EXEMPTION

Application No. A448 of 2000

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Sylvia Azzopardi on behalf of The Richmond Fellowship of Victoria – Appleby Crescent Service. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male staff member at the service.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male staff member at the service.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The Richmond Fellowship of Victoria's Appleby Crescent Service is a residential psychosocial rehabilitation program providing intensive 24 hour support to fifteen residents with an enduring mental illness.
- Aspects of the program include the teaching, encouragement and development of very concrete and specific skills, such as personal hygiene and self care, home care, budgeting, shopping, cooking and other aspects of daily living skills.
- Other aspects of the program include developing social skills through intensive support within the Appleby Program and support and encouragement in accessing other relevant community programs, education and employment options and social/recreation opportunities.
- The current staffing team consists of a female Senior Program Manager, a female Assistant Program Manager, 2 male and 2 female residential support workers and 5 weekend/sleep over staff.
- A male residential support worker has resigned, so it is necessary to advertise and fill this position by another male.

- It is seen as essential to have an equal gender balance of residential support workers because –
 - The service needs to provide both male and female role models to relate to the context of the learning environment at the service.
 - The service needs to provide a model of healthy male and female relationships in the staff team;
 - The service needs to provide residents with a staff member of the same sex when there is a necessity to teach and provide support in matters of personal and intimate physical care; and
 - When away on camping trips it is essential that there be a male staff member who can discreetly supervise the male residents when they are using public ablution blocks and to ensure appropriate behaviour and safety for both residents and other members of the public.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male staff member at the service.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 8 November 2003.

Industrial Waste Management Policy
(Control of Ozone-Depleting Substances)
No. IW-1B

Certificate under Section 18B

I, Sherryl Garbutt, Minister for Environment and Conservation, hereby certify that there are special reasons as a result of which the industrial waste management policy (Control of Ozone-depleting Substances) No. IW-1B should be varied without delay, those reasons being:

1. The industrial waste management policy (Control of Ozone-Depleting Substances) No. IW-1B is a key element of Victoria's statutory framework for ozone-depleting substances. A general review of the whole Victorian framework for ozone protection, including this instrument, is currently being undertaken.
2. The Victorian statutory framework is part of a national program and strategy for ozone protection and enables Victoria to play its part in helping Australia to meet its international obligations under the 1987 Montreal Protocol on Substances that Deplete the Ozone Layer. The Commonwealth Government has commenced a major review of its ozone protection legislation which will have implications for Victoria's statutory instruments for ozone-depleting substances. The Commonwealth review is due to be finalised during the next 12 months.
3. The industrial waste management policy (Control of Ozone-Depleting Substances) No. IW-1B is due to expire on 27 November 2000. An extension for a 12-month period is necessary to provide an opportunity for the outcomes of the Commonwealth review to be incorporated into the Victorian review and to maintain an effective regulatory framework for ozone-depleting substances while this is undertaken.
