EXEMPTION

Application No. A107/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by Ovens and King Community Health (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only an Aboriginal person in the role of Aboriginal Parent and Community Engagement Officer (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Jan Lang, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant provides health and other services in the Hume region. Those services include a bulk-billing clinic, evidence based physical activity programs, chronic disease management programs and a Parental and Community Engagement project.
- The Aboriginal Parent and Community Engagement Officer is a new role created in collaboration with the local indigenous network, Dirrawarra. The role includes working with Aboriginal parents and children and education providers to increase engagement and retention of Aboriginal students. The position is funded through the Commonwealth Government and aims to address the gap in the reading, writing and literacy levels of Aboriginal children and non-Aboriginal children. This is one of six targets the Council of Australian Governments has agreed on to close the gap between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal members of the community.
- The applicant believes that an Aboriginal person ought to hold the position to ensure that the position holder is culturally accepted and so is best able to engage with the local Aboriginal community and education providers.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of non-Aboriginal persons who would wish to be employed in the Aboriginal Parent and Community Engagement Officer role. I am satisfied that the exemption is a measure taken for the purpose of assisting or advancing Aboriginal people who are disadvantaged and so it does not amount to discrimination under the Charter. In any event, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 June 2014.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A111/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by Women's Health Victoria (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to:

- Advertise and employ women only to work for the applicant.
- Restrict individual membership of the applicant to women only.
- Restrict membership of an organisation to having only a female representative attend and vote at meetings.

Collectively defined in this exemption as 'the exempt conduct'.

Upon Reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Rita Butera, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 42, 59, 60, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- A previous exemption was granted in July 2008 (due to expire on 1 July 2011 (A178/2008)) and the applicant's reasons for seeking the exemption remain the same.
- The applicant's objective is to run its services by women for women. This underpins the need to create and maintain an environment within the service which is accessible, non-threatening and comfortable, where confidentiality and respect for the perspective of women including women with disabilities and women's cancers is given the highest priority.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of men who would wish to be involved in the applicant organisation in one of the ways referred to above. I am satisfied that in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 13, 14, 42, 59, 60, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to come into effect on 2 July 2011 and remain in force until 1 July 2014.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A129/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by Victoria Racing Club Limited (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to grant to members of the applicant aged 60 years or older the preferential opportunity on Victorian Derby Day, Melbourne Cup Day, Oaks Day and Stakes Day during the Melbourne Cup Carnival to purchase car park sites in a dedicated area within the Nursery car park and grandstand reserved seating before that opportunity is offered to other members (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Dale Geoffrey Monteith, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 42, 60, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- An exemption in relation to the same exempt conduct was granted in July 2008 which expires on 1 July 2011. The reasons for the seeking a renewal remain the same: that is to ensure that older members of the applicant have access to areas which will allow them to better enjoy the benefits of attending the Melbourne Cup Carnival taking into account the crowded conditions which arise during that Carnival. No comments against the previous exemption have been received by the applicant.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of members of the applicant who are aged under 60 years who would wish to have equal access to the reserved seating and car spaces. I am satisfied that in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 42, 60, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to come into effect on 2 July 2011 and remain in force until 1 July 2014.
