The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to Section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Brenda House Inc.. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to accommodate women and children only in the service and to employ women only as staff of the service (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Brenda House provides a crisis accommodation refuge service for women and children only who are experiencing and escaping from domestic violence.
- Brenda House is a non-profit organisation receiving a funding subsidy from the Department of Human Services for this purpose.
- The accommodation must be a safe environment to allow women to consider a range of options to redirect their futures.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 June 2010.

NOTICE OF DECISION

Water (Resource Management)
Regulations 2007

I, John Thwaites, Minister for Water, Environment and Climate Change and Minister responsible for administering the Water Act 1989, give notice under section 12 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 as follows:

A Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) was prepared in relation to the proposed Water (Resource Management) Regulations 2007. The objectives of the proposed Regulations are to prescribe –

- fees for applications to the Minister relating to water shares, water allocations and related dealings under the Water Act 1989; and
- fees for lodging documents with the Registrar of the water register or making recordings in the water register under the Water Act 1989; and
- fees for applications to amend or search the water register under the Water Act 1989; and
- persons who may search the water register for specified information or records under the Water Act 1989.

The RIS was advertised seeking public comment and 1 submission was received.

After further considering the proposed Regulations, I have decided that the proposed Regulations should be made with amendments to –

- ensure fees included in the proposed Regulations are based on the 2007/8 fee unit value and therefore accurately reflect the fees as described in the RIS;
- correct a typographical error;
- rectify the omission of a category of water share group application to ensure there is only one fee charged for group applications including an application for the interstate trade of water.

Subordinate Legislation Act 1994

NOTICE OF DECISION

Education and Training Reform
Regulations 2007

I, John Lenders, Minister for Education and Minister responsible for administering the Education and Training Reform Act 2006, give notice under section 12 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 of my decision to recommend to the Governor in Council that the proposed Education and Training Reform Regulations 2007 be made.

Regulatory Impact Statements (RISs) were published on 22 February 2007 in relation to the proposed regulations, and public comment by written submission was invited. The objective of the proposed regulations is to:

- set out the minimum standards and processes for the initial and ongoing registration of government and non-government schools;
- set out the minimum standards and processes for the initial and ongoing registration of vocational education and training providers, senior secondary education providers and bodies wishing to award either vocational education and training qualifications or senior secondary qualifications;
- set out the requirements and processes for the registration of students being home schooled; and
- update the Education Regulations 2000 to reflect changes in the Education and Training Reform Act 2006 and current school education policy.

The regulations also relate specifically to the responsibilities of the Victorian Registration and Qualifications Authority, a new statutory body to be responsible for the registration of all education and training providers (except universities established under their own Acts), the accreditation of courses and the recognition of qualifications. The regulations will enable the new Authority to fulfil its legislative requirements set out in the Education and Training Reform Act 2006.

The regulations also contain the former Teaching Service (Appeals) Regulations 2005 which set out the prescribed forms to be used by teachers in making appeals to the Merit Protection Board or Disciplinary Appeals Boards, and the former Victorian Institute of Teaching (Elections) Regulations 2002 which set out the procedures for the Institute's Council elections. These regulations were not subject to RISs as they are of a machinery and declaratory nature only.

Twenty-nine submissions were received from various individuals and stakeholder bodies during the RIS consultation period. After considering the submissions, I have decided that the proposed regulations be made, with amendments including:

- the definition of ‘not for profit’ schools modified to ensure schools retain their existing capacity to undertake activities related to the conduct of the school, including the application of funds from fund-raising activities;
- a regulation added requiring schools “to have processes in place which enable it to plan for, and achieve improvement in, student learning outcomes” to ensure that a minimum standard for student learning outcomes is required through the Authority by regulation;
- an addition made to the Application for the Registration of a Child for Home Schooling (Schedule) to require the person seeking to register the child to disclose (i) if there is any order of a court or tribunal, or any enforceable agreement, which might affect the access of the person to the child and hence prevent them from providing home schooling; and (ii) if there is any court order or enforceable agreement in place that specifically relates to home schooling. These additions have been made to ensure the Authority does not unintentionally contravene any such agreements by registering a child for home schooling;
- the exemption from the definition of a school clause modified so as not to exclude some post-compulsory providers from registering as a school, including Registered Training Organisations and Adult Community Education providers;
- making technical amendments and other drafting changes, including improving the consistency of language and clarifying definitions and intent; and
- a consolidation of the previously separate sets of regulations into one overarching set of Education and Training Reform Regulations.

After careful consideration of the submissions received, I now give notice of my intention to proceed with the making of the proposed regulations.

Accident Compensation Act 1985

NOTICE OF INDEXED BENEFIT LEVELS AND OTHER AMOUNTS IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION 100 OF THE ACCIDENT COMPENSATION ACT 1985 AND REGULATION 20 OF THE ACCIDENT COMPENSATION REGULATIONS 2001

Section 100 (1) of the Accident Compensation Act 1985 stipulates that certain amounts in Part IV and in Section 5A of the Act are varied on 1 July each year in line with the movement in the average weekly earnings for all employees in Victoria between the two previous December quarters, using the latest figures published by the Australian Statistician as at 30 May following the previous December quarter. Weekly payments are indexed on the anniversary of the entitlement to weekly payments as detailed in Section 100(2) of the Act.

The average weekly earnings for all employees in Victoria between the December quarter of 2005 and the December quarter 2006 increased from $809.80 to $820.30 which is an increase of 1.30%.

Following legislative changes in December 1997 some amounts are indexed by the rise in Consumer Price Index. The Consumer Price Index between the December quarter of 2005 and the December quarter of 2006 increased from 149.2 to 153.5 which is an increase of 2.88%.

Following legislative changes in December 2003, the formulas for calculating non-economic loss in respect of permanent impairment have been amended. Some amounts of compensation for non-economic loss have been increased in certain circumstances.

Following legislative changes in December 2004 and further changes in June 2005, a formula for calculating non-economic loss in circumstances where there has been a further loss of hearing was inserted into section 98C(3A). This formula applies to further loss of hearing which occurred after 12 November 1997.

Further legislative changes in 2006 increased the lump sum compensation amount available for the death of a worker to $250,000, for a death occurring on or after 1 July 2006.
