EXEMPTION

Application No. A 434 of 2000

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Hamilton Jones & Koller Pty Ltd. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for placements to fill positions of Legal Practitioner, Accounting, Engineering, Food Science and Professional Consultancy in respect of which employers who are clients of the Applicant have authorised the Applicant to organise recruitment and have certified to the Applicant that the employer genuinely believes that the nature of the position reasonably requires the person who fills it to have a specified minimum level of experience in the field and to include in those advertisements reference to the minimum levels of experience in the field mentioned in those certifications.

In this exemption this conduct is called the exempt conduct.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is a recruitment consultant specialising in selection to various companies who employ professionals.
- The applicant searches and advertises for potential recruits and participates in the selection of the relevant professional staff.
- The applicant wishes to advertise on behalf of its clients employers for vacancies in various professional positions and to include in those advertisements certain experience requirements, basically minimum experience levels.
- In relation to the legal practitioner professional group experience is required because of the nature and complexity of a particular position's work. Without that minimum level of experience, a solicitor or legal practitioner would simply not be able to do the work, or would not be able to do it competently.
- In relation to the accounting professional group, experience is required because of the way the accounting profession is organised. There is a very strict structure of seniority based on experience, leading through the various chartered accountancy years through supervisor and manager and eventually partner, the top of the pyramid. Experience is necessary for those positions firstly because of the increasing complexity and often size of the jobs to be undertaken; secondly because one of the key components of these professional positions is leadership of a team and thirdly because of the serious nature of the liabilities that might result, if in fact inexperience led to some major error.
- In relation to the engineering professional group, the requirement for experience exists because of the complexity of the tasks that are assigned to the various engineering positions and also because of the expensive and complex nature of the equipment with which the engineer, who is required to be experienced in this way, will have to work. The dangers of inexperience in that context are not only dangers to the machinery but dangers to the public safety and the safety of other workers.

- In relation to the food sciences professional group, which are primarily research and development positions that deal with food technology, the requirement for experience is relevant and appropriate in the senior positions in the field because of the safety issues which may arise. There is a perceived danger to public safety which may arise from inexperience in these developments because they may well be products that will be marketed commercially and widely to the public.
- In relation to the professional consultancy group an experience requirement is relevant because this field relates primarily to management consultant positions, and the tasks that those management consultants would be called upon to perform concerns often major companies and major workforce restructuring proposals, and the consequences to both the company and the workforce are so serious, if in fact inexperience leads to some major error or some major failure in the project.
- The applicant also wants to include these various experience requirements in its advertisements because it is of the view that for particular positions, the nature of the position and the nature or complexity of its work, requires a minimum level of experience.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 25 October 2003.

Dated 19 October 2000

Mrs C. McKENZIE
Deputy President

EXEMPTION

Application No. A 436 of 2000

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by the Department of Infrastructure for exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of that Act. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and provide a scholarship for female postgraduate studies in the ports, marine or transport area and including part-time employment in the Department whilst undertaking those studies.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application and upon hearing submissions from Ms Singleton, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and provide a scholarship for female postgraduate studies in the ports, marine or transport area and including part-time employment in the Department whilst undertaking those studies.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and provide a scholarship for female postgraduate studies in the ports, marine or transport area and including part-time employment in the Department whilst undertaking those studies.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 25 October 2003.

Flora and Fauna Guarantee Act 1988

The Flora and Fauna Guarantee Act 1988 enables members of the public to nominate threatened species, communities and potentially threatening processes for listing under the Act. Nominations under the Act are considered by a Scientific Advisory Committee which makes recommendations to the Minister.

The Committee has made a number of final and preliminary recommendations. A Recommendation Report has been prepared for each final and preliminary recommendation. Copies of the reports can be obtained from the Head Office and major country offices of the Department of Natural Resources and Environment. The Flora and Fauna Guarantee Act 1988 and the Flora and Fauna Guarantee Regulations 1991 can be viewed at these offices.

Submissions supplying evidence that confirm or contradict the preliminary recommendations will be accepted until 27 November 2000. Please note that only nature conservation issues are considered by the Scientific Advisory Committee. There is no public comment period for final recommendations. Submissions should be sent to:

Secretary to the Scientific Advisory Committee, c/o Threatened Species and Communities Unit, Dept. Natural Resources and Environment, PO Box 500, East Melbourne 3002

For inquiries regarding the Flora and Fauna Guarantee Act 1988 please contact Phillip Wierzbowski (03) 9412 4955 or Martin O'Brien (03) 9412 4567. For information on specific items please contact Parks Flora & Fauna staff at NRE offices.

- 3.1 The power of the Appeal Panel to make this decision is contained in s.38 of the Act.

4. CONDUCT OF THE APPEAL

- 4.1 The Appeal Panel conducted public hearings on this and three other appeals for five days over the period from 6 October to 13 October 2000 inclusive. The Panel was also provided with considerable written materials, including witness statements. The Appeal Panel now makes the decision set out below with the benefit of and in light of all that material.
- 4.2 The appeal was conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Act and the Regulations.

5. DECISION BY THE APPEAL PANEL

The Appeal Panel has made the following decision in relation to each of the grounds of appeal:

5.1 GROUND 1(a)

The Panel has decided that the Determination be set aside and remitted to the Office for amendment to ensure:

- (a) there is a consistent approach between distributors; and
- (b) that the approach is as consistent as is feasible, given the available information, with regard to the benchmark forecasts of expenditure.

To the extent that this Determination may have implications for other distributors the Office should make appropriate changes to the Determination.

5.2 GROUND 1(b)

The Panel has decided that the Determination be set aside and remitted to the Office for amendment of the Determination to incorporate the effects on costs of differences between forecast and actual demand in the measurement of the efficiency carryover.

To the extent that this Determination may have implications for other distributors the Office should make appropriate changes to the Determination.

5.3 GROUND 2

The Appeal Panel has decided to affirm the Determination.

5.4 GROUND 3

The Panel has decided that the Determination be set aside and remitted to the Office for amendment of the Determination, following a review of the Applicant's compensation cost for voltage variation.

To the extent that this Determination may have implications for other distributors the Office should make appropriate changes to the Determination.

The Appeal Panel made this decision on 16 October 2000.

STYLE REQUIREMENTS.

To ensure that material received can be reproduced, and that errors are minimised, the following guidelines are to be observed when submitting material by fax.

Fax resolution:

Material sent by fax should be transmitted using Fine Resolution (200 dots per inch by 200 dpi).

Font size:

Use 12 point (10 pitch) or larger.

Font Style:

Clear plain font styles, such as Helvetica, should be used.

Graphics:

Line drawings should be transmitted as large as possible to ensure clarity. Drawings up to A4 size sent by fax using Fine Resolution provide a good quality for reproduction.

Avoid:

Italics, underlining and full justification.

Ensure document is square when sending as documents that are sent skewed are difficult to read and process.
