EXEMPTION

Application No. H160/2019

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Women's Housing Ltd (the applicant). The application for exemption to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ women only within the applicant organisation (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Judith Isabel Line, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 16, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is funded by the Victorian Office of Housing as the only specialist transitional housing manager catering to women only. The applicant operates five programs:
 - the Justice Pathways program, which provides services for women exiting prison;
 - a Transitional Housing Management Program which provides housing for women and children escaping family violence and other homeless women;
 - a Housing Information and Referral Program which provides information, referral and rent assistance to homeless women and their children;

- a Social Housing Program which provides long-term community housing and rooming house accommodation to women-headed households; and
- a Rooming House Program which accommodates women and men.
- In previous orders made 21 February 2014, the Tribunal has made findings that:
 - provision of accommodation for the welfare of women falls within the section 60 exception under the Act (H12/2014);
 - where services are provided by the applicant for the benefit of women and their accompanying children, those services fall within the meaning of a special needs service as provided for in section 88 of the Act (H2/2014); and
 - where staff are dealing with women seeking advice relating to family violence and related matters, an exception under section 28 of the Act would apply (H2/2014).

and, therefore, no exemption is required with respect to those particular services. There has been no material change to the applicant's operations since the Tribunal made those findings. An exemption was made on that date for the balance of the programs operated by the applicant which expired on 26 February 2019.

- The two applications in 2014 were preceded by orders A304/2007 and A290/2010 in respect of the same conduct.
- To the extent that employees of the applicant also work with men from time to time (particularly in the Social Housing Program and the Rooming House Program) and employees undertake administrative roles, I am not satisfied that the material before me proves that provision of services in the Social Housing Program and the Rooming House Program can be provided most effectively by women only. I accept, however, that it is preferable that when accessing the services vulnerable women who have survived family and other violence receive services from women only. It is appropriate that the exemption is granted. The granting of an exemption does not prohibit the applicant from employing men as it sees appropriate. In respect of this aspect, no exception or current exemption already applies to the conduct. In the absence of an exemption, the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and, in particular, the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of men who would wish to be employed by the applicant. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 16, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from 10 October 2019 to 9 October 2024.

Education and Training Reform Act 2006

Pursuant to section 2.6.29(1)(b) of the Education and Training Reform Act 2006 ('the Act'), all registrations held by a person under Part 2.6 of the Act are cancelled if the person has been given a negative notice within the meaning of the Working With Children Act 2005.

Pursuant to section 2.6.29(3) of the Act, a person whose registration is cancelled by the operation of section 2.6.29(1)(b) is disqualified from teaching in a school or early childhood service and is not entitled to apply to be registered under Part 2.6 of the Act for the period of five years after the date on which the negative notice is given. The disqualification from making an application to be registered under Part 2.6 of the Act does not apply if the negative notice is subsequently set aside or an assessment notice under the Working with Children Act 2005 is subsequently given.

On 28 April 2008, Nicholas Andrew Frampton was given a negative notice within the meaning of the Working with Children Act 2005.

On 16 September 2019, Nicholas Andrew Frampton, a 38-year-old male, ceased to be registered as a teacher and was disqualified from teaching in a school or early childhood service.
