EXEMPTION

Application No. A76/2013

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Bendigo Bowls Club (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to organise and operate the Bendigo Country Bowls Week as a male-only event and advertise that matter (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavits of Geoff Briggs, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 44, 71, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- A copy of the application was sent by the Tribunal to the Victorian Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commission (the Commission). The Commission did not seek leave to intervene in the proceeding.
- The Bendigo Country Bowls Week has been run by the applicant for 43 years and is the biggest annual bowling competition in Victoria. The event was established by Herb Hesse OAM and Jean Hesse. Its philosophy was to have a week of bowls for men from throughout country areas. No Bendigo bowlers are able to take part and participants must live more than 15 km from Bendigo. The event utilizes 11 local bowls clubs and each is supportive of the event in its current format.
- The event is run with assistance from the Major Events Department of the City of Greater Bendigo and is estimated to bring in excess of $1 million into the local economy. The week includes various tournaments and a number of trophies are presented. There is a sponsored luncheon which, in 2013, was attended by the Mayor of the City of Greater Bendigo and the Regional Manager of the Bendigo Bank. The sponsors of the event include Bendigo Bank, APIA and the Bendigo Motels' Association.
- The week is seen as an opportunity to play bowls but also to have a week of meeting and interacting with old friends away from home. For many the event is taken as part of their annual holidays. The male participants are often accompanied by their wives and partners. The applicant has been told that many bowlers would cease to attend if the event were not to continue in its current format. In 2013, there were some 780 individual participants.

- The next event is planned to run in the third week of March 2014.
- The applicant currently provides opportunities for men and women to play in mixed-gender events through club, district and state tournaments. There are also some playing sessions allocated to one gender. In the second week in September each year the applicant and other local clubs runs the women-only Bendigo Women's Classic Pairs tournament.
- The applicant has received no complaints regarding the event being restricted to men only.
- No exception or current exemption already applies to the exempt conduct and, in the absence of an exemption, the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of women who would wish to play in the Bendigo Country Bowls Week. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 44, 71, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 24 July 2018.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A80/2013

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Moyhu Bowling Club Inc. (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to organise and operate the following tournaments:

- (a) Men's Triples Tournament
  - (b) Ladies Triples Tournament
  - (c) Ladies Fours Tournament,
- and advertise these matters (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavits of David Waring, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 44, 71, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- A copy of the application was sent by the Tribunal to the Victorian Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commission (the Commission). The Commission did not seek leave to intervene in the proceeding.
- The Men's Triples Tournament has been conducted as part of the applicant's New Year tournament for 35 years. It is next due to be held on 4 January 2014. The Ladies Triples and Ladies Fours Tournaments have been conducted for 30 years. The latter two tournaments are next due to be held on 17 January 2014 and 7 February 2014 respectively.
- The New Year tournament runs over three days in January. Two days are for mixed competition and the middle day is for the Men's Triples Tournament. The format of the three days has changed over time but has been held in this way in early January since 2000. The Tournament is sponsored by local businesses. The two Ladies tournaments have been running since 1978. These events have also been sponsored. Men and women of the club assist in running all three tournaments. The Tournaments are a way of increasing social contact between bowlers as participation is invited from other clubs. They also provide an opportunity for skill improvement. The Tournaments are fund raising opportunities for the applicant and they bring custom for the town through the provision of goods and services.

- The applicant currently has 46 members made up of 22 women and 24 men. While most members are registered with Bowls Victoria as eligible to play in competition, some members prefer to only play socially. The applicant conducts mixed and gender specific events and participates in regional events. The applicant provides open teams for mid week and weekend pennant competitions.
- The applicant is aware of no complaints regarding these gender restricted Tournaments.
- No exception or current exemption already applies to the exempt conduct, in the absence of an exemption the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular, the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of men or women who would wish to play in an event limited to the other gender. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 44, 71, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 24 July 2018.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A88/2013

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Portarlington Bowls Club Inc. (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to organise and operate a ladies only lawn bowls tournament, the Portarlington Bowls Club Ladies Section Open Day, and advertise that matter (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavits of Denise McLennan, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 44, 71, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- A copy of the application was sent by the Tribunal to the Victorian Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commission (the Commission). The Commission did not seek leave to intervene in the proceeding.
- The Portarlington Bowls Club Ladies Section Open Day (open day) has been run by the applicant for many years. The open day is to be next held on 4 April 2014. The purpose of the tournament is to invite ladies from other clubs in the region to participate in a day of bowls and luncheon. Invitations are sent to clubs within the Geelong bowls region. The benefit of the tournament is to the participants themselves and it also allows the applicant to showcase its club and facilities.
- The applicant currently has about 150 members, made up of about 100 males and 50 females. The applicant conducts events that include both male and female participation in pennant and social bowling. Men join women to compete in mid week pennant competitions and women join men to compete in Saturday pennant competitions.
- The applicant has received no complaints regarding women only events or otherwise about its arrangements as to gender.
- The applicant considers that the exception contained in section 72(1B) of the Act may apply to the exempt conduct as it will facilitate the participation of women in bowls and because it is reasonable to exclude men from the open day. I am not satisfied on the evidence before me that the exception applies, however, I accept that by continuing the long standing open day, more women from the applicant club and others will have an opportunity to play bowls together and enjoy the applicant's facilities. As no exception or current exemption already applies to the exempt conduct, in the absence of an exemption the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of men who would wish to play in the open day. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 44, 71, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 24 July 2018.

Application No. A91/2013

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Mornington Civic Bowls and Social Club Inc. (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to organise and operate the following tournaments:

- (a) The Ladies Classic Fours
- (b) The Men's Toyota Classic
- (c) The Ladies Classic Pairs,

and advertise these matters (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Judith Anne Thorpe, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 44, 71, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- A copy of the application was sent by the Tribunal to the Victorian Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commission (the Commission). The Commission did not seek leave to intervene in the proceeding.
- The Ladies Classic Fours commenced in around 2004. It is next due to be held on 22 November 2013. The Men's Toyota Classic commenced in around 2005. It is next due to be held on 22 March 2014. The Ladies Classic Pairs commenced in around 2010. It is next due to be held on 25 March 2014. The tournaments provide an opportunity for men and women to play competitively against their own gender and also provide income for the applicant.

- All social and special tournaments, other than these three and championship matches, are open and there are no male or female playing days at the applicant club.
- The applicant has received no complaints regarding these restricted events.
- The applicant considers that the exception contained in section 72(1B) of the Act may apply to the exempt conduct as the tournaments will facilitate the participation of men and women in bowls and because it is reasonable to exclude one gender from the tournaments. I am not satisfied on the evidence before me that the exception applies, however, I accept that by continuing these single gender events, players have an opportunity to play bowls with others of their own gender. As no exception or current exemption already applies to the exempt conduct, in the absence of an exemption the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of men or women who would wish to play in an event limited to the other gender. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 44, 71, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 24 July 2018.

INTERIM EXEMPTION

Application No. H4/2013

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Women's Legal Service Victoria (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only women within the organisation (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Joanna Fletcher, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an interim exemption from sections 16, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct until the application is finally heard and determined.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant conducts a service which provides to women legal casework and assistance. It specialises in issues concerning relationship breakdown and violence against women. To be provided in the most non-threatening environment, and for the women who use the service to feel secure and comfortable when speaking about legal issues (often concerning violence perpetrated by men), a women-only environment is considered necessary.
- Previous exemptions were granted to the applicant in similar terms in 2006 and 2009. The latter exemption expired on 6 January 2013. I am not currently satisfied that an exception applies to the exempt conduct. Accordingly, in the absence of an exemption the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of men who wish to be employed by the applicant. I am satisfied that for the purposes of this interim exemption, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an interim exemption from the operation of sections 16, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 30 October 2013.
