EXEMPTION

Application No. A 153/2004

The Victorian Civil & Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by Metropolitan Watching Pty Ltd (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and appoint persons of a particular gender as security guards.

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ persons of a particular gender as security guards.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted that it has previously granted an exemption of this kind for another company in the security industry; that women are under-represented in the security guard industry; that there is a demand from retail outlets for gender-specific security guards to patrol around male and female changing rooms in such outlets; and that there is also a demand for gender-specific security guards at venues such as swimming pools and health centres. The Tribunal also noted that the applicant already employs a number of male security guards but needs to recruit additional male and female security guards from time to time to meet the growing demand from clients for gender-specific security guards in particular venues or areas catering for male or female customers.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ persons of a particular gender as security guards.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 27 May 2007.

Dated 19 May 2004.
