EXEMPTION

Application H334/2018

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by CSV Limited, operator of Casey Grammar School and Balcombe Grammar School (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant, from time to time, for the purposes of achieving gender balance to:

- (a) structure waiting and enrolment lists;
- (b) allocate student placements and offer enrolments to prospective male or female students;
- (c) advertise for prospective male or female students to enter the applicant's schools. (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavits of Acting Principal of Balcombe Grammar School Warrick Wynne and Principal of Casey Grammar School Richard Baird and having heard evidence and submissions at a hearing held on 18 February 2019, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 38, 44, 107, and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The subject schools are low fee, non-denominational Christian schools located in Cranbourne and Mount Martha. Each school is committed to providing a co-educational experience to its students and has done so since each was established.
- An exemption was granted to the applicant in 2013 in similar terms. The circumstances of each school are largely unchanged since the granting of that exemption. Each school has only relied upon the exemption from time to time to allocate placements to students of a particular gender if choosing students from the enrolment list in order of application would have resulted in a significant gender imbalance for a particular year level. Neither school has used the exemption to advertise, however such exemption is sought in case a predicted gender disparity may arise in a year group which will require advertisement to redress.
- The exemption expired on 26 August 2018. An interim exemption or exemption was not sought prior to that date as the 2019 school year enrolments were finalised prior to that date.
- The schools' experience is that, if numbers of one gender reduce to less than around a 60:40 ratio, numbers of the under-represented gender may further reduce quickly and so the exemption is sought to allow the schools to respond to reduce any such imbalance. Parents of current and prospective students at the schools expect there to be a gender balance and appear to accept that, from time to time, steps may need to be taken in respect of management of waiting lists and enrolments to ensure that a true co-education can be offered to current and prospective students.
- Notice of the exemption application was provided to the community through newspaper advertisements and by a notice being placed on each school's website. Approximately 3733 families of current, prospective and past students were notified directly by the schools. Neither school nor the Tribunal received any submission for or against the application. Two brief letters of support sent to the applicant were the only response to notice of the application.

- In the absence of an exemption the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of students who would wish to be offered a place at the schools based solely on their place on a waiting list. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 38, 44, 107 and 182 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from 28 February 2019 to 29 February 2024. Dated 28 February 2019
