Radiation Act 2005

Section 67A

Subordinate Legislation Act 1994

Section 16A

I, Finn Romanes, Deputy Chief Health Officer (Environment) as a delegate of the Secretary to the Department of Health and Human Services give notice under section 67A of the Act, that I have prepared guidelines for the purpose of guiding applicants for authorities as to what is required for the purposes of sections 23A, 23B, 23C, 39, 41 and 66 of the Act. The guidelines will commence on 1 September 2017. The guidelines are as follows:

GUIDELINES FOR THE VERIFICATION OF IDENTITY

Security of high consequence radioactive material

Background

The Radiation Act 2005 has a number of offences for radiation management licence holders related to failure to verify the identity of persons.

In particular:

- Section 23A makes it an offence for a management licence holder to direct, request or allow a person to use a high consequence sealed source that the licence holder possesses or controls where that licence holder has not verified the identity of the person by using an identification document.
- Section 23B makes it an offence for a management licence holder to direct, request or allow a person to transport a high consequence sealed source or a high consequence group of sealed sources that the licence holder possesses or controls where that licence holder has not verified the identity of the person by using an identification document.
- Section 23C makes it an offence for a management licence holder to direct, request or allow a person to access a high consequence sealed source or a high consequence group of sealed sources that the licence holder possesses or controls where that licence holder has not verified the identity of the person by using an identification document.

However, the management licence holder does not commit an offence where the person:

- Uses the high consequence sealed source while accompanied by a person whose identity has been verified by the management licence holder using an identification document.
- Transports a high consequence sealed source or a high consequence group of sealed sources while accompanied by a person whose identity has been verified by the management licence holder using an identification document.
- Accesses a high consequence sealed source or a high consequence group of sealed sources while the person is either accompanied by a person whose identity has been verified by the management licence holder using an identification document or is subject to surveillance at all times.

These offences all attract a maximum penalty of 6000 penalty units for a body corporate and 1200 penalty units for individuals.

Section 67A(1) of the Act states that the Secretary to the Department of Health and Human Services may prepare guidelines for the purpose of guiding applicants for authorities as to what is required for the purposes of sections 23A, 23B, 23C, 39, 41 and 66. Under section 67A(2) of the Act, these guidelines must be published in the Government Gazette.

What needs to be proved in order to verify identity?

In order to verify a person's identity for the purposes of the Radiation Act 2005, the following four elements need to be established:

- a) Evidence of commencement of the person's identity in Australia;
- b) Linkage between evidence of the identity and the person;
- c) Evidence of the identity operating in the community; and
- d) Evidence of the person's residential address.

Evidence of the change of name is required if the name on any of the documents presented is different from the name of the person.

The management licence holder verifying the identity of another person must sight the identification documents which establish each of these elements:

Element A – Evidence of commencement of the person's identity in Australia

In order to prove the commencement of identity in Australia, at least one of the identification documents listed in Category 1 of the table to Schedule 2 of the Radiation Regulations 2017 must be sighted.

Element B – Linkage between evidence of the identity and the person

In order to prove the linkage between evidence of the identity and the person, at least one of the identification documents listed in Category 2 of the table to Schedule 2 of the Radiation Regulations 2017 must be sighted.

Element C – Evidence of identity operating in the community

In order to prove that the person's identity is operating in the community, at least one of the identification documents listed in Category 3 of the table to Schedule 2 of the Radiation Regulations 2017 must be sighted.

Element D – Evidence of residential address

In order to establish the person's residential address where this has not already been established in elements B and C, the person's current residential address must be sighted on at least one of the identification documents listed in Category 4 of the table to Schedule 2 of the Radiation Regulations 2017.

Radiation Act 2005

Section 67N

Subordinate Legislation Act 1994

Section 16A

I, Finn Romanes, Deputy Chief Health Officer (Environment) as a delegate of the Secretary to the Department of Health and Human Services give notice that under section 67N of the Act, that I have prepared security standards that a security plan or transport security plan must meet in respect of a high consequence sealed source and a high consequence group of sealed sources. The security standards will commence on 1 September 2017. The security standards are as follows:

SECURITY STANDARDS FOR SECURITY PLANS AND TRANSPORT SECURITY PLANS

Security of high consequence radioactive materialBackground

Section 67B of the Radiation Act 2005 requires that the following persons must prepare and submit a security plan to an approved assessor for approval:

- a) An applicant for a management licence who intends to possess a high consequence sealed source or high consequence group of sealed sources;
- b) An applicant for a facility construction licence who intends to construct or use land for a building as a radiation facility that will house a high consequence sealed source or high consequence group of sealed sources; and
- c) A management licence holder who intends to make an application to vary their management licence in order to possess a high consequence sealed source or high consequence group of sealed sources.

Section 67C of the Act requires that a security plan prepared and submitted under section 67B must –

- a) Address the security standard specified by the Secretary under section 67N for the high consequence sealed source or high consequence group of sealed sources; in relation to which the applicant for, or holder of, a management licence will conduct a radiation practice; and
- b) Set out the security measures to be implemented to control any issues identified in the security standard; and
- c) Include any other matters specified by the Secretary in accordance with subsection (2); and
- d) Be in the form specified by the Secretary.

Section 67N(1) of the Act states that the Secretary to the Department of Health and Human Services must specify a security standard that a security plan or transport security plan must meet to be approved by an approved assessor.

Section 67N(2) of the Act states that the security standard must set out security measures that must be met according to the level of threat from terrorist activity in relation to radiation sources.

Purpose of the document

The purpose of this document is to specify the security standards.

Minimum standards

The minimum standard of a security plan and/or transport security plan is, regardless of the source category or the threat level, that there must be:

- a) Annual review of the plan;
- b) Annual review of intrusion detection, event assessment and communication measures;
- c) Annual review of access controls and physical barriers;
- d) Annual review of staff access requirements;
- e) Annual audit of all sources;

- f) Annual staff security awareness briefing;
- g) Event specific review of staff access;
- h) Staff induction security awareness briefing;
- i) Event specific staff security awareness briefing;
- j) Monthly accounting or check to confirm presence of the source; and
- k) Visitors to be signed in and escorted while present inside the secure area defined in the security plan.

Additional security standards

The following additional standards apply depending on the security category and the prevailing security threat level as defined by the National Terrorism Threat Level. The National Terrorism Threat Level is published at <<https://www.nationalsecurity.gov.au/Securityandyourcommunity/Pages/National-Terrorism-Threat-Advisory-System.aspx>>

Category 1 Sealed Sources or a Category 1 Group of Sealed Sources

When the source is in use or in storage, it must be protected by, at a minimum, physical security measures capable of providing sufficient delay to allow immediate detection and assessment of the intrusion, and for a security guard or Police to interrupt unauthorised removal of the source.

When the source is being transported, it must be protected by, at a minimum, physical security measures capable of providing sufficient delay to allow immediate detection and assessment of the intrusion, and for a security guard or Police to interrupt unauthorised access to the source.

When the security threat level is NOT EXPECTED or POSSIBLE, the source must also be protected by annual exercising of the security guard force or Police response arrangements.

When the security threat level is PROBABLE, the source must also be protected by taking the following additional actions:

- a) Weekly accounting or check to confirm presence of the source or sources;
- b) Annual exercising of security guard force or Police response arrangements; and
- c) Half-yearly review of staff access.

When the security threat level is EXPECTED or CERTAIN, the source must also be protected by taking the following additional actions:

- a) Visitors to be refused entry to the inside of the secure area as defined in the security plan, unless approved in writing by one or more of the Department of Health and Human Services, Victoria Police, Ambulance Victoria, Metropolitan Fire Brigade or Country Fire Authority;
- b) Goods deliveries to be dispatched and received off-site with movement of goods only to be undertaken by persons whose identity has been verified by the management licence holder;

- a) Weekly accounting or check to confirm presence of the source or sources;
- b) Annual exercising of security guard force or Police response arrangements; and
- c) Half-yearly review of staff access.
