EXEMPTION

Application No. A190 of 2005

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by the Riding for the Disabled Association of Victoria Inc (RDAV). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant's equestrian coaches to refuse to allow a person to ride any of the applicant's horses if the coach considers that because of the person's weight, height, build, balance or size or because of the height, size, weight, age, condition or build of the horse, it would be unsafe for the person to ride that horse or for the horse to carry that person ("the specified conduct").

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 42, 60, 65, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- the application is to allow qualified equestrian coaches to refuse to accept potential riders if they are assessed as being too heavy for the horses available. The assessment of appropriate rider weight is a matter of judgement and not something that can be strictly quantified because of a number of variables including the size, build, age and condition of the horse and the weight, height, balance and size of the rider;
- the applicant's horses are generally aged and passed on to RDAV because they can no longer perform as their owners would wish and are generally calmer and more patient than younger horses. Riders with disabilities generally sit heavier than able-bodied riders;

- RDAV prefers to use horses that are not too large as it is often necessary for safety reasons for helpers to walk on either side of the horse to stabilize the rider;
- each of the horses needs to be able to be used for a number of riders and it is not always possible to have a horse that will suit a particular individual's needs; and
- the applicant was previously granted an exemption to engage in the specified conduct which expired on 8 May 2005.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 42, 60, 65, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 14 July 2008.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A191 of 2005

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Darebin Community Health. The exemption sought is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ persons from time to time who are female and of an Indigenous background as Koori Liaison Workers ("the specified conduct").

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including an affidavit of Ms Vicky Mason, Chief Executive Officer, Darebin Community Health, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted that:

- Darebin Community Health is an independent community health service providing a wide range of health, medical, social support and health promotion services to the community of Darebin;
- in the 2001 census, over 1087 Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders (ATSI) were recorded as residing in Darebin, representing 9% of the total ATSI community living in Melbourne;
- members of the ATSI community have the poorest health and lowest life expectancy of any group in Australia;
- Darebin Community Health has run an affirmative action program targeting the ATSI population since 1996 to improve access to its services; and
- the Koori Liaison Worker is responsible for assisting ATSI clients to access services at Darebin Community Health, including medical, dental, allied health, counselling and hospital admission risk programs.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which the notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 14 July 2008.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A193 of 2005

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by Women's Health Loddon Mallee. The application is for renewal of exemption A125 of 2002 which expired on 30 May 2005 for exemption from Sections 13, 59, 60, 100(1) and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only women to work in the applicant health service, and to restrict membership of the service to women only ("the specified conduct").

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including an affidavit of Ms Jennifer Alden, Executive Officer of Women's Health Loddon Mallee, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 59, 60, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted that:

- an exemption in similar terms was granted in May 2002;
- Women's Health Loddon Mallee is a regional women's health service.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 59, 60, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 14 July 2008.

Chiropractors Registration Act 1996IN THE MATTER OF A FORMAL HEARING
PURSUANT TO SECTIONS 23 AND 42 CONCERNING THE CONDUCT OF MARK PETER PEARSON-GILLS, A REGISTERED CHIROPRACTOR

Notice of Determination

1. On 4 July 2005, a Panel of the Chiropractors Registration Board of Victoria ("Panel") found as a result of an inquiry conducted pursuant to Sections 23 and 42 of the Chiropractors Registration Act 1996 ("Act") that Mark Peter Pearson-Gills of Knox Family Chiropractor, 2A, 426 Burwood Highway, Wantirna South had engaged in unprofessional conduct of a serious nature with a patient in that on or about February 2004 he had:
 - a. engaged in unprofessional conduct with an infant patient that he was treating, in that he recommended a course of care (including treatment or consultations) which, having regard to the child's condition, was not necessary, appropriate or in the interests of the patient, was more frequent than justified, was not required for the well-being of the patient and did not have regard to the individual needs of the patient; and
 - b. engaged in unprofessional conduct with an infant patient that he was treating, in that he recommended or tried to induce the infant's mother to enter into a payment, care, treatment and consultation regime the characteristics of which were not appropriate, fair or in the interests of the patient or her mother.
2. The Panel found that both of the allegations were proven.
3. As a result of the above findings, the Panel determined that:
 - (i) Dr. Pearson-Gills undergo further education at his expense with a body to be approved by the Chiropractors Registration Board. Such education is to include patient management, case history taking, patient examinations, diagnosis and management plan and professional ethics, with particular reference to children under the age of 12 years. The education program is to commence within three months, and is to be completed within twelve months of commencement. A report concerning the educational process learnt, and the intended implementation of that process is to be provided by Dr. Pearson-Gills at the completion of the educational course. The final nature and content of this report is to be at the discretion of the Chiropractors Registration Board of Victoria. It is the intention of the Panel that at the conclusion of the educational process, the chiropractor is able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Board that he implements, and continues to implement, the practices enunciated within the educational process.
 - (ii) Dr. Pearson-Gills is to undergo a mentoring component to this educational process. The mentor is to be chosen by Dr. Pearson-Gills from a list of recommended chiropractors proposed by the Chiropractors Registration Board of Victoria. The mentoring process should commence within three months of the determination and will continue as long as deemed necessary by the Board. Regular reporting mechanisms, the exact nature and contents to be forwarded by the Board, will be implemented at the discretion and direction of the Board. As well, Dr. Pearson-Gills is to take reasonable steps to implement any recommendations made by the mentor in alignment with the Board's requirements. These are to include, but not be limited to practising procedures in relation to communication, protocol of self and staff, documentation with patients referring to diagnosis, treatment plans, payment plans, his relationship with patients, his practice and professional ethics. As well, as directed by the Board, the mentor, or some other person as directed by the Board, will regularly conduct an audit of Dr. Pearson-Gills' practice to ensure that he has complied, and continues to comply, with the conditions as set out by the Board. The expense of this process and each of the elements within the process, is to be borne by Dr. Pearson-Gills.

- (iii) The compliance of Dr. Pearson-Gills with the determinations of this Panel in respect to the questions of education and mentoring be a condition on the on-going registration of Dr. Pearson-Gills. That the Chiropractors Registration Board of Victoria make further determinations with regard to the on-going registration of Dr. Pearson-Gills upon conclusion of the education process and the mentoring period.
- (iv) That the registration of Dr. Pearson-Gills be suspended for a period of four months. That the commencement of the period of suspension be delayed for a period of eight weeks from today (4 July 2005) to allow Dr. Pearson-Gills to make any necessary arrangements with regard to his current patients and to his practice.
