EXEMPTION

Application No. A89/2008

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Tenants Union of Victoria Ltd, ACN 081 348 227. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and appoint volunteer female workers as volunteer tutors for the Somali Women's Community Enterprise Project (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- There is a pronounced gender divide within the Somali community. The viability of this tutor program may be significantly impaired with male tutors, as Somali women may feel unable to participate.
- Somali women may feel uneasy or threatened if they were to participate in the tutor program when their tutor is male, and tuition is to take place in their homes.

- Undertaking the volunteer program with male tutors could be viewed as culturally inappropriate by the Somali community and thus undermine the legitimacy of the project.
- A female volunteer tutor could more appropriately respond to questions regarding women's issues that may arise throughout the course of the program, particularly in regard to women's health, domestic violence or being a single mother.
- A high proportion of the women are single mothers who have limited or no family support and limited networks.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 April 2011.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A95/2008

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Good Samaritan Inn. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ females only as workers in the residential care facilities (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The Good Samaritan Inn is a refuge for women and children who are homeless.
- Many of these women and children are escaping domestic violence.
- As a residential house it is appropriate that all workers employed are women.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 April 2011.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A96/2008

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by City Of Melbourne. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islanders in trainee and cadet positions under the City of Melbourne's Indigenous Employment Strategy (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- This application lays the foundation for the provision of meaningful training, employment and career opportunities within the City of Melbourne or through partnerships as a stepping stone to further opportunities in public, community based and corporate sectors:—
 - a) Provide short term training and employment opportunities that will assist in long term career aspirations and development for Indigenous Australians.
 - b) Provide long term sustainable employment for Aboriginal and Torres Strait people across Council.
 - c) Provide mentoring, support and career development that secures the retention of employees.

- d) Develop partnerships structured towards the aims of Indigenous employees.
- e) Provide training targeted at improving workplace cultural change within the city of Melbourne.
- Indigenous Australians are identified as one of the most disadvantaged groups in Australia today due to high unemployment and profoundly difficult socio-economic issues. It is recognized that the dispossession of Indigenous Australians from their traditional land due to past government policies caused serious social and economic consequences still faced by the Indigenous community today.
 - The employment rate amongst Indigenous Australian communities is significantly lower than the national average. Commonwealth initiatives such as Indigenous Employment and Training Plan have been developed to address this inequity and at the State level, through the Wur-cum barra, a whole of government Indigenous employment strategy demonstrating a need for government to specially target Indigenous communities. The current plan by the City of Melbourne will assist in addressing employment and training needs of the Indigenous Australian community, and will strive to improve workplace culture through an Indigenous cultural awareness program.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 April 2011.
