Saleyards (Amendment) Local Law No. 12

Pursuant to section 119(2) of the Local Government Act 1989, notice is hereby given that at its 13 April 2011 meeting, the Ballarat City Council adopted the amended Saleyards Local Law No. 12 in order to effect amendments to the existing Saleyards Local Law No. 12.

The objectives of this Local Law are:

- a) to provide for the administration and management of the Ballarat Livestock Selling Centre (also known as the Central Victorian Livestock Exchange (CVLX) by conferring discretionary authority on the Manager to manage the Saleyards on Council's behalf;
- b) to assist in the documentation of procedures and the expectations of Saleyard users such that accreditation to NSQA can be achieved;
- c) to enable the Manager to set and collect fees from vendors selling stock in the Saleyards and to prescribe the level of those fees;
- d) to enable the Manager to prescribe the days and hours during each day on which sales can be held at the Saleyards;
- e) to protect Council assets and facilities at the Saleyards;
- f) to promote and enforce appropriate adherence to occupational health and safety practices at the Saleyards;
- g) to control and prevent behaviour which is a nuisance, or which may be detrimental to health and safety;
- h) to control the use of dogs at the Saleyards;
- i) to regulate smoking and the consumption of alcohol at the Saleyards;
- j) to provide for the administration of Council's powers and functions;
- k) to control the quality of livestock products through the fair and reasonable treatment of animals and the application of adequate animal husbandry practices; and

The changes adopted through the amended Saleyards Local Law No. 12 include:

1. Commencement and end date provisions have been deleted – the general 'default' provisions of the Local Government Act 1989 will apply (see sections 121 and 122 – the local law commences on the day it is made and goes for 10 years unless sooner revoked).

2. Clause 1.6 – The term 'Manager' has been defined by reference to the language used in section 114(a) of the Local Government Act 1989.
3. Clause 1.6 – Introduces new definitions for the Fee Schedule, Saleyards Operating Procedures and the Agent Licence Agreements which have been included.
4. Clause 1.7 – New clause that confers authority on the Manager to determine the operating procedures, fees and form of agreement.
5. Clause 1.7 – Amends the control of Council over the Saleyards and instead gives this to an independent body (the Manager). This relates to the management of the Saleyards generally, and the setting of fees and granting of Agent Licence Agreements in particular.
6. Clause 5.1 – Amends the enforcement provisions of the Principal Local Law in light of the changes to the Local Government Act on infringement notices (where the Infringements Act 2006 now regulates much of this) and the change from a permit system to use of Agent Licence Agreements.

Copies of the amended Local Law No. 12 and incorporated documents can be obtained from the Town Hall, Sturt Street, Ballarat, during normal office hours or via Council's website, www.ballarat.vic.gov.au. Enquiries should be directed to Joseph Spiteri, Manager Regulatory Services, on 5320 5570.

Application No. A108/2011

Creditors, next-of-kin and others having claims against the estate of any of the undermentioned deceased persons are required to send particulars of their claims to State Trustees Limited, ABN 68 064 593 148, of 168 Exhibition Street, Melbourne Victoria 3000, the personal representative, on or before 14 July 2011, after which date State Trustees Limited may convey or distribute the assets having regard only to the claims of which State Trustees Limited then has notice.

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by University of Melbourne – Melbourne School of Engineering (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only females in two Research Fellow roles (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Doreen Thomas, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The two Research Fellow roles will be within the applicant's Department of Electrical and Electronic Engineering. The Research Fellow roles will be designated either as Senior Research Fellow (Level C) or Research Fellow (Level B). The roles are newly created with the intention of females being appointed.
- The applicant has sought this exemption as it has a continuing concern about the longstanding difficulty it has had in attracting women into the Engineering profession. This difficulty has arisen in Australia and internationally.
- There is a significant gender imbalance in academic staff employed by the applicant. As at 31 December 2010 overall only 17% of the academic staff designated as being Level B or above were women. As at that date, only 17% of Senior Lecturers and Research Fellows (Level C) were women and only 18% of Lecturers and Research Fellows were women. Only 3% of Professors were women.
- The applicant intends to appoint women who have the potential to build a research track record and develop their academic career paths within Engineering.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of males who would wish to be employed in a Research Fellow role. I am satisfied that in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 11 May 2014.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A82/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by 370 Degrees Group Limited (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only Indigenous persons in traineeships made available through a Commonwealth Government Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations Structured Training and Employment Projects grant (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Michael Guminski, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is a leading registered training organisation based in Melbourne. When it commenced in 1992 the applicant serviced the electrical industry but has grown into four divisions one of which is the traineeship division. In 2007 it created a programme known as Warrang Jarri Lian. That programme provided employment opportunities for 20 Indigenous people.

- The applicant has been granted funding by the Commonwealth Government Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations through its Structured Training and Employment Projects. That funding is to be used to place a minimum of 10 indigenous trainees or apprentices across multiple industries during 2011. The industries include business, IT, finance, sport and recreation, horticulture, plumbing and electrical. Trainees are placed with a host employer who agrees to provide work for the trainee for an agreed period and to release them from work in order to attend the relevant external training.
- In Victoria traineeships are based on the Australian Apprenticeship scheme. Traineeships vary in duration depending on the qualification being undertaken and the industry. Traineeships offer work experience with a nominated employer, accredited training as part of the national traineeship programme and support from individual case managers who perform regular site visits.
- These traineeships are to be designated as only for Indigenous people to contribute to increasing the number of Indigenous people who have non-school qualifications. As at 2008, 32% of over 15 year old Indigenous people had such a qualification as compared to 26% between 2002 and 2008. For Indigenous people aged 25–64 years, in 2008 40% had such a qualification, as compared to 32% between 2002 and 2008. The applicant believes that the targeted traineeship programme has contributed to that increase.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (the Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of non-Indigenous persons who would wish to undertake a Traineeship through the applicant. I am satisfied that the exemption is a measure taken for the purpose of assisting or advancing Indigenous people who are disadvantaged and so it does not amount to discrimination under the Charter. In any event, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 11 May 2014.

Application No. A105/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Hume City Council (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only a person of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent as an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Parent Engagement Worker (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Lisa Letic, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The role of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Parent Engagement Worker (Worker) is located within the applicant's Family and Children's Services department. The role is intended to facilitate and support the connection and sustained engagement of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families and children into a range of early years programs and services, in particular specialist children's services. It is hoped that the Worker will provide assistance to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families who are not using early years services to engage or re-engage with those services.

- The Worker is also responsible for supporting service providers to reduce access barriers to services and assist in the development of culturally appropriate actions that will enhance the inclusion of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families into their services.
- In order to effectively engage with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and build respectful and trusting relationships with them, it is preferable for the Worker to be of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent. That would be the expectation of the families with whom the Worker is to engage and is more likely to lead to effective communication between them. An Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Worker will be better able to educate and assist service providers and contribute to ensuring that the services offered are culturally appropriate and more readily able to be accessed by that community.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (the Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of non-Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander persons who would wish to apply for the Worker role. I am satisfied that the exemption is a measure taken for the purpose of assisting or advancing Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander people who are disadvantaged and so it does not amount to discrimination under the Charter. In any event, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 11 May 2014.

Application No. A106/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Corrections Victoria – Department of Justice (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only males in two specialist case manager roles to be located at the applicant's facility at Corella Place, Ararat (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Jennifer Ann Hosking, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant operates Corella Place, Ararat, a residential facility for high risk sex offenders subject to the Serious Sex Offenders Monitoring Act 2005 or the Serious Sex Offenders (Detention and Supervision) Act 2009. Five specialist case managers are employed at Corella Place, with three of the current case managers being women. Two vacancies have arisen which the applicant wishes to fill. The role of specialist case manager includes weekly or twice weekly supervision sessions with offenders resident at the facility.
- All of the offenders at Corella Place are males. Some of the offenders have committed violent sexual offences against adult women and at least one has a history of offending against female staff in custody and at other residential facilities. Psychological assessments of some of the offenders recommend that they have limited or supervised interaction with women. In these circumstances, it is appropriate that the applicant's staff at Corella Place include males.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (the Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of females who wish to apply for the specialist case manager roles. I am satisfied that in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 11 May 2014.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A110/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Brotherhood of St Laurence (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only women as mentors in the applicant's Stepping Stones Program (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application, including the affidavit of Juliana Lobo de Queiroz, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant's Stepping Stones Program is a small business facilitation program for migrant and refugee women. The program works with women from diverse backgrounds, mostly from African countries and Afghanistan. An aim of the program is to assist the participants to become financially independent.
- Many of the refugee women have experienced sexual and other violence by men before coming to Australia. Some research suggests that 80% of all refugee women have experienced rape and sexual abuse during conflict or while living in refugee camps. Some of the other women in the program are, for cultural reasons, likely to be more comfortable dealing with women rather than men. The applicant considers that in addition to these matters, the women participants in the program will relate better to other women taking into account their experiences in establishing their own businesses and managing family commitments. The women mentors will act as role models. For these reasons the applicant seeks to employ only women as mentors for the program.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (the Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of men who would wish to apply for the mentor roles. I am satisfied that in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 11 May 2014.
