EXEMPTION

Application No. A175 of 2000

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by The Motor People Training Academy Pty Ltd ("the Academy"). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to target women in advertising training opportunities for those wishing to pursue careers in the automotive industry.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of the application by Mr S. Mariner, Recruitment Manager for the Academy, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to target women in advertising training opportunities for those wishing to pursue careers in the automotive industry.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The Academy is an industry-specific recruitment specialist that seeks to help individuals in gaining employment within the automotive industry, primarily in automotive sales;

- It is the Academy's experience that there is a significant demand for a higher female representation in sales roles within the automotive industry;
- The Academy wishes to target women in specific advertisements so as to encourage more women to apply to train with the Academy, so that it may assist women as well as men in securing roles in dealerships as automotive professionals;
- There is an apparent gender imbalance in the automotive industry. A matter the Academy would like to challenge is the perception that women may have in relation to their prospects for employment within the automotive industry (by making women aware that there are opportunities in this currently male-dominated area, and that these opportunities can allow for successful careers and long-term employment);
- The Academy would like to encourage more women to enter the industry initially to support those women who are currently employed, and to improve the gender sensitivity of those males already employed in the industry;
- The Academy's view that female customers may prefer dealing with a person of the same gender, especially when there is face-to-face consultation. Many women may feel vulnerable dealing with the opposite gender and may also feel uncomfortable or reluctant to discuss specific personal requirements with anyone other than a fellow woman.
- The Academy wishes to address the current gender imbalance and promote a more equal and fair representation of women within the automotive industry.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to target women in advertising training opportunities for those wishing to pursue careers in the automotive industry.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 17 May 2003.

Dated this 9 May 2000.
