KINGSTON PLANNING SCHEME

Notice of Amendment
Amendment C20

Who is the Planning Authority?

The Amendment has been prepared by the City of Kingston. The City of Kingston is the planning authority for this Amendment.

Land affected by the Amendment.

The Amendment applies to part of Lot 4 on Plan of Subdivision No. 22409 (part Crown Allotment 3, Section 8, Parish of Mordialloc), located at 1150 Centre Road, Oakleigh South.

What the Amendment does?

The Amendment proposes to include part of the land at 1150 Centre Road, Oakleigh South within a Public Acquisition Overlay in favour of VicRoads.

Why the Amendment is required

The Amendment is required to enable the future construction of a five lane intersection treatment at the southern leg of the Clarinda Road/Centre Road/Huntingdale Road intersection. To facilitate the construction of the proposed intersection works, VicRoads has identified that a narrow section of land at 1150 Centre Road is required to enable the road widening to occur. Accordingly, VicRoads has provided consent for Bunnings Building Supplies Pty Ltd to initiate an amendment to the Kingston Planning Scheme on their behalf, to introduce a Public Acquisition Overlay over the affected land.

The Amendment will enable VicRoads to pursue acquisition of this land at some point in the future, for the purpose of carrying out the necessary improvements to this intersection.

Where you may inspect this Amendment

The Amendment is available for public inspection, free of charge, during office hours at the following places: City of Kingston, Mentone Customer Service Centre, Brindisi Street, Mentone and Department of Infrastructure, Planning Information Centre, Upper Plaza, Nauru House, 80 Collins Street, Melbourne.

Submissions about the Amendment must be sent to: Attention: Sarah Opperman, Manager Strategic Planning, City of Kingston City Council, PO Box 1000, Mentone, Vic. 3194 by Monday 4 March 2002.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A3 of 2002

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by the Inner East Mental Health Services Association. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a male community support worker.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a male community support worker.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant's mission is to assist people with psychiatric disability towards recovery, supported with the least amount of professional intervention, so that they are successful and satisfied in the environments of their choice.
- Programs organised by the applicant include Mosaic. This service has a psychosocial day rehabilitation programme, a housing and support programme. Due to the nature and effects of psychiatric disability, much of the focus is on assisting members to participate in the day-to-day occupations of community living, and to develop and maintain healthy, adult relationships. Activities are organised on a 1:1 and group basis, and focus on socialisation, self-development, and leisure. Staff facilitate regular women's and men's groups.
- Mosaic provides a service to a number of men who live in the boarding and rooming houses in that area. Often these men developed a mental illness in their late adolescence/early twenties, at an age at which they were developing a sense of themselves as adults and men. These men generally have few other males in their lives as a result of the breakdown of relationships with family and friends. Many of the issues brought up by members are concerned with being a man, including men's health, and developing healthy relationships with other men and women. It has been found that many men are able to talk more freely about these issues with a male staff member, than with female staff.

- Some of the activities provided at the Mosaic include outings and holidays. It is invaluable to have a male staff member on such activities for the reasons stated above, and for the more practical and mundane tasks that may arise (for example, going to the men's toilets with the participants; providing support to men in getting up and going in the morning).
- Mosaic wishes to advertise for a male community support worker to ensure greater gender balance within the staff team. Currently the staff team at Mosaic is made up of only women (3.5 fulltime positions in the team), due to the recent resignation of the only male staff member on the team. To most effectively deliver the services required, it is preferable to have gender balance, but at least, a minimum of one member of each gender in the staff team.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a male community support worker.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 30 January 2005.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 4 of 2002

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Melbourne City Mission Inc. for exemption from Sections 13, 42, 49, 100 and 195 of that Act. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and provide accommodation, for lead tenants aged 23 or over to work in its accommodation program to support homeless people aged 17 or less who exhibit challenging behaviours.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 42, 49, 100 and 195 of that Act to enable the applicant to advertise and provide accommodation, for lead tenants aged 23 or over to work in its accommodation program to support homeless people aged 17 or less who exhibit challenging behaviours.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 42, 49, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise and provide accommodation, for lead tenants aged 23 or over to work in its accommodation program to support homeless people aged 17 or less who exhibit challenging behaviours.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A6 of 2002

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by St Luke's Anglicare. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ either a male or female worker depending on the gender mix of the Disability Support Service Staff at the time of a vacancy.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application and upon hearing Mr Vance Hilton, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ either a male or female worker depending on the gender mix of the Disability Support Service Staff at the time of a vacancy.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- St Luke's provides opportunities for disability service client support based on:
Gender sensitive approaches according to:
 - the specific behavioural and support needs of clients
 - the gender preferences of clientsAppropriate skills matching of worker to clients needs.
- Many of St Luke's clients are young males, some with specific behavioural issues where it is considered that gender of the worker is an issue in their support.
- Many of the male clients have expressed a need to work with male disability support workers who can assist them in dealing with a wide range of men's health issues and provide them with a model for healthy relationships and interactions.
- St Luke's provides a range of individual home based outreach services where workers may individually visit clients in their own home. St Luke's offers clients a choice between a female or a male worker wherever possible, therefore a gender balance in the provision of our services needs to be maintained.
- There will soon be a vacancy for workers in the Disability Support Service at Kyneton. At this location there are currently five disability support workers, four female and one male.
- St Luke's wishes to continue to provide a gender balance in its services and may need from time to time to advertise for a disability support staff of a particular gender.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ either a male or female worker depending on the gender mix of the Disability Support Service Staff at the time of a vacancy.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 30 January 2005.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A7 of 2002

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Centacare, Diocese of Sandhurst. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a female mediator/conciliator.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a female mediator/conciliator.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The Conciliation/Mediation program run by the applicant provides a service to separating couples that enables them to reach a fair agreement regarding matters concerned with the residence and access for children of the relationship and the division of the property of the couple. Male and female parties need to experience neutrality from the service and this sometimes demands the presence of both male and female Mediators/Conciliators. Currently there are only male facilitators on the team.
- When the female party in a separating relationship lacks a sense of power equality or is suffering from ongoing fear of her previous partner, the female party may only feel secure with a female facilitator. Currently they have no female facilitators for mediation or conciliation.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a female mediator/conciliator.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 30 January 2005.
