EXEMPTION

Application No. A345/2010

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (the Tribunal) has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act), by Kildonan Uniting Care (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ an Indigenous person to undertake the role of Indigenous Energy Community Worker (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Megan Busbee, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is an agency of the Uniting Church in Australia which operates the largest welfare network in Australia. It is working in partnership with the Aborigines Advancement League Inc to address sustainability and affordability for the Indigenous community. The Aborigines Advancement League Inc. is the oldest Aboriginal organisation in Victoria. It provides housing, family and other social services. Its aims and objectives are to initiate and administer programs which aim to improve the social, economic and cultural advancement of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.
- The Indigenous Energy Community Worker will be employed by the applicant and undertake on-the-job training with the applicant's energy program area. The Worker's role includes providing energy efficiency education to the Indigenous community, gathering information about fuel poverty and advocating for systemic change. The aims of the project are to increase the capacity of the Indigenous community to advocate about energy related issues. Throughout the term of the role the Worker will attend regular meetings with the Aboriginal Advancement League which will provide a cultural perspective and be the future employer of the role. Given the nature of the role which will focus on the Indigenous community and the relationship between the applicant and the Aborigines Advancement League, the applicant considers that an Indigenous person ought to be employed in the role.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of a non-Indigenous person wishing to apply for the Indigenous Energy Community Worker role. I am satisfied that the exemption is a measure taken for the purpose of assisting or advancing Indigenous people who are disadvantaged and so it does not amount to discrimination under the Charter. In any event, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 30 December 2013.
