EXEMPTION

Application No. A 321 of 2001

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Women at Work. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ female only painters and decorators.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ female only painters and decorators.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is a member of the Finishing Trades Association of Australia. Of the Association's 1,100 members there are two female members. Of 500 apprentices there are 40 female apprentices.
- The National Association of Women in Construction has stated that less than 10% of people working in the construction industry are women, and less than 1% of those working in manual jobs in the construction industry are women.
- The applicant's customers prefer female painters as they feel more comfortable with female tradespeople in their homes (and would feel threatened by male tradespeople).
- The employment by the applicant of females will help to redress an imbalance in the proportion of males and females employed in the painting and decorating industry and will provide a possible role model to encourage other women to enter an occupation currently perceived as one not usually taken up by women.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ female only painters and decorators.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 19 November 2004.

Each report should confirm that the nurse has complied with the condition imposed by sub-paragraph (a), and address the question of whether the ability of the nurse to practise as a registered nurse is adversely affected because:
 - (i) of the physical or mental health of the nurse; or
 - (ii) the nurse is an alcoholic or drug dependent person
 - (c) For each of the two years commencing on the date when the suspension is removed, the
