EXEMPTION

Application No. A67 of 2002

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Kara House Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ women as staff and to provide accommodation for women and children.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 42, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ women as staff and to provide accommodation for women and children.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Kara House provides a crisis accommodation refuge service for women and children escaping domestic violence.
- The applicant offers communal living arrangements for women and children during crisis periods. Many of the clients have experienced physical, verbal and psychological abuse at the hands of male perpetrators.

- Kara House clients are extremely distressed, emotionally vulnerable and are seeking a safe and protected environment, it would not be appropriate to house men within this context.
- Due to the delicate and sensitive nature of the difficulties experienced by their clients the applicant wishes to employ women only to work in the service.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 42, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ women as staff and to provide accommodation for women and children.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 17 April 2005.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A102 of 2002

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by ParaQuad Victoria. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ male or female attendant carers in the age range as requested by their clients.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ male or female attendant carers in the age range as requested by their clients.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- ParaQuad is a community-based organisation employing 500 Attendant care staff whose role is to undertake personal care activities in clients homes. Clients are of different age ranges, genders and ethnic backgrounds throughout Victoria.
- The age range of their clients is from early teenage years to those 90 years of age plus.

- Many clients develop relationships beyond the workplace, i.e. the client's home.
- Many clients are looking for carers to assist them in all aspects of daily living such as toileting and showering. They also require assistance from a carer in work and in social settings.
- Many clients seek a carer who can become an age-related peer which is pertinent to both young and aged clients who often make requests for a carer within a particular age range.
- Many clients also require gender specific carers based on the very personal nature of Attendant care. The applicant respects the right of the client to select an individual with whom they feel comfortable.
- The applicant was previously granted an exemption which expires on 5 May 2002.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ male or female attendant carers in the age range as requested by their clients.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 17 April 2005.

STYLE REQUIREMENTS.

To ensure that material received can be reproduced, and that errors are minimised, the following guidelines are to be observed when submitting material by fax.

Fax resolution:

Material sent by fax should be transmitted using Fine Resolution (200 dots per inch by 200 dpi).

Font size:

Use 12 point (10 pitch) or larger.

Font Style:

Clear plain font styles, such as Helvetica, should be used.

Graphics:

Line drawings should be transmitted as large as possible to ensure clarity. Drawings up to A4 size sent by fax using Fine Resolution provide a good quality for reproduction.

Avoid:

Italics, underlining and full justification.

Ensure document is square when sending as documents that are sent skewed are difficult to read and process.
