BAYSIDE PLANNING SCHEME

Notice of Amendment

Amendment C2

Residential Neighbourhood

Bayside City Council exhibited Amendment C2 – Residential Neighbourhood in May 2000.

Council has considered submissions on this amendment and resolved to adopt the following positions for height control and development density.

Height Control

Council resolved to adopt the Bayside Height Control Study as exhibited but with:

- all HC2 areas (Residential exceptions on the coast) having the same controls as for HC1 areas (Coastal strip) – maximum height of two stories or six metres (for a single storey building).
- HC5 (Managed change – Northern and Central Bayside) and HC6 (Environmental Enhancement – Eastern Area of Bayside) combined into HC5 (Bayside Residential Density Area) with a two storey maximum height.
- A three storey maximum building height in activity centres (HC7) with a four metre setback for the third storey.

Residential density

The exhibited amendment proposed a range of development densities from 1:200 m² to 1:400 m² based on the Residential Strategy, street frontage and lot size. Council resolved to adopt the lower density (1:400 m²) as the maximum for all residential areas of Bayside. In Activity Centres a density of 1:50 m² has been adopted.

Council proposes to take this position to the independent Panel Hearing on the amendment that will occur early in 2001.

You may make a submission on this position to Council. All submissions will be reported to the Panel. Inquiries to Acting Manager Urban Planning, Phone 9599 4345. Submissions should be directed, by 29 January 2001, to Acting Manager Urban Planning, Bayside City Council, PO Box 27, Sandringham 3191.
