EXEMPTION

Application No. 127 of 1998

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by MorCare Services Pty Ltd. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ male and female attendant carers where requested by their clients.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 42, 100 & 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ male and female attendant carers where requested by their clients.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- MorCare Services (“MorCare”) has been established to provide attendant care support to the aged and disabled community that encourages client participation and independence in a home situation as an alternative to institutional care.
- The tasks which attendant carers could be expected to undertake include some or all of the following activities depending on individual circumstances - assisting with shopping, banking and paying bills; driving to and from a workplace or school as part of a client’s regular daily routine, accompanying the client to entertainment venues or other recreational activities.
- The clients of the applicant consistently express preferences relating to age and gender specifications in relation to attendant carers who work with them. The reasons for a specific age and gender are:- personal preferences relating to carers being nearer the age group of the client; inappropriate behavioural problems necessitating same sex attendant carers, this is particularly relevant to adolescent males and their attitudes towards female carers, and clients expressing negative attitudes towards carers of a particular gender because of bad experiences in the past relating to their care.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 42, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ male and female attendant carers where requested by their clients.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 13 January 2002.
