures and installations and to environmental values associated with Melbourne's waterways and main drainage system and prohibits access to specific areas in order to protect public safety or to protect important operating equipment and other structures.

The overall objectives of the proposed By-Law are to provide for the care, protection and management of lands, water bodies and structural works which are owned by, vested in or under the control or management of Melbourne Water for the purposes of discharging its waterways and drainage functions.

The RIS concluded that the most efficient means of providing the desired levels of protection is to promulgate and enforce the By-Law.

Copies of the RIS which includes the text of the proposed By-Law can be obtained by contacting Nick Ronan, Manager, Strategic Planning, Waterways and Drainage Group on telephone number 9235 2101.

Written comments and submissions on both the RIS and the By-Law are invited. They should be sent to Mr N Ronan, Melbourne Water, Locked Bag 4280, East Richmond Vic 3121 and must be received by 4.00 pm on Friday 20 March 1998.
