EXEMPTION

Application No. A69 of 2000

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Djerriwarrh Health Services. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ gender specific counsellors to work in the multi-disciplinary Counselling Service of Djerriwarrh Health Services.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise and employ gender specific counsellors to work in the multi-disciplinary Counselling Service of Djerriwarrh Health Services.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Djerriwarrh Health Services (DjHS) is a combined Acute, Residential and Primary Health Care Agency serving the Local Government areas of Melton and Moorabool Shires in the outer Western metro and rural regions of Melbourne.
- DjHS provides a comprehensive counselling service to the community. This service provides Individual Assessment, Crisis Intervention and Referral, Individual Counselling and Support, a Family Therapy Service and an Integrated Family Violence program for women and children (mainly victim/survivors of family violence) and men (mainly perpetrators) of family violence.
- DjHS is one of only two Primary Care Services in Victoria currently offering a family violence prevention program in an integrated framework, that is working with all family members affected by and/or perpetrating abuse.
- In addition to the specialist programs offered, the service also hopes to offer family therapy/counselling for other issues affecting families' capacity to cope, particularly step families, and those where bereavement, loss, suicide, unemployment and other forms of trauma or abuse may be present.
- It is important for the service to be able to provide both male and female workers to co-facilitate groups and where appropriate, engage in individual therapeutic intervention.
- Currently, the service has no male counsellor as a core member of the clinical counselling service. This seriously affects their capacity to continue to offer a standard of service in Family Counselling which has been recognised both nationally and internationally as best practice. This also prevents a continuation of specialist programs provided to male prisoners within the Corrections System, which were provided up until 1999.
- Whilst at the present time the service is adequately staffed with regard to female workers, it is equally critical to retain women workers to be able to work with women and children who have been the victim/survivors of trauma and abuse.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 50, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise and employ gender specific counsellors to work in the multi-disciplinary Counselling Service of Djerriwarrh Health Services.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 15 March 2003.

Dated 14 March 2000.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A73 of 2000

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Quantam Community Care Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and recruit staff in the Disabilities Outreach Program, specifying the gender of the staff required.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise and recruit staff in the Disabilities Outreach Program, specifying the gender of the staff required.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Quantam Community Care Inc, is a not-for-profit association incorporated under the Associations Incorporation Act 1981.
- Quantam offers a range of services including residential care for adults with an intellectual disability and an Outreach Program providing attendant care services for people with intellectual, psychiatric and physical disabilities. These services are mainly funded by the Department of Human Services.

- Staff employed in the Outreach Program perform a range of tasks of a personal nature, such as dressing, bathing and toileting. Many tasks are performed within client's homes, or are sometimes undertaken in an institutional setting and may involve the transporting to and from appointments or activities.
- Some of the program's clients display aggressive or violent behaviours, sometimes of a sexual nature.
- Due to the intimate nature of the work performed and the nature of the circumstances of the clients, it is sometimes necessary to allocate a staff member of the same gender to that client. To do otherwise may heighten the client's inappropriate behaviours, place a staff member in a physical danger or lead to allegations of improper conduct.
- The Tribunal notes that the conduct which is the subject of this application is covered in part by section 16, 17(2)(b)(d) and (e) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 50, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise and recruit staff in the Disabilities Outreach Program, specifying the gender of the staff required.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 15 March 2003.

Dated 8 March 2000.
