The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Bairnsdale Regional Health Service. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and appoint a male Koori Hospital Liaison Officer.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and appoint a male Koori Hospital Liaison Officer.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Bairnsdale Regional Health Service is involved in a Koori Health Engagement Plan in line with the 'Improving Care for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander patients (ICAP)' government policy.
- A female Koori Hospital Liaison Officer is currently employed.
- A male Koori Hospital Liaison Officer will facilitate workload and cultural sensitivity concerns.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act

1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and appoint a male Koori Hospital Liaison Officer.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 13 April 2009.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A92/2006

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Elizabeth Hoffman House Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to offer membership of the organisation to women of Australian Aboriginal descent only.

Upon reading the material submitted by Rose Solomon in support of the application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 59, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to offer membership of the organisation to women of Australian Aboriginal descent only.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Elizabeth Hoffman House provides crisis accommodation to Aboriginal women and children experiencing domestic violence.
- Aboriginal women are reluctant to access mainstream services as they are not usually trusting of non-aboriginal people.
- Employing female Aboriginal staff will enable clients to receive the most appropriate culturally relevant support.
- Elizabeth Hoffman House has an exemption, Number 375 of 2003, valid until 23 October 2006, to enable it to advertise and employ female Aboriginal staff only.
- The service seeks to ensure the safety of Aboriginal women and their children escaping domestic violence.
- Male membership may compromise the safety of women and children.
- Elizabeth Hoffman House is an Aboriginal women's organisation run by Aboriginal women for Aboriginal women.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 59, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to offer membership of the organisation to women of Australian Aboriginal descent only.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 13 April 2009.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A100/2006

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (the Tribunal) has considered an application, pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act), by Inner South Community Health Service (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a women's partner contact worker, being a female, in the Men's Responsibility Program.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Virginia Alexander, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 42, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a women's partner contact worker, being a female, in the Men's Responsibility Program.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The position provides first contact with women and children family members of men participating in a men's behaviour change program, which is a program which works to increase the safety and wellbeing of women and children by changing the attitudes and behaviour of men who are violent and by providing support to family members.
- The women's partner contact worker provides assessment, referral and response to the safety and support needs of women and children experiencing family violence.
- Women and children family members of men in the program are routinely contacted and offered ongoing support.

- Initial contact must be made by a female worker according to the State recognised standard for men's behaviour change programs (Men's Behaviour Change Group Work Minimum Standards and Quality Practice – "No To Violence" – 2006) and the ongoing funding agreement requires the applicant to meet the "No To Violence" standards.
- Ongoing contact with a female worker must be available for those women wishing to continue to speak only to another woman.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 42, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a women's partner contact worker, being a female, in the Men's Responsibility Program.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 13 April 2009.

The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ an Indigenous Australian to undertake liaison with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities on behalf of the applicant.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Patricia Burrows, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 42, 190 and 192 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ an Indigenous Australian to undertake liaison with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities on behalf of the applicant.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant provides services which promote the welfare and advancement of Indigenous young people and their communities.
- The applicant needs appropriate support and advice for its staff in carrying out these services.
- These services and the support and advice to the staff of the applicant can be provided most effectively by an Indigenous Australian with specific knowledge relating to Indigenous cultural beliefs, practices and protocols.
