GOVERNMENT AND OUTER BUDGET SECTOR AGENCIES

PLEASE NOTE

The Craftsman Press is happy to announce the following alterations to the way we charge for advertising space in the Victoria Government Gazette.

On the front page of the Gazette are shown some savings in advertising costs for our advertisers from the Government and Outer Budget Sector Agencies.

They fall into three categories.

1. Supply of the notice on data disk
2. Supply of the notice via Email
3. Images which are required to be reproduced precisely.

If you supply a disk with the information in the correct type face, size and style we will give you a discount on the normal typesetting cost.

If we have to work on the notice by changing styles and type faces, the discount is less. See the front page for details.

If you can send your notice to us via email:

gazette@craftpress.com.au

we will give you a different discount on your normal typesetting costs. The more work we have to do to make your notice comply with the styles required, the less the discount.

If you have forms requiring exact reproduction in page format, we can scan them directly into the Gazette and offer a discount from the cost that normally applies.

Check the details on the Front Page of the Gazette or ask Ann White for details of the savings you can make.

STONNINGTON CITY COUNCIL
Notice of Making of Local Law
General Local Law (Miscellaneous
Amendments) Local Law 1998

Notice is given that Stonnington City Council, at a meeting on 4 May 1998, made the

General Local Law (Miscellaneous
Amendments) Local Law 1998.

The purpose of the local law is to make several amendments to the Council's General Local Law 1995 (No. 1).

The local law has amended the principal local law as follows:

Building works which may cause interference with Council land

A permit is required for building works which may cause interference with Council land. Permit applicants may be required to lodge a bond and to meet inspection costs. If damage is caused the owner and occupier of the land on which building works have taken place may be required to pay for rectification.

Parking offences

Parking offences relating to no-parking areas and parking bays have been created.

Promotional activity on streets

An existing offence relating to the conduct of a street festival or procession on a road without a permit has been extended to apply to promotional activity.

Noise

Amendments have been made to offences relating to noise, including introduction of restrictions on night-time transport of goods from commercial premises and on amplified speech or music which is audible from outside premises.

Advertisements

Amendments have been made to the offence relating to advertisements on Council land.

Drainage of properties

Provision has been inserted for Council to serve a notice to comply in relation to inadequate drainage on properties.

Incinerators and fires

Modifications have been made to the controls on barbecues including insertion of a restriction on emission of ashes and smoke to the extent that it is dangerous or offensive.

Property owners' obligations — fire hazards & unsightly premises

Obligations in relation to unsightly premises have been extended to owners, occupiers and persons in charge of the premises.

Building operations

The scope of Division 4 of Part 7 ("Building Operations") has been limited to activities which cause noise. Amendments have been made to the days on which building operations must not occur without a permit, and the restriction has been extended to building operations on roads and Council land.

Protection of trees

A new division has been inserted into the principal local law to create an offence if a significant tree on or over private property is cut, trimmed or removed without a permit. A "significant tree" is defined as a tree with a trunk diameter greater than 45 centimetres measured 1.5 metres above ground level or which has been listed by the Council in its significant trees register.

The criteria for issuing a permit include whether the tree has been listed in the register, and health, safety and amenity considerations.

Keeping of animals

An amendment has been made to the definition of "domestic bird" (substituting "quail" for "peacock") and an error has been corrected in relation to the ceiling number of animals which can be kept without a permit.

Other amendments

The local law has revoked provisions of the General Local Law considered to be unnecessary, dealing with removal of shopping trolleys, installation of satellite dishes and measures to control vermin. In addition, amendments have been made to requirements about the duration of time rubbish receptacles may be left on the road for the purposes of collection, an amendment has been made to the objectives clause of the principal local law and new definitions of "council reserve", "parking bay" and "significant tree" inserted.

A copy of the local law may be inspected at or obtained from the Council's Customer Service Centres located at the Prahran Town Hall, corner Chapel and Greville Streets, Prahran, and the Malvern City Centre, corner Glenferrie Road and High Street, Malvern, free of charge between 8.30 a.m. and 5.00 p.m. Monday to Friday.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 32 of 1998

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal, constituted pursuant to Section 182 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act"), has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Kenjet Pty Ltd for exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of that Act. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to target older people in advertisements for people to act as representatives in connection with the applicant's work as agent for the Australian Scholarship Group.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application and upon hearing submissions from Mr Ken Manning and for the Reasons for Decision by the Tribunal on 7 May 1998, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the act to enable the applicant to target older people in advertisements for people to act as representatives in connection with the applicant's work as agent for the Australian Scholarship Group.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to target older people in advertisements for people to act as representatives in connection with the applicant's work as agent for the Australian Scholarship Group. The exemption does not authorise the applicant to refuse to engage a potential representative on the basis of his or her age. This exemption is to remain in force until 13 May 2001.

Dated 7 May 1998

CATE McKENZIE
President

N.B. A copy of the Reasons for Decision is available from the Registrar of the Anti-Discrimination Tribunal.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 36 of 1998

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal, constituted by the President pursuant to Section 182 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act"), has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Central Gippsland Accommodation & Support Service Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ female only employees to counsel women and women with children who are experiencing or escaping from domestic violence.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ female only applicants and employees to counsel women and women with children who are experiencing or escaping from domestic violence.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The Central Gippsland Accommodation & Support Service Inc. ("CGASS") has an extensive history in the provision of housing and support services in Central and West Gippsland. This commenced with the establishment of a Youth Refuge in 1982, and expanded gradually with the increase in the allocation of Youth Housing properties to local youth services through the 1980's and early 1990's.
- CGASS was awarded the tender from the Department of Human Services for the delivery of the Family Violence services in Latrobe and Wellington Shires. This service is designed to provide a range of accommodation options, support and practical assistance to women, and women and children in the community who are experiencing or escaping from domestic violence.
- CGASS needs to employ females only for the positions relevant to that domestic violence service.
- CGASS requests female only employees for the safety and security of the victims of domestic violence and abuse, their vulnerability upon entering the service and the need for them to feel comfortable so that they can establish a rapport with workers who will support them in the long term.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to advertise for and employ female only applicants and employees to counsel women and women with children who are experiencing or escaping from domestic violence. This exemption is to remain in force until 13 May 2001.
