relevant periods and show the relevant details on your bill.

4.3 Bundled Charges

On request, we will provide you with reasonable information on network charges, retail charges and other charges relating to the sale or supply of gas comprised in the amount payable under your bill.

4.4 Estimated readings

Wherever possible, the bill will be based on an actual read of your gas meter.

If we cannot reasonably or reliably base a bill on our reading of your gas meter, we may provide you with an estimated bill based on:

- (a) your reading of your gas meter;
- (b) your prior billing history; or

We will apply payment received from you as directed by you or if no direction is given as follows:

- (e) to the charges for supply or sale of gas before applying any part to charges for any other services; or
- (f) if the other services include electricity, to the charges for the supply or sale of electricity and gas in equal proportion before applying any part of it to any other goods and services.

4.8 Advance Payment

We will accept advance payments which you might wish to make.

4.11 Outcome of review

If the bill is correct, you agree to pay us the unpaid amount or request a meter test. If the meter test shows that your meter complies with applicable laws and codes, you agree to pay the costs of the tests and the unpaid amount.

If your bill is incorrect we will adjust your bill in accordance with the provisions of the Retail Code.

4.12 Adjustments

If we fail to charge, undercharge or overcharge you, we may recover from you or pay to you the relevant amount in accordance with the provisions of the Retail Code.

- (b) while you make payments according to an agreed payment arrangement,

We will comply with guidelines on debt collection issued by the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission.

5. Disconnection or reduction of supply and reconnection

5.1 Disconnection, interruption, discontinuation or reduction

If you so request, or we are permitted to do so under the Gas Law, we may disconnect, interrupt, discontinue or reduce the supply of gas to you at the Premises.

5.2 Non-payment of a bill

We may only disconnect you for non payment of a bill if you fail to pay us by the pay by date of a bill if:

- (a) the failure does not relate to an instalment under your first instalment plan with us;
- (b) we have given you:
  - a reminder notice not less than 14 business days from the date of dispatch of the bill. The reminder notice must include a new pay by date which is not less than 20 business days from the date of dispatch of the bill; and the date of dispatch of the bill. The disconnection warning must include a new pay by date which is not less than 28 business days from the date of dispatch of the bill;

- (c) we have included in the disconnection warning:

- a statement that we may disconnect you on a day no sooner than seven business days after the date of receipt of the disconnection warning; and
- a telephone number for payment assistance enquiries; and

- (d) if you have called that telephone number, we have responded to your enquiry and have provided advice on financial assistance, and, before disconnection, you:

- (e) do not provide a reasonable assurance to us that you are willing to pay our bills; or

- (f) do so, but then:

- do not pay us the amount payable by the pay by date on the relevant disconnection warning. This does not apply if you have agreed with us to a new payment arrangement;
- do not agree to a new payment arrangement within 5 business days after the date of receipt of the disconnection warning; or
- do not make payments under such a new payment arrangement.

To avoid doubt, if you do not agree to such a new payment arrangement or do not so make payments under such a new payment arrangement, we may disconnect you without again having to observe this clause.

5.3 Domestic customers without sufficient income

We may not disconnect you, if the failure to pay our bill occurs through lack of sufficient income until we have also complied with clause 4.16(a) to (d) using our best endeavours to contact you personally, and you have not accepted an instalment plan within five business days of our offer.

5.4 Denying access to the meter

We may disconnect you if you deny access to the supply address for the purpose of reading the meter for three consecutive bills in the your billing cycle but only if:

- (a) we have:
- used our best endeavours, including contacting you personally, to give you an opportunity to offer reasonable alternative access arrangements;
  - each time access is denied, we or the meter reader has given you a notice requesting access to the meter; and
  - we have given you a disconnection warning including a statement that we may disconnect you on a day no sooner than seven business days after the date of receipt of the notice; and
- (b) you have continued not to provide access to us or the meter reader.

5.5 Refusal to provide refundable advance

We may disconnect you if you refuse when required to provide a refundable advance but only if:

- (a) we have given you a disconnection warning including a statement that we may disconnect you on a day no sooner than seven business days after the date of receipt of the notice; and
- (b) you have continued not to provide the refundable advance.

5.6 No Disconnection

- where the amount payable is less than any amount approved for this purpose in the Gas Guidelines;

- if you have made a complaint directly related to the non-payment of the bill, to the Energy and Water Ombudsman of Victoria or another external dispute resolution body and the complaint remains unresolved;
  - you have formally applied for a Utility Relief Grant and a decision on the application has not been made; or
  - if the only charge you have not paid is a charge not for the supply or sale of gas;
- (b) if your supply address is registered by us or a Distributor as a medical exemption supply address. We must register a supply address as a medical exemption supply address if you request registration and provide us with a current medical certificate certifying that a person residing at the supply address has a medical condition which requires continued supply; or
- (c) unless otherwise requested by you:
- after 2pm (for a domestic customer) or 3pm (for a business customer) on a weekday; or
  - on a Friday, on a weekend, on a public holiday or on the day before a public holiday.

- (b) access to your meter being denied, and within 10 days of disconnection you provide such access; or
- (c) your obtaining supply otherwise than in accordance with applicable laws and codes, and within 10 business days of disconnection that supply ceases and you pay for the supply so obtained or agree to a payment arrangement; or

- (d) your refusing to provide a Refundable Advance, and within 10 days of disconnection you provide it, then at your request for reconnection, but subject to other applicable laws and codes and your payment of a reconnection charge, we will connect your supply.

- before 3pm on a business day, we will reconnect you on the day of the request; or
- after 3pm on a business day, we will reconnect you on the next business day or, if the request also is made before 9pm and you pay any applicable after hours reconnection charge, on the day requested by you.

SCHEDULE 3 FORMULA FOR CALCULATING THE VOLUME OF SEWAGE FROM PROPERTIES

1. Formula for calculating the volume of sewage from residential properties and premises

The formula for calculating the volume of sewage from residential properties and premises is:

$$VS_r = VW \times SF \times DF$$

where:

VW is the volume of water supplied to the property or premises, being the volume determined for the purpose of calculating a water usage charge for the same meter reading period or that volume rounded down to the nearest kilolitre;

SF is the seasonal factor which is derived from dividing:

(a) the total number of days in the meter reading period;

by the sum of

(b) the number of days which fall within each particular month within the meter reading period multiplied by the relevant seasonal index shown in Table 1 for that month for a House or a Unit,

where:

a House means a building, excluding a Unit, which is used or intended to be used as one residence.

a Unit means a unit within the meaning of the Valuation of Land Act 1960, a group of units within that meaning, a building used or intended to be used for more than one residence and a part of a building used or intended to be used as one residence.

Table 1 – Seasonal Indices

Month	Yarra Valley Water	House South East Water	City West Water	Unit All

DF is the discharge factor shown in Table 2 in respect of the relevant “quarterly equivalent volume of water”. The quarterly equivalent volume of water is the volume of water calculated by multiplying the volume of water supplied to or apportioned to the property or premises by 91.25 and dividing the result by the number of days in the meter reading period, except in the case of water supplied to:

- (i) a separately metered property used or intended to be used for more than one residence where those residences are not separately metered; or
- (ii) to a property which is not separately metered and to which a volume of water has not been apportioned, in which case, the quarterly equivalent volume of water is the volume of water calculated by dividing the volume of water supplied to all residences or properties sharing the meter by the number of residences or properties supplied and multiplying the result by 91.25 and dividing that result by the number of days in the meter reading period.

Table 2 – Discharge Factors

Quarterly Equivalent Volume of Water	Discharge factor
Less than or equal to 125 kL	0.9
More than 125 kL and less than or equal to 250 kL	0.9 less 0.0036 per kL in excess of 125 kL
More than 250 kL	0.45

2. Method of calculating volume of sewage discharged from non-residential properties

The formula for calculating the volume of sewage from non-residential properties and premises is:

$$VS_{NR} = (VW - VTW) \times DF$$

Where:

VTW is the volume of Category 2 Trade Waste and Category 3 Trade Waste as defined in clause 17(3) of this Order, discharged or estimated to have been discharged from the property or premises in the meter reading period; and

DF is discharge factor, which is 0.9 or a lesser figure determined by the licensee which results in a more accurate estimate of the volume of sewage discharged.

Clear plain font styles, such as Helvetica, should be used.

Graphics:

Line drawings should be transmitted as large as possible to ensure clarity. Drawings up to A4 size sent by fax using Fine Resolution provide a good quality for reproduction.

Avoid:

Italics, underlining and full justification.

Ensure document is square when sending as documents that are sent skewed are difficult to read and process.
