A One-day seminar

Investigative interviewing Techniques™

An essential skill in the collection of evidence during the investigative process is the ability of the investigator to elicit information from a wide range of people from different cultural and socio-economic backgrounds. Eliciting this information is an inexact and often difficult process requiring certain skills, insights and an understanding of human nature. In many investigations the only evidence available is by way of interviews and for disciplinary or prosecution purposes such interviews must be conducted in accord with legally acceptable practices and, in some instances, specific legal requirements.

Education Design Systems Pty Limited, a professional development and vocational education organisation, is offering a one-day seminar for people who are required to obtain, by way of interviews, information for evidentiary or similar purposes. This seminar has a national reputation as a highly relevant professional development program which generates significant returns on investment for participants and their organisations. Persons who complete this seminar may be eligible to undertake the external Graduate Certificate in Investigations course offered by Charles Sturt University.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 58 of 1999

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Wangaratta District Specialist School Council. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a male School Service Officer Level 1 (Teacher Assistant).

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 & 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a male School Service Officer Level 1 (Teacher Assistant).

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The Wangaratta District Specialist School has an enrolment of 50 students for the year 2000, 29 of those students being male.
- The position is required for 1-1 care of an Autistic student who absconds, is at times aggressive and is very physically challenging.

- There have been a significant number of incidents of injuries to staff due to the nature of the students at the school so the parents and School Council through the "School Charter" wish to have a male School Service Officer to ensure the safety of other staff and students.
- A male teacher assistant is also required to be able to ensure the safety of this student at all times.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a male School Service Officer Level 1 (Teacher Assistant).

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until November 3, 2002.

Dated 1 November 1999.
