EXEMPTION

Application No. A10/2010

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Don McRae, Director of Clinical Services of the Wimmera Health Care Group (the applicant) on behalf of the Delkaia Best Start Project (the project). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a female Indigenous person in the position of Project Facilitator (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The project is an initiative of the Department of Health and the Department of Education and Training in partnership with the Indigenous community. The project operates in the Horsham region. It is aimed at community focused prevention and intervention with a view to improving the health, learning and wellbeing of Indigenous children in the first 8 years of their lives. The project is designed to develop and strengthen the interface between Indigenous services and more general community services. It has a strong emphasis on involving Indigenous communities and elders and delivering to Indigenous women, families and young children culturally appropriate services.

- Since this project began, it has been facilitated by an Indigenous woman. This has contributed to the project's success and has enabled communication to occur in a culturally appropriate way. The purpose of the current exemption is to enable facilitation of this kind to continue.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 17 February 2013.

Victoria Ltd for exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of that Act. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male attendant carer or female attendant carer as the need arises (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male attendant carer or female attendant carer as the need arises.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is a service provider of attendant care to people with quadriplegia and similar physical disabilities.
- The attendants work in the client's home and their work often includes providing intimate support during bladder and bowel actions and in areas of general hygiene.
- The majority of clients indicate they have a gender preference when seeking to employ attendants.
- The applicant has previously been granted exemptions for this conduct in 2004 and 2007.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male attendant carer or female attendant carer as the need arises.

RELEASE OF THE THIRD EDITION OF THE AUSTRALIAN CODE FOR THE TRANSPORT OF EXPLOSIVES BY ROAD AND RAIL

On 3 April 2009 the Workplace Relations Ministers' Council endorsed publication of the Australian Code for the Transport of Explosives by Road and Rail, third edition (AEC 3). The AEC 3 is applied, adopted or incorporated in Victoria's Dangerous Goods (Explosives) Regulations 2000.

The purpose of the Australian Code for the Transport of Explosives by Road and Rail is to regulate the land transport of explosives by road and rail in Australia. The third edition has been revised to update current technical provisions and operational content, including the listing of explosives and the provision of packing instructions, as well as improved security arrangements relating to the transport of explosives.

The AEC 3 is also more closely aligned with the United Nations classification and labelling system than its predecessor and will assist in enhancing the level of consistency in its application across the jurisdictions applicable for transporting explosives by road and rail within Australia.

A copy of the AEC 3 has been lodged with the Clerk of the Parliaments, Parliament House, Spring Street, Melbourne, and can be downloaded for free from: <http://www.safeworkaustralia.gov.au/swa/IndustryInformation/AFER/>

Copies can also be viewed without charge at the WorkSafe Head Office, 222 Exhibition Street, Melbourne.
