EXEMPTION

Application No. A31/2009

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Department of Human Services (DHS) – Public Health Branch (PHB). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander as a Senior Policy Officer (Policy and Evidence) within the Rural and Regional Health and Aged Care Services Division (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- It is best practice, and arguably essential to employ an Indigenous person to fulfil this role, which involves significant liaison with, and understanding of the Indigenous community.
- The DHS PHB Rural and Regional Health and Aged Care Services has responsibility for the full range of health and aged care services in rural and regional Victoria in many key health care areas. Many clients of these services are from the Indigenous Community.
- This position requires specialist expertise in developing good relationships with members of the Victorian Aboriginal Community. The incumbent will be required to have experience in policy development within public health or a closely aligned area and a solid understanding of primary prevention, preventative health frameworks and current directions, as well as an understanding of how prevention works at the community level. Experience in and demonstrated commitment to improving Indigenous health is also a requirement.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 February 2012.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A24/2009

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Uniting Care Ballarat. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ a balance of male and female staff to serve their client group needs (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant provides a 24 hour youth residential withdrawal service;
- If there are more male than female staff overall, female clients may not have access to a female worker for up to 5 days because of shift work arrangements and this can disadvantage both young female clients who often have a history of being physically and/or sexually abused and feel intimidated without contact with other females, and male clients who often request a female worker;
- It is important to maximise the gains that young people experience while they are in the unit and if access to a female or male worker cannot be provided, there is a risk a young person will withdraw from the program and not complete the withdrawal. The same can be said of abused young men who are more comfortable with female staff.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 February 2012.

1. Program Manager;
2. Preschool Assistant;
3. Trainee Receptionist;
4. Aboriginal Youth Support Worker;
5. Aboriginal Male Mental Health Worker.

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- Being an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander is an advantage in all the mentioned positions for acceptance by the Aboriginal Community.
- These positions will enhance the various programs on offer at Mungabareena Aboriginal Corporation.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

Such bodies may be required to comply with FOI by being prescribed in the regulations. By contrast, certain statutory office holders may be prescribed as being exempt from FOI. The proposed regulations seek to identify bodies which, because of their functions, should be subject to FOI, and to balance the objectives of government openness and accountability with the need to protect the independence of certain statutory office holders.

Summary of results of the RIS

The RIS assesses the costs and benefits of the proposed regulations and various alternatives and explains why the proposed regulations are the preferred solution. The proposed regulations are intended to update the current Freedom of Information Regulations 1998 by updating the list of prescribed bodies. Around 50 bodies are prescribed and the number of exempt statutory holders is reduced from seven to the following three: the Solicitor-General, the Director of Public Prosecutions and the Public Advocate.

Availability of RIS

The RIS and draft regulations can be obtained at www.justice.vic.gov.au and available from Civil Law Policy Branch, Department of Justice, Level 24, 121 Exhibition Street, Melbourne, Vic. 3000. All comments must be made in writing, marked 'Freedom of Information RIS' and received by 18 March 2009.

It should be noted that all comments and submissions will be treated as public documents.

Freedom of Information Regulations 2009

Notice is given in accordance with section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 that a Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) has been prepared to assess the impact of the proposed regulations.

Reasons for and objectives of the proposed regulations

The Freedom of Information Act 1982 enables members of the public to seek access to documents held by the Victorian Government, subject to various exceptions and exemptions. There are some bodies within the structure of government which do not automatically fall within the freedom of information (FOI) regime.
