TITLE OF THE LOCAL LAW:

The Local Law is entitled "Good Governance Local Law 2001 (No. 2 of 2001)".

PURPOSE:

The purposes of the Local Law are to:

- (a) give legal effect to the Melbourne City Council "Councillor Code of Conduct" (hereafter the Code), as adopted by Council on 19 December 2000; and

GENERAL PURPORT:

The general purport of the Local Law is as follows:

- (a) Part B of the Local Law contains penal provisions relating to compliance with the Code and prescribes the penalties for offences.

Further, it specifies the contents of an infringement notice, the process of serving the notice and the penalty an offending Councillor must pay to the Council in order to avoid prosecution.
- (c) The Local Law refers to the Code, which sets out key principles intended to guide Councillors' approach to the conduct of office and interaction between one another. In particular the Code governs Councillors' conduct in relation to decision making, meeting agendas and minutes, meeting behaviour and communications, and encourages Councillors, at all times, and in all forums, to strive to act with integrity, tolerance and honesty.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A84 of 2001

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by the State of Victoria, Department of Education, Employment and Training for exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of that Act. The application for exemption is to allow the Alpine School to advertise for and appoint two female and two male persons to the positions of Overnight Supervision Staff.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant the exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The duties of the position include visual checking of appropriate gender student accommodation, sleeping in the appropriate accommodation and providing support to teachers in managing the welfare, discipline and safety of children.
- The Alpine School conducts a co-education residential program to enrich and enhance educational development of students.
- The Alpine School is divided by gender into two accommodation wings where male and female students are housed separately.
- For the protection of students and staff it is essential that Overnight Supervision Staff be of the appropriate gender.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to allow the Alpine School to advertise for and appoint two female and two male persons to the positions of Overnight Supervision Staff.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 4 April 2004.

- as the Grey-headed Flying-fox is a highly migratory species with a distribution up the East coast of Australia, it is more prudent to examine its vulnerability from a national perspective rather than just a Victorian one;
- the species is far more abundant throughout New South Wales and Queensland than in Victoria, so looking at the species solely in a Victorian context could misrepresent its true status, and
- if the Commonwealth Minister for the Environment lists the Grey-headed Flying-fox as threatened in Australia, I would be happy to consider any further recommendation from the Victorian Flora and Fauna Guarantee Scientific Advisory Committee in regard to this species.

My reasons for this decision are the same as those advertised in the final recommendations of the Scientific Advisory Committee.

I have decided not to recommend to the Governor in Council that the Grey-headed Flying-fox (Pteropus poliocephalus) be added to the list of taxa and communities of flora and fauna which are threatened. My reasons for this decision are as follows:
