Minister for PlanningSubordinate Legislation Act 1994*Magistrates' Court Act 1989MAGISTRATES' COURT (FEES, COSTS AND CHARGES) (AMENDMENT)
REGULATIONS 2005

Notice of Regulatory Impact Statement

Notice is given in accordance with Section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 that a Regulatory Impact Statement has been prepared in relation to the proposed Magistrates' Court (Fees, Costs and Charges) (Amendment) Regulations 2005.

The proposed regulations will be made under section 140 of the Magistrates' Court Act 1989.

The objective of the proposed regulations is to increase fees for the commencement of civil proceedings in the Magistrates' Court if the amount claimed exceeds $40,000.

The Magistrates' Court has both civil and criminal jurisdictions. Until 2005, its civil jurisdiction was limited to claims with a value of up to $40,000.

As a result of amendments made to the Magistrates' Court Act 1989, the civil jurisdiction of the Magistrates' Court was increased from $40,000 to $100,000, effective from 1 January 2005.

The Magistrates' Court (Fees, Costs and Charges) Regulations 2001 (the principal regulations) set out filing fees that are payable when a matter is listed in the Magistrates' Court. Since the increase in the Magistrates' Court civil jurisdiction came into effect on 1 January 2005, the same filing fee is payable for all disputes from $10,000 up to the new jurisdictional limit of $100,000. It is considered that having a single fee covering such a wide range of dispute amounts is inconsistent with the general approach taken in the principal regulations of setting differential filing fees depending on the amount in dispute.

The proposed Magistrates' Court (Fees, Costs and Charges) (Amendment) Regulations 2005 would add a new filing fee of 29.4 fee units ($300.80) for civil disputes where the amount in dispute was between $40,001 and $100,000. The determination of the proposed fee has been carried out within the context of principles which establish that while the provision of a justice system constitutes a core function of government and the costs of civil dispute resolution are appropriately borne to a large extent by government, it is also generally expected that parties to a dispute make some contribution to the cost of the resolution of their disputes.

After examining the current lodgement fees, the costs of the operation of the Magistrates' and County Courts and the revenue impact of setting the new initiation fee at different levels, the Regulatory Impact Statement concludes that the proposed fee of 29.4 fee units ($300.80) is the appropriate lodgement fee for civil matters where the amount in dispute is between $40,001 and $100,000. The fee is also generally consistent with practice in other jurisdictions.

A copy of the Regulatory Impact Statement and the proposed Regulations can be obtained by writing to the Regulations Officer, Court Services, Department of Justice, Level 1/436 Lonsdale Street, Melbourne Vic. 3000.

Written submissions are invited and will be received up to 28 days from the date of publication of this notice.

Accident Compensation Act 1985DECLARATION UNDER PARAGRAPH (j) OF
THE DEFINITION OF "REMUNERATION" IN SECTION 5(1)

I, Rob Hulls, Minister for WorkCover, being the Minister responsible for administering the Accident Compensation Act 1985 ("the Act"), pursuant to paragraph (j) of the definition of "remuneration" in section 5(1) of the Act ("paragraph (j)"), declare any apprentice who meets the following criteria to be an apprentice to which paragraph (j) applies:

1. the apprentice is employed by an employer ("the current employer") under a training agreement made in accordance with a training scheme approved by the Victorian Learning and Employment Skills Commission ("the Commission") under section 51 of the Vocational Education and Training Act 1990 ("an approved training scheme"); and
2. within the period of two years prior to the commencement of the training agreement:
 - a. the apprentice has not been employed at all by his or her current employer or a former employer; or
 - b. if the apprentice has been so employed, the period or periods in aggregate of employment with his or her:
 - i. current employer; or
 - ii. former employer or former employers; or
 - iii. current employer and the former employer or former employers must not have exceeded twelve months, of which any period (or periods in aggregate) of full time employment must not have exceeded three months except where at the commencement of the training agreement, the apprentice was:
 - i. aged under nineteen years; and
 - ii. had previously worked for the current employer while undertaking studies at a state school or other registered school within the meaning of the Education Act 1958; and
 - iii. had not previously commenced a training agreement with the current employer or a former employer; and
3. if the apprentice has been employed as an apprentice under more than one training agreement with his or her:
 - a. current employer; or
 - b. former employer or former employers; or
 - c. current employer and the former employer or former employers made in accordance with an approved training scheme, the time elapsed between any two of the training agreements must have been less than three months; and
4. if the apprentice is a trainee employed under a training agreement on or after 1 January 2005 and is paid or is payable total annual remuneration that does not exceed the sum of $30,000 ("remuneration threshold").

If the trainee is engaged in a part-time traineeship, the remuneration threshold shall be reduced in accordance with the formula:

$$P = C \times (H/38)$$

where:

'P' is the reduced remuneration threshold for a part-time apprentice;

'C' is the remuneration threshold; and

'H' is the number of hours each week that the apprentice is required to attend work or training as specified in the training agreement.

Where a trainee completes or withdraws from or has cancelled a training course during a premium policy period, the remuneration threshold shall be reduced in accordance with the formula:

$$F = C \times (M/12)$$

where:

‘F’ is the reduced remuneration threshold for apprentices that finish a training agreement in whatever manner, whether it be completion, cancellation or withdrawal;

‘C’ is the remuneration threshold (or any amount calculated for ‘P’ in the formula used to calculate the remuneration threshold for part-time trainees); and

‘M’ is the number of months in which the apprentice was engaged under the training agreement (including the month in which the training agreement ceased), and

5. in the case of an apprentice who is a trainee who has been supplied to a previous employer of that trainee by another person, whether or not that person is an employer of the trainee, where the training agreement commenced with the previous employer and otherwise meets the requirements of this Declaration.

For the purposes of this Declaration:

- (1) “trainee” means an apprentice was engaged under a training agreement made in accordance with a training scheme to which the Commission has determined that sections 58(1), 59(2), (3) and (4), 60(1)(d) and 62 of the Vocational Education and Training Act 1990 do not apply in accordance with section 51(2)(a) of that Act.
- (2) “remuneration threshold” means the trainee remuneration threshold set out in paragraph 4. The remuneration threshold shall be adjusted in accordance with the movement in the average weekly earnings for all employees in Victoria, using the latest figures published by the Australian Statistician annually as at 30 May. This annual indexation of the remuneration threshold is consistent with the annual indexation of compensation under section 100 of the Accident Compensation Act 1985.
- (3) “former employer” means:
 - a. any person who is or was a member of a group with the apprentice’s current employer within the meaning of section 66 of the Accident Compensation (WorkCover Insurance) Act 1993; or
 - b. a predecessor employer; or
 - c. a person who is provided the labour of a previous employee to perform work in their business by a third person; or
 - d. where an employer provides the services of an employee to a third person, a person who has supplied the services of the same employee to the same third person.
- (4) an employer is a “predecessor employer” of another employer (“the current employer”) in relation to an apprentice of the current employer if:
 - e. the employer transferred to the current employer the whole of the business or other undertaking, or an asset of the business or other undertaking, in or in relation to which the apprentice was employed by the employer before the transfer; and
 - f. the apprentice is employed by the current employer solely or principally in the transferred business or other undertaking, or in utilising the asset in the business or other undertaking of the current employer.
- (5) “employed” includes “engaged as a contractor” but, except in paragraph 3, does not include “employed as an apprentice”.

I hereby revoke the previous declaration dated 23 June 1999 under paragraph (j).

This instrument has effect from 1 July 2005.

Dear Mr Eastham

On 6 April 2004, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) received applications for authorisation (Nos A90915, A90916, and A90917) of derogations from Chapter 7 of the National Electricity Code. The stated purpose of the applications is to extend Victoria's derogations from chapter 7 of the National Electricity Code regarding the metering arrangements for small customers in Victoria.

Please find enclosed a copy of the ACCC's final determination, which outlines its analysis and views on the derogations. The ACCC proposes to authorise the derogations, subject to a condition of authorisation.

A person dissatisfied with the final determination may apply to the Australian Competition Tribunal for its review.
