EXEMPTION

Application No. A322/2007

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Murray Mallee Community Legal Service (through its manager, Teresa Jayet). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to provide women's outreach services to the Northern Mallee area of northwest Victoria and southwest New South Wales, and to advertise for and employ a female solicitor for that purpose ('the specified conduct').

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 42, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant organisation is auspiced by Mallee Family Care Inc., and the Women's Outreach Program is funded by Victoria Legal Aid;
- The program provides legal assistance, advice and casework services to women living in isolated or remote areas and who, because of this, are at a disadvantage in accessing justice. In particular, the service is provided to women who are experiencing or have experienced domestic violence at the hands of men. These women, because of that experience, prefer to communicate about legal issues with another woman, and are more likely to be able to communicate more openly with another woman;

- The program is free of charge and includes a weekly outreach service and support services in connection with intervention order application in the Mildura Magistrates' Court;
- The demand for the program's services is increasing, and no opposition to the program has been expressed to the applicant.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 42, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 21 November 2010.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A312/2007

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 by the University of Melbourne for exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of that Act. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct. In this exemption, 'specified conduct' means to advertise for and employ Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander (ATSI) people only in up to thirty professional and/or academic positions as follows –

- (a) professional or academic positions at any level (except professorial level) in any of the following Indigenous Centres of the University –
- The Indigenous Studies Program;
  - The Centre for Indigenous Education;
  - Onemda VicHealth Koori Health Unit;
  - The Wilin Centre (for Indigenous Arts and Cultural Development);
  - The Indigenous Research Network;
  - Academy of Sport, Health and Education (a partnership between the University and the Indigenous Community through the Rumbalara Football and Netball Club, Shepparton);

- (b) Professional staff positions at level HEW1, 2 or 3 in any of the faculties or departments of the University, other than the Indigenous Centres; and
- (c) Academic or research staff positions at level AA or level A in any of the faculties or departments of the University, other than the Indigenous Centres.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application and upon hearing oral submissions from Ms Kylie Kinsela on 24 October 2007, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Statistics from the Australian Bureau of Statistics and the Commonwealth Department of Education, Science and Training show that ATSI people are still at a substantial disadvantage in higher education and employment than non-Indigenous Australians;
- ATSI people have an unemployment rate more than three times that of the national Australian population;
- Seven per cent of ATSI people have university qualifications compared with 23% of the national Australian population;
- Retention rates of ATSI people in higher education are less than for non-Indigenous Australians. Half of the ATSI people who commence a university qualification complete it, approximately two thirds the rate for non-Indigenous Australians;
- In 2004, the proportion of ATSI people on the staff of higher education institutions was 1% or less;
- This exemption application aims to address some of the above kinds of disadvantage and to encourage ATSI people to commence and complete higher education, including post-graduate qualifications, and to join the staff at higher education institutions;
- To encourage this to occur, it is desirable that there be a critical mass of ATSI higher education staff at this university, so that there can be proper mentoring and appropriate role models, and so that ATSI staff do not experience cultural isolation. The more ATSI academic and professional staff who come to the University, the more ATSI staff are likely to come in the future, and the greater will be the spread of knowledge and awareness about higher education staff opportunities among ATSI communities;

- Greater numbers of ATSI staff at the University will reduce the current burden on the relatively small numbers of ATSI staff to provide representation on University committees and panels;
- There is a special need for ATSI staff in the Indigenous Centres of the University because of the special responsibilities which these Centres have for liaising with Indigenous communities and providing culturally-appropriate support for Indigenous students; and
- The exemption is supported by the University at its most senior management level.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the specified conduct.

The exemption is subject to the condition that each of the positions to be advertised as open to ATSI people only must be the subject of an Indigenous labour market analysis, which takes into account Indigenous disadvantage and the kinds of candidate fields that might be available.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 21 November 2010.

Dated 13 November 2007

Deputy President

1. Advertise and employ women only as staff members;
2. Advertise and employ women only as board members;
3. Advertise and /or appoint women only as volunteers;

5. Confine participation in programs and workshops of Women's Circus Ltd to women only;
6. Confine participation in any activity of Women's Circus Ltd deemed appropriate by the board of directors to further its purposes under its constitution to women only.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The Women's Circus has been approved for past exemptions A426–2002 and A427–2002 and A39–2000 and A48–1996;
- The Women's Circus aims to create a safe environment and healing space for women who are sexual assault victims;
