EXEMPTION

Application No. 61 of 1999

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Jill Franic trading as Angel House Beauty Therapy for exemption from Sections 42, 100 and 195 of that Act. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise the beauty therapy service which she operates from her home as catering for females only, and to refuse to provide that service to males.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application and upon hearing submissions from Jill Franic and for the Reasons for Decision given by the Tribunal on 21 October 1999, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 42, 100 and 195 of the Act to advertise the beauty therapy service which she operates from her home as catering for females only, and to refuse to provide that service to males.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 42, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise the beauty therapy service which she operates from her home as catering for females only, and to refuse to provide that service to males.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 27 October 2002.

Dated 21 October 1999.

CATE McKENZIE
Deputy President

N.B. A copy of the Reasons for Decision is available from the Registrar of the Anti-Discrimination List.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 62 of 1999

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by MacKillop Family Services Ltd in respect of its service known as St Josephs Babies and Family Services. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to provide 2 designated female and 2 designated male residential care positions at the adolescent residential care unit in Essendon.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 & 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to provide 2 designated female and 2 designated male residential care positions at the adolescent residential care unit in Essendon.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The MacKillop Family Services – St Josephs Babies and Family Services Adolescent Residential Unit in Essendon provides residential care for young people aged 12 – 17 years with significant abuse histories and challenging behaviours.
- All residents within the service are subject to protective notifications and orders via the Victorian Department of Human Services.
- The service wishes to ensure that there is at all times a gender balance among the staffing group.
- The gender balancing is intended to ensure good role modelling for both young women and young men, to ameliorate the anxieties which some young people have in relation to staff of a particular gender due to specific abuse histories and to improve the chances of appropriate privacy to ensure, for example, that only female staff members enter bedrooms of females residents.
- Two other positions (Adolescent Unit Supervisor and one residential care worker) would remain open to both male and female applicants.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to provide 2 designated female and 2 designated male residential care positions at the adolescent residential care unit in Essendon.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until October 27 2002.

Dated this 25 October 1999.
