EXEMPTION

Application No. A91 of 2005

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by St Luke's Anglicare (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ either a male or female worker to ensure that clients have access to either male or female staff as appropriate for St Luke's Anglicare Intensive Case Management Services ("the specified conduct").

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including an affidavit of Andrew McCallum of St Luke's Anglicare, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- St Luke's Anglicare provides welfare services to children, young people, families and individuals who experience various disabilities. These include a lack of appropriate housing, exclusion from educational systems, lack of material and financial resources, can be victims of physical and emotional abuse, mental, cognitive and physical disabilities, substance abuse or display inappropriate social behaviour.
- St Luke's Anglicare Intensive Case Management Service aims to provide intensive support and case management to "at risk" young people (12–18 years) involved in the Child Protection and Juvenile Justice Systems.
- A number of the clients of the applicant have experienced abuse perpetrated by a male or female or have made allegations of sexual assault in the past and consequently the allocation of a male or female worker is required to ensure a non-threatening experience for the client.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 28 April 2008.

Dated 18 April 2005

Vice President

EXEMPTION

Application No. A106/2005

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Court Services, Department of Justice. The application is for renewal of exemption A183 of 2002 which is due to expire on 4 July 2005. The exemption sought is to enable the applicant to engage in the following specified conduct, which is to advertise for and employ, as Koori Court Officers, persons who:

- are descended from an Aborigine or Torres Strait Islander; and
- identify as an Aborigine or Torres Strait Islander; and
- are accepted as an Aborigine or Torres Strait Islander by an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Island community.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including an affidavit of Ms Janelle Morgan, Director, Court Services, Department of Justice, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted that an exemption in similar terms was granted in June 2002 and is scheduled to expire in July 2005.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which the notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 28 April 2008.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A104/2005

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (the Tribunal) has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act), by the Girl Guides Association of Victoria (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the calling for nominations and appointing women under 30 years of age to the Girl Guides Association of Victoria's Governing Body (the State Executive Committee) ("the specified conduct").

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Wendy Lewis, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 42, 60, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted that:

- The Girl Guides Association of Victoria is part of a world wide movement of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts and is a voluntary organisation which provides girls and young women with non-formal education programs.
- The Girl Guides Association of Victoria contains two youth membership categories represented by members aged 5 to 18 years old and members aged 18 to 30 years.
- The grant of the exemption will enable the applicant's two youth membership categories of 5 to 18 years and 18 to 30 years to be represented at the Girl Guides Association of Victoria's Governing Body in line with the interests of the organisation.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 42, 60, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A105/2005

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Court Services, Department of Justice. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to engage in the following specified conduct, which is to advertise for and employ, as Children's Koori Court Officers, persons who:

- are descended from an Aborigine or Torres Strait Islander; and
- identify as an Aborigine or Torres Strait Islander; and
- are accepted as an Aborigine or Torres Strait Islander by an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Island community.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including an affidavit of Ms Janelle Morgan, Director, Court Services, Department of Justice, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted that:

- The Victorian Aboriginal Justice Agreement (VAJA), a joint initiative between the Department of Justice, the Department of Human Services, the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Commission and the Victorian Aboriginal Justice Advisory Committee, maximises Aboriginal participation in the development of policies and programs in all areas of the justice system.
- The VAJA aims to:
 - address the ongoing issue of Aboriginal over-representation within all levels of the criminal justice system;
 - improve Aboriginal access to justice related services; and
 - promote greater awareness in the Aboriginal community of their civil, legal and political rights.
- A key initiative of the VAJA was the establishment of an adult Koori Court in Victoria. The establishment of the Children's Koori Court is an extension of that program.

- An exemption in similar terms was granted in June 2002.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which the notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 28 April 2008.

Application No. A108/2005

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by Child and Family Services Ballarat (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ either male or female staff to ensure that a specified mix of genders is achieved, and to allocate tasks according to the gender of the successful applicants for the Ballarat Family Violence Court Counselling program ("the specified conduct").

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including an affidavit of Mr Kevin Zibell, Chief Executive Officer of Child and Family Services Ballarat, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Child and Family Services Ballarat is a non-Government, community-based welfare organisation.
- Child and Family Services Ballarat won a tender to auspice a Family Violence Court Counselling Program, and is required by the specifications of that tender to ensure:
 - that each men's behaviour change group will have at least one male and one female facilitator;

- that a female agency program worker will be required to initiate contact with (former) partners of directed clients;
- that where children's groups are facilitated by two people, the facilitators will be of different genders.
- The fundamental aim of the Family Violence Court Counselling Programs is to change and decrease the violent behaviour of men who perpetrate violence upon their partners and family members.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.
