Subordinate Legislation Act 1994REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENTS FOR REGULATIONS PROPOSED
UNDER THE EDUCATION AND TRAINING REFORM ACT 2006

Notice is given under section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 that Regulatory Impact Statements (RISs) have been prepared in relation to the following proposed regulations:

- (a) Education and Training Reform (Registration of Schools) Regulations 2007, which set out the minimum standards and processes for the initial and ongoing registration of government and non-government schools;
- (b) Education and Training Reform (Registration of Education and Training Organisations) Regulations 2007, which set out the minimum standards and processes for the initial and ongoing registration of vocational education and training providers, senior secondary education providers and bodies wishing to award either vocational education and training qualifications or senior secondary qualifications;
- (c) Education and Training Reform (Registration of Home Schooling) Regulations 2007, which set out the requirements and processes for the registration of students being home schooled; and
- (d) Education and Training Reform (Education) Regulations 2007, which update the Education Regulations 2000 to reflect changes in the Education and Training Reform Act 2006 and current school education policy.

The regulations referred to in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) above are new and have been developed to prescribe minimum standards and processes for registration under the Education and Training Reform Act 2006. They relate specifically to the responsibilities of the Victorian Registration and Qualifications Authority, a new statutory body to be responsible for the registration of all education and training providers (except universities established under their own Acts), the accreditation of courses and the recognition of qualifications. The regulations will enable the new Authority to fulfil its legislative requirements set out in the Act.

The regulations referred to in paragraph (d) have been updated to reflect the correct references to the relevant parts of the new Act, and the current Victorian education policy context.

The regulations referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) have been considered in a combined RIS. The other regulations have stand-alone RISs. Each RIS assesses the relative costs and benefits of the proposed regulations, and explores alternative means of achieving the same objectives. They each conclude that the introduction of the proposed regulations is expected to provide greater net benefits to government and Victorians than the 'base case' or other practicable alternatives.

Copies of the RISs and proposed regulations can be downloaded from the Department of Education's website at www.education.vic.gov.au and are also available from the Department's Legislation Implementation Unit on (03) 9637 3207.

Public comments and submissions are invited until 5.00 pm on Friday 30 March 2007 and may be emailed to legislation.implementation@edumail.vic.gov.au (with 'Regulations Submission' in the subject line), or sent in hard copy to: Legislation Implementation Unit, Regulations Submission, Department of Education, GPO Box 4367, Melbourne, Vic. 3001. All comments and submissions will be treated as public documents.
