ELECTION PETITION

This petition concerns the election of the member of the House of Representatives for the electoral division of McEwen (the division) held on 24 November 2007 (the election).

Return of writ

The writ for the election was returned on 21 December 2007.

Entitlement to file this petition

The petitioner is entitled to file this petition because he was a candidate at the election.

Statement of facts

1. The petitioner was the endorsed candidate of the Australian Labor Party at the election, which was part of the general election of members of the House of Representatives held on 24 November 2007.
2. The first respondent was the endorsed candidate of the Liberal Party of Australia at the election.
3. There were 6 other candidates at the election.
4. From 26 November 2007 to 10 December 2007, the Divisional Returning Officer for the division of McEwen (the DRO) conducted a scrutiny of the ballot-papers in the election in accordance with s 274 of the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 (the Act) at the divisional counting centre in Seymour. After the exclusion of candidates until only two candidates remained in the count and the distribution of preferences from the excluded candidates, the petitioner had 48,416 votes, the first respondent had 48,410 votes and there were 3,823 informal votes.
5. On 10 December 2007, the first respondent made a request under s 279 of the Act that the DRO re-count the ballot-papers in the election; and, on 11 December 2007, the DRO acceded to that request. From 12 December 2007 to 18 December 2007, the DRO conducted the re-count of the ballot-papers in the election, also at the divisional counting centre at Seymour.

6. In the course of the re-count, the DRO reserved approximately 640 ballot-papers for the decision of the Australian Electoral Officer for Victoria (the AEO) in accordance with s 281 of the Act. On 14 December 2007 and 17 December 2007, at the offices of the Australian Electoral Commission in Melbourne, the AEO decided whether each of the ballot-papers so reserved (the reserved ballot-papers) were to be allowed and admitted or disallowed and rejected.
7. In deciding whether to admit or reject the reserved ballot-papers, the AEO admitted ballot-papers that were informal and rejected ballot-papers that were not informal, contrary to ss 268, 274 and 280 of the Act.

Particulars

- (a) The AEO rejected at least 5 ballot-papers on the basis that he was not satisfied that the mark in one square on the ballot paper was the figure 5 rather than the letter S. This decision was made even though in each case the remaining squares on the ballot paper contained the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7 and 8. It was clear from each ballot-paper as a whole that the voter intended the mark in question to be the figure 5. In each such case the ballot-paper was not informal and should not have been rejected.
- (b) The AEO rejected at least 5 ballot-papers on the basis that he was not satisfied that the mark in one square on the ballot paper was the figure 5 rather than the letter J. This decision was made even though in each case the remaining squares on the ballot paper contained the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7 and 8. It was clear from each ballot-paper as a whole that the voter intended the mark in question to be the figure 5. In each such case the ballot-paper was not informal and should not have been rejected.
- (c) The AEO rejected at least 10 ballot-papers on the basis that he was not satisfied that the mark in one square on the ballot paper was the figure 4 rather than the letter Y or the figure 9. This decision was made even though in each case the remaining squares on the ballot paper contained the figures 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7 and 8. It was clear from the ballot-paper as a whole that the voter intended the mark in question to be the figure 4. In each such case the ballot-paper was not informal and should not have been rejected.
- (d) The AEO rejected at least 5 ballot-papers on the basis that he was not satisfied that the mark in one square on the ballot paper was the figure 6 because the bottom loop of the figure was not completely closed. This decision was made even though in each case the remaining squares on the ballot paper contained the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7 and 8. It was clear from the ballot-paper as a whole that the voter intended the mark in question to be the figure 6. In each such case the ballot-paper was not informal and should not have been rejected.
- (e) The AEO rejected 1 ballot-paper on the basis that he was not satisfied that the mark in one square on the ballot paper was the figure 8 rather than 2 zeros, one placed above the other. This decision was made even though the remaining squares on the ballot paper contained the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7. It was clear from the ballot-paper as a whole that the voter intended the mark in question to be the figure 8. In this case the ballot-paper was not informal and should not have been rejected.
- (f) The AEO rejected at least 6 ballot-papers where the voter had marked the figure 1 in one square on the ballot paper and had then crossed that figure out and marked the figure 2 next to it on the basis that he was not satisfied that the crossing out was not the figure 1 and the two marks together formed the figure 21. This decision was made even though in each case the remaining squares on the ballot paper contained the figures 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. It was clear from the ballot-paper as a whole that the voter intended the mark in question to be the figure 2. In each such case the ballot-paper was not informal and should not have been rejected.

- (g) The AEO rejected 2 or 3 ballot-papers where the voter had marked a figure in one square on the ballot paper and had then marked a different figure more heavily over the first figure on the basis that he could not be satisfied which figure had been marked on top of the other. This decision was made even though it was clear from the figures in the remaining squares on the ballot paper which figure the voter had intended to mark in the square in question. In each such case the ballot-paper was not informal and should not have been rejected.
 - (h) The AEO rejected at least 4 ballot-papers where the voter had marked a figure in a square on the ballot paper and had also marked the same figure outside the square. This decision was made even though in each case the squares on the ballot paper contained the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 and the voter's intention was clear. In each such case the ballot-paper was not informal and should not have been rejected.
 - (i) The AEO accepted 1 ballot-paper where the voter had crossed out the names of all candidates in the election and substituted different names on the basis that the squares contained the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. This decision was made even though it was clear that the voter had not intended to indicate, and had not indicated, a preference for any candidate in the election. In this case the ballot-paper was informal and should not have been accepted.
8. Each of the ballot-papers referred to in paragraphs 7(a)–(h) above that was incorrectly rejected by the AEO indicated a preference for the petitioner ahead of the first respondent. The ballot-paper referred to in paragraph 7(i) above that was incorrectly accepted by the AEO indicated a preference for the first respondent ahead of the petitioner.
 9. On or about 18 December 2007 the DRO completed the re-count on the basis of the AEO's decisions in relation to the reserved ballot-papers. After the distribution of preferences and by reason of the AEO's decisions in relation to the reserved ballot-papers, the petitioner had 48,253 votes, the first respondent had 48,265 votes and there were 4,116 informal votes.
 10. On 20 December 2007 the DRO declared the first respondent elected as the member of the House of Representatives for the division of McEwen.
 11. On 21 December 2007, the Electoral Commissioner certified in writing the first respondent as the candidate elected for the division of McEwen, attached the certificate to the writ for the election and returned the writ to the Governor-General.
 12. If the AEO had admitted or rejected the reserved ballot-papers referred to in paragraph 7 above correctly in accordance with ss 268, 274 and 280 of the Act, admitting all ballot-papers marked in accordance with s 240 of the Act and rejecting only those ballot-papers that were informal as prescribed by s 268 of the Act:
 - (1) the petitioner would, after the distribution of preferences of excluded candidates on the recount, have had more votes than the first respondent and would therefore have been elected;
 - (2) the DRO would have declared the petitioner elected as the member of the House of Representatives for the division of McEwen; and
 - (3) the Electoral Commissioner would have certified in writing the petitioner as the candidate elected for the division of McEwen and returned that certificate with the writ for the election to the Governor-General.

Relief

The petitioner asks the Court to make the following orders following the Court's consideration under s 281(3) of the Act of the ballot-papers that were reserved by the DRO for the decision of the AEO:

1. An order declaring that, at the election of the member of the House of Representatives for the electoral division of McEwen held on 24 November 2007, the first respondent was not duly elected.

2. An order declaring that, at the election of the member of the House of Representatives for the electoral division of McEwen held on 24 November 2007, the petitioner was duly elected.

3. An order that the Commonwealth pay the petitioner's costs of this petition.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A35/2008

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Frankston City Council. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to conduct an Australian Muslim Day for women only on Friday 7 March 2008 showing mediums of fashion, food, and discussion (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The one day event is held during the International Women's Day consisting of 'my dress, my image, my choice'. It is for Secondary School girls of year 10–12.
- This is a sensitive cultural event providing an opportunity for these year levels to relate experiences within a safe and trusting environment.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 8 March 2008.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A36/2008

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Northern Family and Domestic Violence Service at Berry Street Victoria. The application for exemption is to enable the Applicant to advertise and employ women only in the Northern Family and Domestic Service at Berry Street Victoria (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The majority of the perpetrators of family and domestic violence are male and the overwhelming majority of the victims of this violence are female.
- The Northern Family and Domestic Service provides a service that it appropriately targeted towards women only. Women may experience re-traumatisation if they are expected to disclose experiences to a male worker. It is appropriate, in this instance, for women to engage with a female worker only.
- Berry Street Victoria can provide a greater access to its service if it provides a service to female victims of family and domestic violence given by female workers only.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 February 2011.
