EXEMPTION

Application No. 76 of 1998

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") by Ms Helen Shambrooke trading as Ultratone Body Therapy. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and provide female only facial and body therapy treatments.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 42, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and provide female only facial and body therapy treatments.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant provides facial and body therapy treatments with various products in the client's home. The applicant also specialises in cellulite, post natal and fat reduction treatments for women.
- The body treatments require the clients to wear undergarments only.
- Most appointments will be in the evening at the client's home.
- Because of this applicant's past experiences, she feels safer in the company of women.
- The service which the applicant proposes to provide will be of particular benefit to women who, because of past experiences involving violence or sexual assault by males, feel safer if personal treatment of this kind is provided by a female.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 42, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and provide female only facial and body therapy treatments. This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 19 August 2001.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 89 of 1998

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Georgina Collective Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females only.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females only.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Georgina Collective Inc. is funded by both Commonwealth and State Governments under the Supported Accommodation Assistance Program for the operation of a women's refuge.
- Georgina Women's Refuge provides short to medium term crisis accommodation for women and their children escaping situations of domestic violence and incest. The refuge operates 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The 24 hour component requires a staff member to sleep overnight on the premises.
- Women who reside in the service are victims of violence perpetrated by males, including assault, rape and incest. These women experience great difficulty relating to males whilst in crises. They require a safe supportive environment where their emotional needs are understood and met. These women would feel very threatened in the case of the sole overnight worker being a male.

- This application is for renewal of an exemption originally granted by the Equal Opportunity Board. That exemption expired on 2 February 1997.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females only. This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 19 August 2001.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 86 of 1998

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Ann Halpin on behalf of Wellsprings. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females only.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 & 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females only.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Wellsprings has been established since July 1994, and was originally set up as a centre for women who are victims of domestic violence. Wellsprings was registered with the Domestic Violence and Incest Resource Centre and set up to be a women only space.
- Wellsprings has expanded and now has women attending from other centres. These include Refugee and Asylum Seeker women, young solo parent women and older isolated women. Other programs conducted from Wellsprings include South East Centre against Sexual Assault, the Women's Legal Resource Centre and the Migrant Women's Health Forum.
- Wellsprings wishes to employ females only for the following reasons:
 - (a) It caters for very vulnerable women, including women with psychiatric illness and women who have suffered sexual violence and abuse from men.
 - (b) Many migrant women attend "Wellsprings" because it is culturally appropriate to attend a women only centre.
 - (c) Psychologists from Victorian Referral Agency Service and the local Psychiatric Hospital refer women to Wellsprings because it is for women only and the programs are designed for women.
- It is beneficial for women who are sole parents or who are in isolated situations to meet other women to gain support and increase self confidence.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females only. This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 19 August 2001.
