EXEMPTION

Application No. A17/2013

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by The Peninsula School (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for prospective female students to enter the school, to structure its waiting lists, allocate student placements, offer enrolments, and offer scholarships to prospective female students to promote and maintain a gender balance of the students at the school (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavits of Stuart Neile Johnston and Gregory John Alderson, having heard evidence from Stuart Neile Johnston, having heard submissions made on behalf of the applicant, and having had regard to submissions made by other persons in response to the advertising of the exemption application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant a further exemption from sections 38, 44, 107, and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is an independent private school in Mt Eliza, established in 1961. It commenced as a boys-only school and became co-educational in 1994.
- Co-education is provided across all levels in the school, from 3-year-old kindergarten to year 12. The school emphasises the benefits of co-education to both genders by, for example, featuring both genders in promotional materials, developing facilities and programs of appeal to both genders, celebrating the success of students irrespective of gender, offering financial assistance, leadership opportunities and scholarships irrespective of gender.
- The applicant offers a school-wide positive psychology program. The aim of this program is to strengthen resilience in students and protect against depression. Mr Johnston gave evidence that the program has a significant impact on student well-being, and also on learning outcomes. He said, and I accept, that evidence as to this program is that it works most effectively when there is an equal balance of girls and boys in the program, reflecting the wider society.
- The applicant seeks to establish a 50/50 student balance in the school. Mr Johnston gave evidence that applications for enrolment exceed the number of places available, so there is no commercial imperative in seeking the exemption.
- The applicant has endeavoured to encourage the enrolment of girls, in order to achieve an even balance of enrolments, by adopting many strategies other than seeking this exemption. For example, the school offers programs and activities thought to be of particular interest to female students, it has convening of a women's alumni program, and places emphasis on academic excellence.
- Despite these strategies, statistical evidence before me shows that both historically and in 2012 the proportion of girls to boys has averaged 39% and is currently 41%.
- The applicant offers gender-neutral scholarships, and also a scholarship for boys, which has existed since the school was a boys-only school. The applicant wishes to offer a scholarship to girls, to provide equity and balance.

- There is no gender-based difference in the treatment of female and male students within the school curriculum, programs, activities and other benefits available to students.
- No exception applies to the exempt conduct. In the absence of an exemption, the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right of equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of students who would wish to be offered a place at the school based on the sole basis of their place on a waiting list. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an interim exemption from the operation of sections 38, 44, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force to 16 May 2018.

Dated 9 May 2013

INTERIM EXEMPTION

Application No. A75/2013

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Central Highlands Women's Collective Inc. (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only women within its service (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Anita Koelle, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an interim exemption from sections 16, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct until the application is finally heard and determined.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant wishes to continue to provide a service for women and children experiencing the impact of family violence and believes that female staff are best able to meet the needs of the users of the applicant's service.
- The applicant has previously been granted exemptions of the same kind by the Tribunal, being A6/1992, A43/1999, A385/2003, A13/2007 and A104/2010. The last exemption will expire on 26 May 2013. I am not currently satisfied that an exception applies to the exempt conduct. Accordingly, in the absence of an exemption the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination after that date.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and, in particular, the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of men who wish to be employed by the applicant. I am satisfied that for the purposes of this interim exemption, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an interim exemption from the operation of sections 16, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from 27 May 2013 until 6 August 2013.

Subordinate Legislation Act 1994

NOTICE OF PREPARATION OF REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

Proposed Retirement Villages Amendment (Records and Notices) Regulations and Retirement Villages Amendment (Contractual Arrangements) Regulations

Notice is given in accordance with section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 that a Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) has been prepared for the proposed Retirement Villages Amendment (Records and Notices) Regulations and Retirement Villages Amendment (Contractual Arrangements) Regulations.

The proposed Regulations, to be made under the Retirement Villages Act 1986, would amend, respectively, the Retirement Villages (Records and Notices) Regulations 2005 and the Retirement Villages (Contractual Arrangements) Regulations 2006.

The amended Retirement Villages (Records and Notices) Regulations 2005 and Retirement Villages (Contractual Arrangements) Regulations 2006, together with amendments to the Retirement Villages Act 1986 by the Retirement Villages Amendment (Information Disclosure) Act 2013, would, among other things, require retirement village operators to:

- provide a factsheet of information to retirees inquiring about their village ('the factsheet');
- allow inspection by such retirees of key documents held by the operator ('the key documents');
- provide an enlarged pre-contract disclosure statement to prospective residents setting out the costs of entering, living in and leaving the village, including estimates of exit entitlements after 1, 2, 5 and 10 years' residence ('the enlarged disclosure statement'); and
- conform their contracts to matters that must and must not be included and to a standard layout.

The objectives of the proposed Retirement Villages Amendment (Records and Notices) Regulations are to amend the Retirement Villages (Records and Notices) Regulations 2005 to:

- prescribe the information that must be contained in the factsheet;
- prescribe the key documents;
- prescribe the matters for the enlarged disclosure statement; and
- revoke the existing requirements in regulations 10 and 11 for retirement village operators to provide the described residence documents to prospective residents.

The objectives of the proposed Retirement Villages Amendment (Contractual Arrangements) Regulations are to amend the Retirement Villages (Contractual Arrangements) Regulations 2006 to:

- prescribe the matters that must and must not be included in retirement village contracts;
- prescribe certain terms for retirement village contracts; and;
- prescribe the layout of retirement village contracts.

The RIS examines the costs and benefits of the proposed Regulations and possible alternatives, and concludes that the proposed Regulations are the most efficient method of achieving the objectives of:

- assisting prospective and proposed residents to compare retirement villages and to choose a village that meets their personal and social needs; and
- promoting prospective and proposed residents' understanding of their rights and obligations and of their financial commitments before entering a retirement village.

Copies of the RIS and the proposed Regulations may be obtained by:

- visiting the internet at consumer.vic.gov.au; or
- telephoning Consumer Affairs Victoria on (03) 8684 6484; or
- collecting hard copies from the Victorian Consumer & Business Centre, 113 Exhibition Street, Melbourne, between 8.30 am and 5.00 pm weekdays, except public holidays.

The purpose of this notice is to invite public comments on the RIS and the proposed Regulations. All comments must be in writing, and should be marked 'Retirement Villages RIS', and received at the following addresses by no later than 5.00 pm on 19 July 2013.
