EXEMPTION

Application No. A74 of 2000

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by MacKillop Family Services Limited in respect of its St Joseph's Babies and Family Services. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to recruit lead tenant volunteers between the age range of 23 – 45 years.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 42, 49, 50, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to recruit lead tenant volunteers between the age of 23 – 45 years.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- MacKillop – St Joseph's conducts lead tenant service in the Western suburbs of Melbourne at three properties.
- In these residences, two young people aged 16 – 17 who are under Care and Protection live in these premises.
- The residents often suffer from challenging behaviours such as offending, drug usage and difficulty in interpersonal relationships.
- The aim of the service is to prepare the residents for the next step into independent living and to assist them in developing appropriate adult life skills.
- The role of the lead tenant (who lives in the residence provided by MacKillop Family Services) is to act as a role model to these young residents who are on the verge of leaving care, in providing and assisting with independent living skills such as budgeting, cooking and developing appropriate support networks.

- It is the services experience that it is inadvisable to engage a very young lead tenant, because at times they have difficulty in separating their own developmental issues from those of the young residents. Gaining respect of the young people can also be an issue for a young lead tenant.
- The lead tenant needs to have sufficient life experience and maturity to respond appropriately to a range of challenging behaviours, and at the same time be able to role-model a satisfying and independent lifestyle as a young person themselves.
- The upper age limit of 45 years is sought to imply a youthful role model rather than a parental or authoritative figure.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 42, 49, 50, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to recruit lead tenant volunteers between the age range of 23 – 45 years.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 8 March 2003.

Dated 3 March 2000.

Deputy President

EXEMPTION

Application No. A72 of 2000

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by City of Greater Dandenong. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person for the position of "Aboriginal Policy Officer".

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 & 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise and employ an aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person for the position of "Aboriginal Policy Officer".

In granting the exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The role of "Aboriginal Policy Officer" requires somebody who can bring first hand knowledge of local Aboriginal issues back to the City of Greater Dandenong.
- This person would be able to tackle issues raised appropriately as well as establishing and strengthening closer links between Indigenous communities and the Council.
- An Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person would best fill the position so that the local Aboriginal community accepts them.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise and employ an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person for the position of "Aboriginal Policy Officer".

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 8 March 2003.

Dated this 3 March 2000.
