EXEMPTION

Application No. A372 of 2004

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by Connections, for exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act, in respect of their Starting Out Program. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females under the age of 25 as Peer Support Workers.

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application by Donald Neil McInnes, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females under the age of 25 as Peer Support Workers.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted that:

- formerly known as Uniting Care Connections, Connections is one of Victoria's largest community services providing more than 40 programs delivering support services to infants, children, young people and families;

- the Starting Out Program is a specialised support service designed to meet the needs of pregnant and parenting adolescents, targeting women under the age of 25 years, with priority being given to those between 13 and 19 years;
- the Tribunal previously granted an exemption to Uniting Care Connections in December 2000 so that young women could be employed as Peer Support Workers in the Starting Out Program, and the circumstances giving rise to the appropriateness of the grant of the exemption are still relevant;
- there is an ongoing need for young women to have the support of female peers in the program.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females under the age of 25 as Peer Support Workers.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 28 October 2007.

Dated 22 October 2004

Deputy President

EXEMPTION

Application No. A383 of 2004

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by Broadmeadows Family Services, for exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ female staff at the Broadmeadows Women's Community House.

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application by Lee-Anne Biggs, Manager, Broadmeadows Family Services, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ female staff at the Broadmeadows Women's Community House.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted that:

- the Broadmeadows Women's Community House has been a women-only venue for the past 25 years. The House provides a range of support services for women and children victims of family violence, as well as occasional day care for children of either gender up to the age of 6;
- the Tribunal previously granted an exemption to the applicant in 2004 for a particular position at the House;
- it is appropriate that the applicant continue providing its programs for women only and that it be able to recruit female-only staff for this purpose.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ female staff at the Broadmeadows Women's Community House.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 28 October 2007.

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by Aboriginal Community Services Association Limited (the applicant), for exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a female Indigenous to the position of Female Indigenous Community Facilitator Worker for the Aboriginal Best Start Project in Horsham.

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application by Jennifer Beer, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a female Indigenous to the position of Female Indigenous Community Facilitator Worker for the Aboriginal Best Start Project in Horsham.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted that:

- the Best Start Program in the Horsham region is aimed at improving the health, education and well-being of Indigenous families in the area, by targeting the delivery of appropriate services to Indigenous women and their children;
- a female Indigenous worker will more effectively meet the needs of the Indigenous community within which the project will operate.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a female Indigenous to the position of Female Indigenous Community Facilitator Worker for the Aboriginal Best Start Project in Horsham.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 28 October 2007.

Dated 22 October 2004

- there are approximately 4,000 Indigenous people living in the Southern Metropolitan Region. The position to be filled is part of the Social and Community Strategy Unit, one of three Indigenous organisations funded by the Department in the region;
- the position supports service and community development addressing the aspirations and needs of the Indigenous community in the region. It is important that a person with the appropriate cultural knowledge and background be appointed to the position, to enable more effective development of policy or delivery of services.

REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT
Co-operative Housing Societies
Regulations 2005

Notice is given in accordance with section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 that a Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) has been prepared in relation to the proposed Co-operative Housing Societies Regulations 2005.

The reason for the proposed regulations is to prescribe fees, forms, model rules and such other things as give efficacy to the Co-operative Housing Societies Act 1958. The proposed regulations will replace the Co-operative Housing Societies Regulations 1995, which sunset in February 2005.

The objectives of the proposed regulations are to protect members of co-operative housing societies and promote efficiency in dealings between societies and the Registrar of Co-operative Housing Societies.

The RIS concludes that overall, the benefits of the proposed regulations outweigh the costs, that they would not impose a restriction on competition, and that the proposed regulations are the best way to meet the stated objectives.

Public comments are invited on the RIS and accompanying regulations. Copies may be obtained by contacting Amy Chilton at the Department of Treasury and Finance on (03) 9651 0946 or by accessing www.dtf.vic.gov.au.

Written submissions will be received at the following address up to 5.00 pm on Friday 26 November 2004: Amy Chilton, Financial Risk Management and Policy, Department of Treasury and Finance, GPO Box 4379QQ, Melbourne 3001 or by e-mail to amy.chilton@dtf.vic.gov.au.
