EXEMPTION

Application No. A169/2009

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by North East Catchment Management Authority. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ an Indigenous person to fill a newly created role as Landcare Indigenous Involvement Facilitator based in Wodonga but with travel throughout Victoria (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The primary purpose of this role is to facilitate partnerships between Landcare and Indigenous communities leading to the enhanced environmental outcomes and broader acceptance of Indigenous aspirations and values.
- The position is for a fixed term of 12 months, and aims to implement research recommendations from the report 'Finding common ground: A review of Indigenous engagement in Landcare Victoria'. If the recommendations are deemed feasible after implementation and the project can demonstrate success there is a chance that employment may be extended for a further period.
- The position created is for a project funded by the Department of Sustainability and Environment. The project aims to increase the involvement of Indigenous communities in Landcare. This will involve working closely with Regional Indigenous Facilitators in northern Victoria and with elders from Indigenous communities. The facilitator will require a good understanding of Indigenous communities and be a person that is acceptable to these communities. This is particularly important as the project must be completed within 12 months, giving very little time to 'come up to speed'. Furthermore an Indigenous person, with links and respected by these communities, gives the project the best chance of success.

- The North East Catchment Management Authority has close links with the local Indigenous community having employed an Indigenous Liaison Officer since 2006. The new role that the North East Catchment Management Authority is applying for is a natural extension of the work that has already been done to engage the Indigenous community in natural resource management programs. The Indigenous Liaison Officer will act as a mentor and support person to the Landcare Indigenous Involvement Facilitator.
- The North East Catchment Management Authority has a culture that supports and respects Indigenous persons and their diverse requirements. All employees participate in Cultural Awareness training as part of their ongoing employment.
- The employment of an Indigenous person in the role of Landcare Indigenous Involvement Facilitator will also contribute to the Indigenous Public Sector Employment Strategy targets. Whilst still in the draft stage, this Strategy's overarching goal is to increase Indigenous participation in the Victorian public sector workforce, and will replace the 'Wur-cum Burra' Strategy 2002–2005.
- Advertise and employ women only to work in Emma House Domestic Violence Service Inc.
- Advertise and employ women of a specified race or ethnic origin, or whose first language is a specified language other than English, to work in the organisation on specific projects targeted at groups of women of that race or ethnic origin or whose first language is that language.
- Restrict individual membership of the organisation to women only.
- Require that organisations that are members of Emma House Domestic Violence Service Inc. be represented at meetings (whether they come to attend, speak or vote) by women only.

(the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 July 2012.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A172/2009

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Emma House Domestic Violence Services Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to:—

- Emma House Domestic Violence Service Inc's objective is to maintain a women's domestic violence service that is community based and run by women for women, thereby creating an environment which is accessible, non-threatening and comfortable, where confidentiality and respect for the women's perspective is attributed the highest priority.
- Emma House Domestic Violence Service Inc's business is to provide service to women and their children who have experienced domestic and family violence. Emma House is also in a position to influence decisions of other organisations, agencies and Government to improve gender sensitivity in the provision of their services.
- It may be threatening to the clients of the service to have men provide the counselling and support service to them.
- Emma House Domestic Violence Service Inc's provides for assistance to women and children by providing appropriate professional and community services for those women who desire and need to use such services and to assist to that end as a referral agency. They also provide, when requested, follow up support to those women and children who have left the house and to assist them, wherever possible, to establish themselves as members of the community. Furthermore, Emma House provides an outreach service for their clients giving them support and assistance regardless of whether they need refuge accommodation or not.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 July 2012.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A175/2009

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Indigenous Allied Health Australia. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander for the position of Chief Executive Officer of Indigenous Allied Health Australia (IAHA) (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- IAHA was newly established on 12 June 2009. A person of Indigenous descent is required to fill the role of the CEO in order to establish IAHA as a credible advocacy organisation for Indigenous health in Australia and to support the achievement of the organisation's strategic objectives of:
  - improved competencies of allied health practitioners working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and their communities;

- improved allied health services for Indigenous peoples and communities, as well as effective support for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander members of the IAHA.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 July 2012.
