EXEMPTION

Application No. A45/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (the Tribunal) has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act), by Moreland City Council (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to hold a dance event for women and girls only on Saturday 7 May 2011 and to advertise that event (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Alexandra Douglas, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 42, 65 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The proposed dance event, to be called Dance Sister Dance, has been developed by a committee of young women from within the Moreland area with the support of officers of the applicant. The event intends to promote physical activity and multicultural harmony in a safe and secure environment for young women of all cultural backgrounds. The event will be used to promote local dance programs and classes to participants as a way of encouraging young women to increase the amount of physical activity they undertake each week. It is hoped young women and girls will attend with female members of their families.

- Many young people living in Moreland or their parents were born overseas or are from a low socio-economic background. VicHealth reports that people from those backgrounds are far less likely to participate in active recreation than the rest of the community.
- Recent research by the applicant found that many women and girls prefer to be active in a women only environment. In addition, many newly arrived communities find it culturally inappropriate for young women to participate in physical activity with males present. If the event is women only, those young women are more likely to be given permission to attend. This means they can engage in the physical activity and be encouraged to become involved in the wider community with the aim of reducing isolation. Young women tend to be less confident dancing at mixed events and it is hoped this event will build confidence, raise self esteem and develop skills. This event will provide an opportunity for young women to be involved in active recreation in a low-cost, safe and enjoyable way.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of males wishing to attend the dance event. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 42, 65 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 23 February 2014.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A49/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (the Tribunal) has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act), by the Department of Transport (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person in the position of Aboriginal Employment Consultant within the applicant's Organisational Development and Innovation Branch of People and Organisational Development (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Kylie Lea Mackinnon, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The exemption is sought to promote employment opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people within the applicant. The 2006 Census recorded that 0.54% of the Victorian population identify themselves as being Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander and of working age. 50.1% of those people were employed as compared to 72.9% of all Victorians. The applicant has developed a Diversity Strategy and an Aboriginal Employment Strategy. In addition, it is bound by the Karreeta Yirramboi Victorian Aboriginal Public Sector Employment and Career Development Action Plan (the Plan). Under the Plan, the applicant has a target of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander persons as 1% of its workforce.
- The holder of the role of Aboriginal Employment Consultant's primary responsibility will be to implement the above strategies within the applicant. The Plan says that organisations which appoint an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person as an employment officer are more successful in achieving higher rates of employment of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. In addition, the applicant believes that an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person will be better placed to gain the confidence of and engage with the Victorian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community so as to effectively implement the strategies.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of a non-Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person wishing to apply for the Aboriginal Employment Consultant role. I am satisfied that the exemption is a measure taken for the purpose of assisting or advancing Aboriginal people who are disadvantaged and so it does not amount to discrimination under the Charter. In any event, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 23 February 2014.

Application No. A47/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Independence Australia (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ age and gender specific disability support workers to provide personal care services to its clients (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Peter Turner, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- Previous exemptions has been granted to the applicant when it was known as ParaQuad Victoria for this purpose (A90/2005 and 147/2008).
- The applicant is a community based organisation employing more than 300 disability support workers whose role is to undertake personal care activities in clients' homes and elsewhere.
- The age range of the applicant's clients is from early teenage years to those 90 years of age plus. The relationship between the client and the disability support worker is highly personal because the worker assists the client to achieve independence and dignity.
- Clients seek assistance in all aspects of daily living such as toileting and showering. They also require assistance from the worker in work and social settings. As such, a strong rapport can develop which prompts many clients to seek a worker who can become an age-related peer which is pertinent to both young and aged clients who often make requests for a worker within a particular age range.
- Many clients also require gender specific workers given the very personal nature of the assistance provided. The applicant respects the right of the client to select an individual worker with whom they feel comfortable.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of a persons who are not of the age or gender sought by the applicant. I am satisfied that the exemption is a measure taken for the purpose of assisting or advancing disabled persons who are clients of the applicant who are disadvantaged and so it does not amount to discrimination under the Charter. In any event, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 23 February 2014.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A48/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (the Tribunal) has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act), by The Alpine School (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ at each of the applicant's three campuses two male and two female persons to work as Overnight Supervision Staff (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Mark Stuart Reeves, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant operates the Alpine School on three campuses which are known as the Alpine School Campus, the Snowy River Campus and the Gnurad Gundidj Campus. Those campuses are located at Dinner Plains, Marlo and Noorat respectively.
- Each campus operates in the same manner. They each conduct co-education residential programs of about nine weeks for female and male students in the middle years of schooling in Victorian government schools. The curriculum is designed to maximise the nurturing of leadership and enterprise skills with particular focus on care, welfare, personal and team development, self efficacy, self esteem and community projects. The campuses are divided into two gender accommodation wings so that male and female students are housed separately.

- Overnight Supervision Staff are engaged to provide overnight supervision of students. In order to do so it is necessary for the staff members to be able to move freely through the accommodation wing which he or she supervises. The Overnight Supervision Staff sleep in the appropriate gender wing of the building. It is essential that Overnight Supervision Staff be of the same gender as those accommodated in the wing they supervise in order to protect both staff and students.
- The applicant requires two male and two female Overnight Supervision Staff for each campus to ensure that at all times a staff member of each gender is available overnight.
- Previous exemptions have been granted by the Tribunal in relation to the Dinner Plains campus (A84/2001 and A130/2007), the Snowy River Campus (A326/2006 and A90/2010) and the Gnurad Gundidj Campus (A295/2008). This application in respect of all campuses has been made so as to create a uniform status in respect of the exemptions across the School.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of a person seeking a position with the applicant and within the Victorian public service where there is a vacancy which calls for a person of the other gender. In the circumstances discussed above, in my view the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 23 February 2014.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A17/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act), by the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant, over 2011 and 2012, to advertise for and offer up to 30 Koorie Teaching Scholarships to only Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander persons (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Timothy Joseph Fitzgerald and the evidence of Mr Fitzgerald given at the hearing, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 37, 42, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- Wannik forms part of the Victorian Government's education strategy for Koorie students. The Wannik Education Strategy has the overarching principle to deliver the best possible education outcomes to Victoria's Koorie students. It seeks to address the fact that, as compared with other Victorian students, Koorie students perform poorly against key educational indicators such as participation, attendance, literacy, numeracy, retention and completion. The Tribunal was informed that: of the 56,000 teachers employed by the applicant, currently 20 are of Koorie background; currently there are four Koorie principals or assistant principals in Victorian government schools; and 1100 schools have Koorie students enrolled.
- The Wannik Education Strategy seeks to achieve a cultural shift in the education of Koorie students by establishing a culture of strong leadership, high expectations and individualised learning. The Strategy also seeks to support Koorie students by expanding and increasing the Koorie workforce. To achieve that aim the applicant has employed a number of people in positions such as Koorie Education Development Officers, Koorie Educators, Koorie Home School Liaison Officers and Koorie Education Coordinators. An exemption was granted by the Tribunal in respect of those positions (A195/2009).

- An additional means to expand and develop the Department's Koorie workforce is by offering 30 Koorie Teaching Scholarships. The Scholarships are designed to attract, train, place, develop and retain quality Koorie teachers and leaders in schools and classrooms, who understand and are sensitive to Koorie educational needs.
- Of the 30 Koorie Teaching Scholarships, 15 will provide a grant to applicants currently studying full or part-time who have completed their second year of an education degree to enable completion of that degree. It is intended to offer up to eight Scholarships this year and seven in 2012. The grant funds may be used to cover course costs including fees, support during teaching rounds, textbooks and information technology requirements and other study costs, assistance with living expenses and provision of a case manager to support students through their studies.
- The remaining 15 Scholarships are called Koorie Teacher Enhancement Program Scholarships. They are targeted, firstly, to exiting year 12 students seeking support for the duration of a full time degree up to four years to cover costs such as those described above, associated with obtaining a teaching degree and to provide individualised support to recipients. Up to three of these Scholarships will be offered this year and up to four will be offered in 2012.
- In addition, Koorie Teacher Enhancement Program Scholarships will be offered to adults who have been accepted into a full-time accredited teaching degree up to four years in Semester 1 of 2011. Up to four of these adult Koorie Teacher Enhancement Program Scholarships will be offered in 2011 and up to four will be offered in 2012 to cover costs such as those described above.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of a non-Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person wishing to apply for a Koorie Teaching Scholarship from the applicant. The right to have access to the Victorian public service may also be limited. I am satisfied that the exemption is a measure taken for the purpose of assisting or advancing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people who are disadvantaged and so it does not amount to discrimination under the Charter. In any event, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 37, 100 and 195 of the Act to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 23 February 2014.

The Amendment comes into operation on the date this notice is published in the Government Gazette.

The Amendment applies to all residentially zoned land within the municipality.

The proposed Residential Development and Neighbourhood Character Local Planning Policy at Clause 22.09 does not apply to land included in the Logis Site (under Amendment C90), Keysborough South (stages one, two and three – the Keys and the Crystal Waters Estates (Amendment C36)) and land located within principal and major activity centres – (i.e. Dandenong, Springvale, Parkmore and Noble Park), as defined in the ‘City of Greater Dandenong Neighbourhood Character Study (September 2007)’. The proposed Local Planning Policy does not apply to commercial land within the Central Dandenong Declared Area.

The Amendment makes the following changes to the Scheme:

- introduces a new Residential Development and Neighbourhood Character Local Planning Policy within the Local Planning Policy Framework (LPPF) at Clause 22.09 to implement the land use planning recommendations of the ‘City of Greater Dandenong Neighbourhood Character Study (September 2007)’.
- deletes Clause 22.05 – Urban Design in the Residential 2 Zone.
- modifies the Local Planning Policy Framework, including the Municipal Strategic Statement, to include the ‘City of Greater Dandenong Neighbourhood Character Study (September 2007)’ as a Reference Document and to include reference to the ‘City of Greater Dandenong Neighbourhood Character Study (September 2007)’ and the proposed Local Planning Policy in Clauses 21.03, 21.04, 21.05, 21.06 and 21.08.

- modifies Clause 22.07, to remove reference to the Residential Periphery Boundary and includes these references in Clause 22.09.
- introduces the Residential 3 Zone to correspond with the majority of the proposed Incremental Change Areas identified in the 'City of Greater Dandenong Neighbourhood Character Study (September 2007)', except within 400m of the Parkmore Activity Centre (B1) Zone in Keysborough.
- modifies the schedules to the Residential 1, Residential 2 and Residential 3 Zones to vary certain Clause 55 (ResCode) provisions to correspond with the recommendations of the 'City of Greater Dandenong Neighbourhood Character Study (September 2007)' in relation to the three 'future character areas' identified for the municipality.
