Amendment C67
Planning Permit Application No. 1313/2009
Proposed Lonsdale Golf Course Redevelopment

Written submissions on the exhibited documents are now invited. Submissions are due by 5.00 pm on 3 October 2011.

Lonsdale Golf Club Inc. proposes a major redevelopment of the Lonsdale golf course, and associated facilities at 69 Fellows Road, Point Lonsdale, onto land to the north and south of the current course extending around the edges of Lake Victoria. It also proposes a residential subdivision of approximately 100 lots on the existing golf course land fronting Fellows and Gill Roads. The works include construction of new golf fairways, course maintenance facilities, water storage basins and new course irrigation system. It is noted that the construction of a proposed new clubhouse, car parking, and associated facilities will be subject to a separate planning application at a future time within the redevelopment program. The site lies adjacent to the Point Lonsdale township on the Bellarine Peninsula and is bound on the north-west by Lake Victoria.

The Victorian Minister for Planning determined on 16 May 2003 that an Environment Effects Statement (EES) was required for the proposal under the Environment Effects Act 1978. The outcomes of the EES process will inform decisions whether to grant an approval for the proposal under Victorian law and any associated requirements.

The Lonsdale Golf Course Development requires approval under the Commonwealth Environment Protection and Biodiversity Act 1999 (EPBC Act). The controlling provisions under that Act are:

- sections 18 and 18A (Listed threatened species and communities) and
- sections 20 and 20A (Listed migratory species).

The Commonwealth has accredited the Victorian EES process to assess the relevant impacts under the EPBC Act.

In accordance with section 8A(3) of the Planning and Environment Act 1987, the Victorian Minister for Planning has authorised the Greater Geelong City Council as planning authority to prepare Amendment C67 to the Greater Geelong Planning Scheme to facilitate the development of the Lonsdale Golf Course.

City of Greater Geelong has prepared Amendment C67 to the Greater Geelong Planning Scheme.

The Amendment proposes to rezone land to Residential 1 Zone, Public Park and Recreation Zone and Special Use Zone – Schedule 3 and apply a Development Plan Overlay to the whole site.

The Amendment is accompanied by:

- A Planning Permit to provide for two 2-lot subdivisions; and
- A Section 173 Agreement.

The EES, Amendment C67 and the Planning Permit Application (No. 1313/2009) have been placed on public exhibition from 18 August until 3 October 2011 and may be examined during normal business hours at the following locations: the office of the planning authority, City of Greater Geelong, Ground Floor, 131 Myers Street, Geelong; Ocean Grove Customer Service Centre, corner Presidents Avenue and The Avenue, Ocean Grove; the Department of Planning and Community Development, Level 4, State Government Offices, corner Little Malop and Fenwick Streets, Geelong; and InfraLib, Department of Transport, Level 5, 121 Exhibition Street, Melbourne (phone 9655 8600 before visiting).

The planning scheme Amendment and supporting documents can be viewed on the City of Greater Geelong's website, www.geelongaustralia.com.au and the Department of Planning and Community Development website, www.dpcd.vic.gov.au/planning/publicinspection

The Golf Club will conduct 2 public sessions including a guided tour at 10.00 am on Sunday 28 August 2011 and 10.00 am on Sunday 4 September 2011. Persons wishing to attend these sessions should contact Julia Stone at CPG on 5249 6813.

In accordance with section 8A(3) of the Planning and Environment Act 1987, the Minister for Planning authorised the Surf Coast Shire Council as planning authority to prepare the amendment.

The Amendment implements the major recommendations of the ‘Surf Coast Shire Rural Strategy’, RMCG, 2007. More specifically, the Amendment:

- modifies Clauses 21.01 and 21.02 to give greater recognition to the importance of rural landscapes across the Surf Coast Shire and maintaining ‘green breaks’ between townships;

- amends Clause 21.04 to provide greater guidance for consideration of tourism use and development in rural areas;
- amends Clause 21.05 to include two new strategic directions relating to the promotion of sustainable agricultural practices and the provision of supportive infrastructure;
- amends Clause 21.05 to include further work that needs to be undertaken by Council;
- amends Clause 21.06 to replace the existing nine rural landscape precincts with five precincts as recommended by the Rural Strategy;
- relocates the content of the Rural Residential Living strategy (formerly Clause 21.07) to other sections of the Planning Scheme, primarily Clause 21.02;
- renumbers the township strategies from Clause 21.08-21.15 to Clause 21.07-21.14;
- introduces the Rural Activity Zone to land south of Deans Marsh and in the vicinity of Gundrys Road, Bellbrae; and

- introduces a Schedule to the Rural Activity Zone to guide the form and type of development in these areas.

It also proposes to correct some mapping anomalies in the Surf Coast Planning Scheme by:

- rezoning land at 250 Parkers Road, Deans Marsh, from Farming Zone to Public Conservation and Resource Zone to reflect its existing status as a conservation reserve; and

EXEMPTION

Application No. A197/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by MIND (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only a male in the role of Lead Tenant in the applicant's Complex Care Program (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Lidia Bonnici, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant operates an intensive outreach service in Rosanna. One of its services is to provide a person, known as a Lead Tenant, to live in with clients who have a mental illness. The role of the Lead Tenant is to actively engage with the client in modelling healthy living routines and providing practical support to maximise opportunities for the development of proficient living skills. The Lead Tenant resides with the client.

- While the Lead Tenant is not paid a wage, he will receive free accommodation and utilities and will receive $250 per fortnight for shared household and client related expenses. While the position is described as voluntary, in circumstances where free accommodation is provided and living costs are paid, for the purposes of the Act and this exemption application, the position holder has been treated as an employee.
- At present the applicant is seeking a Lead Tenant to live with a male client who has expressed a preference for a male to share his home. A male Lead Tenant will be better placed to act as a positive role model for the male client.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of females who would wish to be appointed in the Lead Tenant role. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 17 August 2014.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A199/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by MorCare Services Pty Ltd (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ persons of a particular age and/or gender as attendant carers (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of George Morgan, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Two previous exemptions have been granted by the Tribunal in respect of attendant carer roles, with the last expiring on 1 April 2011 (A72/2005 and A88/2008).
- MorCare Services provides attendant care support to the aged and disabled community that encourages client participation and independence in a home situation as an alternative to institutional care.
- Attendant carers can be expected to undertake a range of tasks, including some or all of the following activities depending on individual circumstances:
 - assisting clients in the home with tasks such as getting in and out of bed, bathing, showering, dressing, toileting and personal grooming;
 - helping with preparation of meals including assistance with eating, drinking and cleaning up;
 - assisting with the usual household chores including bed making and cleaning;
 - assisting with shopping, banking and paying bills as needed;
 - arranging for maintenance to be carried out to aids and devices such as wheelchairs, hoists, etc when repairs are required;
 - driving to and from a workplace or school as part of a client's regular daily routine;
 - supervising in those cases where it is not practicable for the client to be left alone; or
 - accompanying the client to entertainment venues or other recreational activities.
- Clients consistently express preferences about the age and gender of attendant carers who work with them and may have:

- an aversion to carers of the opposite sex providing personal care and grooming;
 - personal preferences relating to carers being nearer their age group;
 - behavioural problems necessitating same sex attendant carers (particularly relevant to adolescent males and attitudes towards female carers); or
 - negative attitudes towards carers of a particular gender because of bad experiences in the past.
- In these circumstances, it is appropriate that the applicant be able to advertise for and employ attendant carers who are most likely to be able to work effectively with the applicant's clients, taking into account the age and gender of the client.
 - When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of persons who are not of the age and/or gender sought by the applicant who would wish to be employed in an attendant carer role. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 17 August 2014.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A170/2011

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 (the Act) by Skillinvest Group (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to establish a Female Staff Mentoring Program for internal female employees only and to advertise that Program (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of John Ackland, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is an umbrella name for two organisations: WORKCO Limited (Workco), a not for profit company limited by guarantee; and LINK Employment and Training (Link), a not for profit incorporated association. The purposes of each are to work in the apprenticeships and training sectors to provide services, including training, and employment opportunities for apprentices within those entities and within local entities. Workco was established in 1986 and is the largest provider of employment and training services in the Wimmera and Grampians regions. It provides administration services for Longerenong College, which is a fully operational farm providing a training facility in agriculture and horticulture, located near Horsham. Link was established in 1984 in the Dandenong and Western Port region and joined with Workco in 2002.
- At present, across the applicant entities, including Longerenong College, 149 staff are employed, 89 of whom are female. At present, while females represent 60% of employees, only 7% hold management positions. The applicant has previously attempted to encourage its female employees to apply for management positions and to participate in training opportunities. Some years ago the applicant introduced six weeks paid maternity leave to encourage female employees to return to work and maintain contact with the workplace. Despite those efforts, the applicant has not significantly increased the proportion of female members of the management team.
- The applicant wishes to introduce a Female Staff Mentoring Program with the aim of assisting its female staff to identify their talents and abilities and gain the confidence to move into higher paid management positions. The draft Program guidelines indicate that this will be done by female staff working with identified mentees who have expertise in relation to self confidence/management, leadership, management/finance, entrepreneurship, communication/career development, networking and HR/contract management. Participants will spend time with the mentees and attend relevant training programs with the intention of developing their confidence and skills in this range of areas. The Program will be voluntary and open, in the 2011/2012 year, to a maximum of five female staff who have been employed for at least six months.

- The applicant will continue to make training and management opportunities available to its male employees. Its experience is that its males employees tend to make better use of its existing performance management system as compared to its female employees. The applicant seeks to improve the employment prospects of the participants and also to benefit itself by gaining more managers with these skills.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of male employees who would wish to participate in a mentoring program with the applicant. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 17 August 2014.
